Final Darrow Report Charges NRA Aids Monopolies

INJUSTICES SAN FRANCISCO SHIPOWNERS REVEALED BY BOARD TODAY PLAN TO OPEN PORT BY FORCE

Charges Small Enterprises Are Oppressed and Accelerated to Ruination

"TOO MANY CODES"

New Report Expected to Bring Another Outburst from General Johnson

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(UP)—For the third and last time the Darrow Recovery Board reported today that the NRA is squeezing the "little man" and the consumer and bolstering huge monopolies.

The board's final report was made public today. It differed from the earlier findings only in the specific injustices of the NRA. The board said the same as those of its first and most effective bombshell.

The report completes the public life of the board named in answer to widespread complaints regarding the recovery agency. Clarence Darrow, caustic chairman of the group, already had left Washington.

As in the past, it was expected a new report would bring an outburst of riot from Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief. The board took cognizance of some code revisions inaugurated by the NRA, but maintained that the situation was substantially unchanged.

Basic Charges

Basic charges made by the board: Codes have sabled powerful interests to self control of industries and to extend a control already established.

Codes not only permit but foster monopolies. Small enterprises are oppressed and accelerated toward ruin.

"There seems sinister purpose to entrench" evil conditions through the act.

Suspension of anti-trust provisions granted the greatest desire of monopoly-seeking interests.

Production and distribution are hampered by sentiment aroused by coercion.

Aids Monopolies

Elimination of the basic point system of price-making should be retained intact to prevent further spread of monopoly. Price fixing should be abandoned immediately.

Small industry codes "were in excess of interference." Too many codes were adopted.

Codes cover too much ground and were too drastic.

The report outlined to the government had thousands of dollars through refusal to allow non-members of a single to bid on government business.

At present is now up to the NRA what with the tentacles or allowing 15 per cent on government bids.

Under Henry Ford's aid of blue eagle.

The aid of the NRA was needed Johnson but today need an apparent "feeling" sent by the Ford.

RESIDENT AND TWO SONS OFF FOR VACATION

Executive by Order Creates National Emergency Committee

ARD U. S. S. GILMER, of Chesapeake Bay, July 2.—(UP)—President Roosevelt, who knows how to take a vacation does it best at sea, relaxing completely today from the stress directing national affairs.

A cruiser Houston bore him south over gentle Atlantic waves the president put off responsibility and idled pleasantly in companionship of Franklin, Jr., John, youngest of his sons.

Important business was finishing the night as the House slipped down Chesapeake Bay, a brief pause at Hampton I. Va., to put ashore dispatched executive papers, the 10,000 warship was on orders to stand to sea.

Limit Newsman

Only newsman permitted to accompany the president on the trip, following in the destroyer, another destroyer, the Wilson, completed the convoy. Commander Ross McIntyre, physician, Dr. Forster, executive officer, and McDuffie, valet, comprise president's staff.

Mr. Gilmer's vacation started shortly 6 p. m. yesterday after being with Prof. Raymond M. Estlin, trustee, and appointed Rep. W. A. Ayers, Jr., to succeed James Landis, Jr., named securities commission on the federal trade commission.

Banked deep outside the east gate of White House were thousands Sunday sight-seers and well-wishers. They cheered the president. The scene was repeated throughout the hour's drive to Annapolis.

On Committee

The president today issued an executive order creating a national committee to advise him on problems connected with public works, labor disputes, and industrial recovery.

Donald Richberg, NRA chief counsel, was appointed executive secretary. Executive director of the new bill. Other members are Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, Administrator of Industrial Recovery Hugh S. Johnson, and Administrator of Federal Emergency Management Harry Hopkins.

Richberg assumed the duties of Frank Walker, director of the National Emergency Council, who was at the summer off. The NEC was created to coordinate the various recovery administrations.

Richberg given a leave of absence from NRA until September 1 to cover the new job. The executive order was signed by the president before he boarded the cruiser Itasca for his journey to Hawaii and was issued by the Whitehouse.

STATE'S REVENUE BOOST $400,000

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 2.—(UP)—California will receive $400,000 more than expected from public utilities this year, as a result of an audit of gross revenues, made by the State Board of Equalization.

Utilities make early reports to the board, showing their gross receipts, upon which a tax is levied, and the board conducts an audit to "assure equality of the tax," Fred E. Steit, board member, explained. The audit increased the state revenue $400,000.

The state gross receipts tax will be abandoned Jan. 1, 1935, when utility property will be valued by the board and turned to the cities and counties for taxation.

POSTPONE STRIKE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 2.—(UP)—Representative of 50,000 New England wool and worsted workers have voted to postpone a general strike scheduled for tomorrow pending an attempt by the NRA to satisfy their grievances.

Sun Bathers Warned By Physician

NEW YORK, July 2.—(UP)—Nudists shouldn't let the sun see them; for health's sake, not modesty's.

Other things dangerous to mix with sunshine, warned Chief Dermatologist Charles F. Pabst of Greenpoint hospital today, are—highballs, buckwheat cakes, scented bathing suits, toilet water, perfume.

Dr. Pabst, an authority for 20 years on the effect of sun upon the body, asserted: "Eight million Americans can't get tanned. But how they can burn! They are heliophobes."

DILLINGER PAL FORCES DOCTOR TO TREAT HIM

Physician Slugged After Being Forced to Treat Gunshot Wound

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 2.—(UP)—A small town physician who was slugged in return for a deed of mercy sought vengeance today in a search for John Dillinger and a gang of ruthless killers.

Nursing a head wound from a crashing gun butt, Dr. Leslie Laird of North Webster, Ind., gave information to police and federal agents which spread a search for Dillinger over Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

The officers flung a gigantic net of men over highways in the theory two men who compelled Dr. Laird to treat a gunshot wound and then cold bloodedly beat him into unconsciousness, were members of a gang which robbed the Merchants National bank Saturday of $29,890.

Patrolman Killed

Patrolman Harry Wagner was killed by machine gun fire, a bystander wounded critically and a bank officer and customer wounded slightly when the bandits opened a sweeping fire on police and passing pedestrians.

Capt. Matt Leach of the Indiana state police said he did not believe the desperadoes were Dillinger's gang, but could not disregard positive identification by a policeman and the wounded bank officer of one of the men as Dillinger himself.

Dr. Laird was routed out of bed early yesterday by a man who asked him to go to his nearby office in North Webster to treat a companion injured in an automobile accident.

Dresses Found

At his office he found a young man with a bullet wound in an arm. Under the threatening orders of the man who had called him, he administered an anti-tetanus serum and dressed the wound.

"Give me some cocaine," ordered the older man when the dressing was completed.

CWA OFFICIALS ARRAIGNED IN LOS ANGELES

Pleas Delayed When Attorneys Declare Intention to Seek Demurrer

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—(UP)—Branding the indictment of nine former officials of the CWA as an "emergency case," Federal Judge Harry A. Holzner declared he wanted a speedy trial when the defendants were arraigned today.

Pleas were delayed, however, until next Thursday when Attorney Baldwin Robertson, representing R. C. Branlon, head of the state SERA and one of those indicted, said he intended to file a demurrer to the charges.

Attorney Robertson's motion for a bill of particulars, in which he contended the charges were not specific, was denied by Judge Holzner.

The indictment charged that in several instances the men were idle and receiving pay on CWA projects because tools and materials were not furnished them.

Named with Branlon in the indictment are Jules Hanique, former county director and chief engineer of the CWA; Charles C. Frye, also a director of the organization; Eugene M. Brown, former secretary of the CWA advisory committee; James T. Ritchey, who was manager of the purchasing department; George O. Durkee, formerly in charge of work assignments; Henry E. Walker, Southern California director of the national unemployment service; Roy C. Donnelly, assistant to Walker; and Pierce Williams, former western CWA director.

All were in court but Williams. He advised the marshal's office he would appear as soon as he returned from Washington. A bench warrant for his arrest was issued.

PRIME MINISTER OF ALBERTA CONVICTED

EDMONTON, Alberta, July 2.—(UP)—Prime Minister John E. Brownlee branded the seducer of a 22-year-old government stenographer, was expected to resign today. He had already notified the lieutenant governor of Alberta province of his intention, it was reported.

A jury Saturday found that Brownlee had seduced Vivian MacMillan and awarded her $10,000 damages. It awarded $5000 to Miss MacMillan's father. The verdict followed a sensational trial.

Acting Chief Justice W. C. Ives, in dismissing the grand jury said: "I think I should say openly and publicly while you are here, that I strongly disagree with your decision. That is all. You may go."

M. M. Porter, K. C., counsel for the defense, moved for dismissal of the verdict on the appeal that no damage to the plaintiff had been proven.

Board Fails In Move At Settlement

Renewal of Violence Feared; Mediators in Plea to Labor Secretary

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—(UP)—The industrial association of San Francisco at noon today notified Mayor Angelo Rossi that it proposed to open the port of San Francisco at 3 p. m. today.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—(UP)—Blue-coated police moved in and took up stations on San Francisco's historic, cobble-stoned embarcadero today as President Roosevelt's longshoremen's strike mediators apparently had failed and industrial leaders planned to open the port by force.

Negotiations for settlement of the Pacific coast's million-dollar-a-day maritime workers' strike, which has paralyzed ocean-going commerce from San Diego to Seattle and thrown 23,000 men out of employment, have reached an impasse, leaders of both factions admitted.

Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, heading President Roosevelt's national mediation board, appealed for advice from Secretary of Labor Perkins and the president himself as industrial leaders went ahead with plans to open the port here today.

Violence Feared

Renewal of violence on a greater and bloodier plane than heretofore was feared. Police Chief William Quinn mobilized all available police forces near the waterfront. Other police guarded newspapers and other buildings in downtown San Francisco. Several newspapers and shipping firms received letters threatening sabotage.

Noon was the deadline set by the shipping line operators for the opening of the port. They said they had hired sufficient strike-breakers and armed guards to open the port and move $50,000,000 worth of cargo tied up on docks here since longshoremen struck May 9.

Archbishop Hanna, Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward McGrady, and O. K. Cushing—President Roosevelt's mediators—appealed to the ship owners to hold their plans in abeyance and allow the port to remain closed until settlement of the dispute.

Ship owners were to answer the board's request at 10 a. m. In some quarters it was believed the ship owners would accede to the mediators' request. Others believed the operators, disgruntled by haggling within the ranks of the strikers and the mediators' inability to restore order in peace negotiations, would proceed with their plan, first threatened 10 days ago.

Appeal to Secretary

Cushing, acting as spokesman for the mediators, said the negotiations had reached an impasse. "The board has sent a report by wire to Secretary of Labor Perkins regarding the situation. We anticipate a reply either from her or the president some time tomorrow. We hope Madame Perkins' reply will give us the ammunition."

JOHN JACOB ASTOR AND BRIDE HIDE OUT

CHICAGO, July 2.—(UP)—The John Jacob Astor married honeymoon flight to British Columbia paused in Chicago today to take on some broccoli and champagne but didn't so much as stick a nose out of the Superb, the bride's private car.

The Superb was transferred from the Pennsylvania road to the Chicago and Northwestern's crack express, The Viking, but a crowd of curious that followed every operation through the yards was not favored with even a glimpse of the young bridegroom or the former Ellen (Tucky) French.

Attendants were dispatched for newspapers, a stack of humor magazines and foodstuffs.

SISTER OF U. S. DIPLOMAT ARRESTED IN MOSCOW FOR TAKING PHOTOS OF KREMLIN

MOSCOW, July 2.—(UP)—Miss Avis Thayer, 22, of Philadelphia, an alumna of Bryn Mawr college and sister of a United States diplomatic service secretary, was arrested today by Moscow militia after she had photographed the walls of the Kremlin.

Miss Thayer was detained at the police station for an hour and a half. She is the sister of Charles Thayer, private secretary to U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt.

Miss Thayer was watched for several minutes by an opsu (secret police) official and by a policeman. They conferred for several minutes as she took the photographs of the Kremlin, then they informed her she was under arrest.

The fact that she voluntarily offered to surrender her camera to them did not save her from being taken to police headquarters.

At the police station Miss Thayer was not allowed to telephone her brother for an hour. Finally, her hand, (Thayer) was permitted to call him at the embassy. Later she was released after her relationship to Thayer was established.

It was pointed out that photographs of the Kremlin, such as she was taking, are sold every day in Soviet commercial agencies.

At one time while Miss Thayer was at the police station, the police snatched the telephone from her hand. (Thayer) was eliminated from one United Press dispatch by the Soviet censor.

A Soviet official said that there was no rule against photographing the Kremlin if the famous red square was not included in the picture. Miss Thayer did not photograph the red square.

DEATHS ARE APPROVED BY HINDENBURG

SITUATION IS TENSE

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press)

BERLIN, July 2.—(UP)—After liquidating his political enemies in a bath of blood and bullets, Chancellor Adolf Hitler and his modern "committee of public safety" today sought to present to the world legal justification for the execution of at least 24 high officials. Among those executed was Ernst Roehm, trusted friend of Hitler and head of all storm troops.

"All executions of storm troop leaders," the Nazi high command declared, "followed summary court martial proceedings, before court martial held in Berlin and Munich."

The courts were said to have consisted of one SS (crack bodyguard) commander, one general of the Reichwehr, two civil judges, and two SS leaders acting as lay judges.

Erects Bulwark

Chancellor Hitler erected another bulwark of defense for his strong position when he released telegrams from President Paul von Hindenburg which put the stamp of approval on the "suppression of treasonable machinations" and gave the old warrior's blessing to the "bloody undertakings of the past week-end, which may result in an even higher death toll when the whole truth is known."

The situation throughout Germany was tense but "quiet." Reports of cannonading heard at Munich by unnamed travelers were discounted by direct word from Munich that there was no disorder.

Similar reports of trouble in Hamburg and other provincial cities were categorically denied by the government.

From his estate at Neudeck, in East Prussia, the aged field marshal, president telegraphed Hitler and Hermann Goering his chief cabinet aide, agreeing with their actions, congratulating them for their victory and thanking them for the nation's peace.

Death Toll High

FLYING BROTHERS ARRIVE AT WARSAW

WARSAW, July 2.—(UP)—The Adamowicz brothers of Brooklyn landed their transatlantic plane at the Warsaw airport at 5:49 p. m. today, and were greeted by a wildly cheering crowd of 20,000 citizens.

The two fliers, soda-pop manufacturers with a yearning for flight records, had intended to fly a nine-day trip from New York to the "end of the world."

Their plans were interrupted three times, first when they were forced down for lack of fuel in a field in France, again in Germany, and once more in Poland.

The last stages of their flight were made with the aid of a "home-made" landing skid, fashioned from the tongue of a farm wagon, to replace part of the big Bellanca's tail, which was broken in their first landing.

WILL ROGERS says:

SANTA MONICA, July 2. (To the Editor of The Register:) Well, the President left on his cruise aboard what must be Jesse Jones's boat, for it's called the Houston.

I expect that guy Hitler would like to be on a boat headed somewhere about now. Germany has some sort of a custom where they allow you to commit suicide in case you have been found to be against the government. Over here we just let you go on making speeches, and it amounts to about the same thing in the end.

Well, they finally got that Astor wedding over with. There ain't nothing that will do more to add comedy relief to our reading of strikes, wars, revolutions, and world uncertainty, than to read about a society wedding.

Yours,

DANCER HELD OVER DEATH OF SPOUSE

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—(UP)—Because Jay Thomas, 34, danced with his sister-in-law while his wife lay dying from bullet wounds in a hospital, police today were holding him on charges of suspicion of murder.

Thomas was arrested when he finally appeared at the hospital where his wife had just died from a bullet wound in her heart.

The husband said his wife shot herself after she accused him of associating with other women. He declared that after he summoned an ambulance, he washed his hands and went to a beer parlor to meet his wife's sister.

After dancing with her for a short time, he went to the hospital to see his wife, he told police.

union to continue negotiations and delay the shipowners' plans to open the port.

The board still hoped to get union acceptance of the June 16 agreement, signed by union leaders but repudiated by the rank and file, regarding control of longshoremen's hiring halls and recognition of their union.

New violence, meantime, resulted in the arrest of five men and damage to two residences in the San Francisco Bay region. The strike's fourth fatality was recorded at Seattle when Longshoreman Shelby S. Daffon died from a bullet wound received when 75 strikers clashed with dock guards.

Union freight truck drivers struck at Portland but returned to their work after freight line operators met their demands.

Only commerce with the Orient was transacted at Los Angeles, where union forces are less strong.

CARDENAS ELECTED MEXICO PRESIDENT

MEXICO CITY, July 2.—(UP)—General Lazaro Cardenas, 59-year-old Mexican of pure Indian stock and protégé of General Plutarco Elias Calles, was President-elect of Mexico today. He will succeed President Abelardo L. Rodriguez Dec. 1 for a six-year term.

Cardenas amassed the greatest total of ballots in Mexican history and the election was the most peaceful ever held, with only two deaths directly attributable to the voting. Defeated candidates, however, charged their supporters had been beaten and otherwise intimidated.

With 75 per cent of the vote counted the tabulation early today showed: Cardenas, 1,400,000; General Antonio L. Villarreal, oppositionist, 18,000; Col. Adalberto Tejeda, left socialist, 8,800; and Hernan Laborde, communist, 6,700. Returns from 18 of the 28 states were included.

JAPANESE CABINET TO RESIGN TUESDAY

TOKYO, July 2.—(UP)—Viscount Saito's cabinet, harassed by scandal involving a subordinate official, will submit its resignation to Emperor Hirohito on Tuesday. It was learned reliably today.

Members of the cabinet made the decision in a meeting at the residence of Premier Saito.

It's a Horse and No Boloney

It may seem like boloney, but this is a horse. Furthermore, he's one of the most popular horses in Idaho, because when his child jockeys fall off they haven't far to go. It has been suggested that he be sent across the sea as a mount for the Prince of Wales, but his owner, Lester J. Anthony, of Anthony, Idaho, shown with him, wouldn't think of parting with "Shorty the Dachshund."

24 NAZI HEADS ARE EXECUTED AS TRAITORS

storm troop revolt, there were strong indications the death toll might prove high.

It was reported that a dozen more storm troop leaders were executed last night. That would have brought the known list to 24.

But it was understood from an authoritative non-government source that numerous additional storm troop men were executed yesterday afternoon and evening as late as midnight at the Lichterfelde Cadet school.

The informant said that many of them died with the words "Hell Hitler" on their lips.

Karl Ernst, Berlin-Brandenburg leader whose execution was announced, was said to have died with that cry.

It was understood that after an investigation of conditions in the provinces, and a check of arresting agencies, an official communiqué would be issued listing the number of arrests and deaths. All sorts of reports were circulating, some undoubtedly exaggerated. It seemed probable, however, that a number of secondary leaders were executed, committed suicide, or were killed in resisting arrest.

Leaders Dead
When the revolt broke Saturday, it was announced that a number of leaders had died in one of those three ways. But official announcements of storm troopers' deaths have listed only names of men executed.

At the government continued its investigation of the revolt, it was learned from an authoritative source that all but one or two members of the staff of Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen, conservative leader, had been arrested.

Hindenburg's telegram was regarded as particularly significant because Papen is listed as a close friend of his, and is supposed to be his intimate political contact.

Denies Reports
The telegram also constituted his own denial of reports that the president was desperately ill. His health has not been good for years, as he suffers from chronic prostate trouble.

Papen himself, it was said, was not under arrest, although he was under guard-protective custody—at his home, as was Prince August Wilhelm, fourth son of the former kaiser.

The text of Hindenburg's telegram to Hitler was:

"I gather from reports submitted to me that by energetic intervention you courageously, at the risk of your own life, suppressed all treasonable machinations at the outset."

"You saved the German people from grave danger. I therefore convey to you expressions of sincere, heartfelt thanks and appreciation."

"I convey to you an expression of thanks and appreciation for your energetic, successful action in quelling treasonable attempts. With comradely greeting."

"HINDENBURG."

SIXTEEN FIREMEN HURT AT STOCKTON

STOCKTON, Cal., July 2.—(UP)—Sixteen firemen were injured when fire destroyed the Stockton Lumber company's yards and other business property, damaged ten residences badly and fired the roofs of 40 other houses on Sunday. Loss was estimated at between $200,000 and $500,000.

The fire started at the lumber yard which covered a square block, and destroyed a grain elevator, a packing shed, two motor trucks, and a house.

REPORT FEW AUTO MISHAPS OVER WEEKEND

Traffic accidents were unusually light in Orange county over the week end, with three persons being injured seriously and eight to a minor extent.

Bert Crane, of Anaheim, is unconscious in the Orange County hospital suffering from a possible skull fracture and cuts and bruises as the result of a wreck at Placentia and Orange roads at 4:50 a. m. yesterday. In the same accident, S. Arnold, 36, also of Anaheim, received cuts and bruises and required first aid treatment at the hospital.

Four persons were hurt, one seriously, when cars driven by Robert D. Hunt, Long Beach, and John Howland, Pasadena, collided on the Coast highway near the Beacon Service station last night. Anna Sue Barrum, 18, Pasadena, was taken to the Newport Beach hospital for shock and a possible fractured arm. Castleman Leisen, 18, another passenger in Howland's car, Howland, and Mrs. P. J. Roberts, Long Beach, were slightly hurt.

Edward Roger, Garden Grove, was slightly hurt Saturday evening when his car sheared off a telegraph pole in the 1800 block on West First street. He told police that another car crowded him off the road, according to reports. John Eisenbeis, 27, San Diego, and two unidentified companions, were shaken up and bruised last night when the new car in which they were riding overturned at high speed on the Coast highway near Corona del Mar. Eisenbeis was jailed for drunken driving after the crash.

RAILROAD BOMBING "CLOSED INCIDENT"

PEIPING, July 2.—(UP)—Japanese authorities at Peiping announced today that they considered the bombing of the Peiping-Nankien railroad line, in which six Chinese were killed and many injured, a "closed incident."

Col. Shibayama, Japanese military attaché who investigated the case, announced that the Boxer protocol would not be invoked, and that he was confident the Chinese government would punish those guilty.

DILLINGER PAID FORCES DOCTOR TO TREAT HIM

"There's none in the office," Laird said.

Splinters of light crashed before his eyes, followed 30 minutes later by slowly returning consciousness.

Officers believed it probable that men were members of the gang of bank robbers who separate from four companions soon after leaving South Bend. It was also possible, they said, that others of the gang remained out of sight in a car nearby. Dr. Laird was unable to identify photographs of Dillinger or others of his known gang.

Search of densely wooded lake country around North Webster, which is about 50 miles southeast of South Bend, revealed no trace of the gang. Today's search was concentrated south of Chicago along the Indiana-Ohio boundary.

Assessment Rolls Show Drop Of 10 Millions

BOARD OPENS SESSION FOR EQUALIZATION

The county supervisors, meeting today for a two weeks session as a board of equalization, received from County Assessor James Sleeper the county assessment rolls, carrying a today valuation approximately $10,000 short of last year's $138,000.

Estimated, however, that the would be at least ten million below last year's valuations, a general reduction of ten per cent having been allowed by the board for this year. Some of the reasons would be made up, he by increased oil production, particularly in the Huntington area.

The supervisors, having received assessment rolls, will hear complaints regarding assessments which must be adjusted by the next two weeks. The board is a board of equalization, with the right to increase or lower assessments.

The assessment roll is subject to the state board of equalization until August 15, but the authority has not been exercised by the state in many years.

The county budget must be presented to the supervisors not later than July 10. The board then sets the budget for conducting the county business, usually about August 1. The budget must be adopted later than August 30, and a rate fixed on or before September 1.

DE COMES TO RED A. MILLER

Frederick Miller, 68, who lived in Santa Ana for almost 30 years before moving to Los Angeles, died at home in the latter city Saturday night. He was being investigated by the Los Angeles coroner's office.

He lived with his widow, Mrs. R. Miller; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Clary, of Santa Ana; two sons, Will Miller and Sam Miller, and two half-brothers, John Foster and Ben Foster, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Announcement of time of funeral service will be made later by the Harrell B. W. Funeral home.

FOOTSTLEN AT JOBB'S WAREHOUSE

Following the closing of a window, a small amount of potato and inned fruit yesterday from the Orange County Cooperative Unemployed association warehouse at Fourth street and Santa Fe railway, it was reported by police.

E. S. Smith, a citizen of the warehouse, found the window open and pairs in the office scattered about. The only loss from the warehouse consisted of the potatoes and fruit, although it would be difficult to determine the amount he said officers.

Lone Student Puts On the Act Play

Roy Till of Placentia, who recently graduated from the one-man graduation class of Valencia high school, was heard a commencement address delivered to him by Superintendent Vierling Kersey, now pursuing a business administration course at the Orange County Business college. It was announced today by J. W. McCormick, president, that Till entertained students and faculty of the school recently with his two-act play, in which he assumes four parts, using a different map for each and changing costumes hurriedly on the stage.

BOOKED FOR ASSAULT

Leon B. Smith, 35, 1114 West Sixth street, was booked at the county jail for assault and battery yesterday morning by Santa Ana police, following the signing of a complaint by his wife, Mrs. Mable H. Smith.

BATTERY STOLEN

A rental automobile was stolen last week from the E. R. Clem service station at 121 Spurgeon street. It was reported to police yesterday. The car was valued at $5.

After Cuban President Escaped Bomb

The terrorism that culminated in the massacre of 12 persons in Havana during a parade of the ABC revolutionary organization, nearly cost the life of Carlos Mendietta, Cuban President, a few days previously when a bomb was set off while he dined as a guest of the Navy at Tiscornia. He is shown at right smiling at his good fortune at having escaped with a bruised hand, which Colonel Fulgencia Batista, head of the Cuban Army, holds.

POLICE HOLD TAXI BANDIT CASE SUSPECT

Believed to be the man who forced a San Diego taxi driver to come to Orange county Thursday night, Marvin Ruhl, 18, Spokane, is in the county jail charged with grand theft and burglary and has admitted to officers that he stole a San Clemente car and burglarized a Dana Point restaurant, according to police reports.

Ruhl was taken into custody Saturday by Officer Earl Moore of San Clemente, who pursued him nearly to Irvine. At a point about two miles east of Irvine, Ruhl is alleged to have attempted to shoot at Moore and lost control of his car. When the car hit an oak tree on the side of the highway, his gun was knocked from his hand somewhere in a beanfield. Officers are searching for the gun. Ruhl admitted burglarizing the Dana Villa by the Sea motor camp Thursday night, and stealing the car of Bill Easley of San Clemente Friday night. He was in Easley's car when detected by Moore and chased to Irvine. In the car, officers recovered all the loot from the motor camp, which included eight packages of cigarettes, field glasses, cigarette lighter, two keys, and $3.50 in cash. The camp is operated by R. W. Quackenbush.

Although the suspect admits being in San Diego several days ago, he has so far denied any knowledge of the taxi incident Thursday night. Laguna police and sheriff's officers were asked to search for a bandit who robbed the taxi driver and forced him at the point of a gun, to drive north. When the taxi stalled south of San Clemente, the bandit hailed a truck and was driven to San Clemente, where he dropped off at a garage.

Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean and R. E. Steinberger are checking with San Diego police to find possible traces of Ruhl there. He will be arraigned on the grand theft and burglary charges late today or tomorrow.

S. A. Contractor Low Bidder On School Addition

Thermon Means, Santa Ana contractor, was low bidder with a bid of $3443 on an addition to be built at the Ocean View schoolhouse when the bids were opened there Saturday afternoon, according to records on file at the Orange County Builders exchange.

Jules Markel was second with a bid of $3479. Barrows Construction company bid $3492, O. T. Moore $3590, and Catching Brothers $4200. Frank Lansdown is the architect.

DRUNK CHARGES BRING 17 TO COUNTY JAIL

Seventeen persons were booked at the county jail over the weekend on liquor violations, including four charged with drunken driving and 13 for drunkenness. Another alleged drunken driver was arrested today in Anaheim.

Santa Ana police arrested eight of the total. Placentia officers apprehended four, the California Highway Patrol jailed two of the alleged drunken drivers. Orange officers made two arrests and Tustin police one.

John Eisenbise, 27, San Diego, escaped with minor cuts and bruises but was jailed last night for drunken driving after his new car overturned near Corona del Mar while travelling at a reported speed of more than 60 miles per hour. A man and woman riding with Eisenbise were thrown clear of the wreck and received pavement burns and slight cuts and bruises. They were not held by Captain H. C. Meehan and Officer Horace Inge of the highway patrol, who arrested Eisenbise.

George H. Gerry, 51, and Reid B. Bordwell, 53, both of Uplands, were booked at the jail yesterday afternoon by Officers Pete Winslow and A. H. Westermann of Orange. Gerry was charged with drunken driving and Bordwell with drunkenness.

Martin Castillas, 32, Belvedere Gardens, was arrested by Chief John Stanton of Tustin yesterday afternoon and booked at the jail for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was later released on a $150 bail bond.

California Highway Patrolman Oscar Kelly arrested Benjamin F. Pacey, 48, Wilmar, and booked him at the county jail for drunken driving Saturday afternoon. He was released later on a $150 bail bond. Dallas Preble, 39, 1720 West Ninth street, released from jail Friday after concluding a 60-day term for drunkenness, was arrested with two other men on the same charge and booked at the jail Saturday night by Officers F. L. Grouard and Jess Buckles. Preble, John Strain, 32, Orange and Edward Ward, 42, East Chestnut avenue, were arrested at Fourth and Lacy streets.

Charles Ray, 38, 1140 West Fourth street, was arrested by Buckles and Grouard at Fourth and French streets and jailed for intoxication at 11:20 p. m. Saturday.

Joe Mendosa, 43, 916 Logan street, was arrested at Logan street and Washington avenue at 2:30 a. m. Sunday by Officer Ralph Pantuse of Placentia, who was coming into Santa Ana. He brought Mendosa to the police station, where Officers William Heard and W. C.

B. Sherwood took him to the county jail for intoxication.

Jose Sineros, 40, 998 Stafford street, was arrested at Fruit street and Grand avenue by Officers C. W. Wolford and Roy Hartley and booked at the jail for drunkenness at 2:50 p. m. yesterday.

Pete Adams, 40, and Al Carlisoza, 23, both of Delhi, were arrested at Fourth and Garfield streets last evening and taken to the jail for intoxication by Officers J. W. Foster and C. V. Adams.

Juan Rosales, 29, Colton, told by officers three times to get off the streets, was arrested at 1 a. m. today and booked at the jail for intoxication by Officers Joe Murillo and A. L. Steward. He was arrested in Delhi.

Officer Gus Barnes of Placentia brought three men to the jail for intoxication last night. Y. Palacio, 25, Anaheim, was booked at 5:40 o'clock, Dave Valasquez, 52, Placentia, at 8:27 o'clock and Pedro Ramirez, 65, Placentia, at 10:59 o'clock.

Ramirez is being held as the result of a knife fight in the Richter Beer Garden on Santa Fe avenue in Placentia. Manuel Taffoya, 52, was seriously wounded and is in a critical condition in the Orange county hospital. Ramirez will probably be faced with charges of assault with a deadly weapon. It was learned from Barnes today.

Manual Aguirre, arrested early this morning by Officers Cheatum and Sherman of Anaheim pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunken driving. His trial was set for 2 p. m. today and bail set at $150.

GETS JAIL TERM

Earl Holt, charged with assault and battery, was sentenced to the county jail for six months by Judge Kenneth Morrison Saturday. He was charged with beating his wife.

WARNING ON RABIES SPREAD ISSUED TODAY

Dog owners should be careful to keep their pets confined in yards as a means of combatting the prevalence of rabies. It was announced today by health authorities.

There are now 16 dogs under quarantine for rabies, principally near Seal Beach, Sunset Beach and Surfside colony. Seven dogs have died of rabies within the past 30 days and roving dogs with the disease are a menace to other animals. It was pointed out. There has been one case reported from Santa Ana.

It was also urged that dogs be licensed so that it will be possible to trace ownership of animals in case they are bitten by mad dogs. The fee is 50 cents for the unincorporated areas of the county and $1 in Santa Ana.

When dogs appear sick or are bitten by other dogs, the health department should be notified immediately. It was declared. This will enable the authorities to quarantine suspects, perhaps save the life of the animal, and protect children and adults from being harmed by roving dogs.

Hilarity Marks Legion Affair

HEIM WILL HEAD DAVIS CAMPAIGN

Carl M. Heim, attorney with offices in the Commercial National bank building, has been selected as Santa Ana chairman of the campaign committee for James L. Davis, deputy district attorney and a Democratic candidate for congress, it was announced today.

"I am supporting Davis because, besides having recognized ability as a lawyer, a speaker and a thinker, he also has a real sympathy for right, justice, and equality of opportunity, the same forces which inspire our President," Heim said today.

"Recovery has just begun, and we must continue to support Roosevelt to obtain a more equal distribution of wealth, just wages for labor, pensions for the aged, care for the handicapped and children, and security for jobs and homes."

Local Briefs

Rumors heard on the streets of Santa Ana today that a large Los Angeles drug company has signed a lease for store room on Fourth street near Main in the Otis building, were denied today by William E. Otis, owner of the building, although he said negotiations were pending.

New Air Colossus Will Fly U. S.-Buenos Aires Route

ORIGINATOR OF PENSION PLAN TALKS AT PARK

America has unlimited ability to produce things the people need and only needs to use the marketing ability which is also unlimited. Dr. F. E. Townsend of Long Beach, originator of the Townsend old age revolving pension plan, declared yesterday afternoon when he addressed a large gathering at Birch park to explain the objectives of the pension plan. "Prosperity is ours for the taking," he said, in urging that people over 60 years of age be retired from business and industry, and placed upon government pensions of $200 per month with the requirement that this money be spent within 30 days of its receipt. He pointed out that this step would bring about a rapid circulation of money which is required for prosperity, and would create employment for all, by creating vacancies in the ranks of workers and enabling the aged, as a leisure class, to provide the purchasing power needed for production and stimulate the free flow of goods.

The old age revolving pension is not a panacea for all the world's ills, Dr. Townsend said, but is one step which would enable the intelligence of the people to lift the nation out of its present condition of business and industrial stagnation.

Ninety per cent of the voters of Southern California are endorsing the pension plan, the speaker declared, and there are now working organizations in 30 states urging its adoption on a national scale. By the time congress meets in January, there will be a universal demand for old age pension legislation, he predicted, and said his organization hopes to present petitions signed by twenty million American voters to congress on January 2 next in its behalf.

"Our whole system of charity is utterly ridiculous and absurd," said Dr. Townsend. "We are spending a million and a half to maintain a poor farm between here and Los Angeles. Two-thirds of it goes to provide the personnel, and it costs more to feed the employees than the inmates. Wouldn't it be better to give the money direct to those who need it?"

It would require two billion dollars to start the plan in operation, the speaker said, and this would be raised through a sales tax, averaging 10 per cent probably, but with lower rates on necessities than upon luxury purchases by the well-to-do. He estimated that eight million people, at least, would be removed from competition for jobs in his pension plan, who would then be enabled to think and plan a new cultural life for the nation in the leisure time thus provided.

C. J. MacDonald, publicity director for the Townsend organization, said they now have 18 active state organizations and 274 branches carrying the pension plan to the people, and expressed the thanks of the organization to the Register and the Tustin News for publicity articles used. He announced that on Friday President Roosevelt had appointed a committee to investigate pension plans for submission to the next congress, with every indication that the Townsend plan will meet with administration favor. He said all candidates for legislative office would be contacted and asked to sign a questionnaire expressing ing their views on the Townsend plan. J. T. Nichols, Orange county manager of the plan with headquarters at 218 West Fifth street, introduced the speakers and spoke briefly. At the close of the meeting questions were asked from the audience and answered by Dr. Townsend, who said that any citizen over 60 years could qualify for the pension, regardless of their means, and there would be no discrimination. When asked where the money would come from to start the plan in operation, he countered by asking where "the ten billion comes from that was spent this past year."

FIREWORKS BANNED IN CITY LIMITS

Patriotic children in Santa Ana anxious to celebrate the Fourth of July season by shooting fireworks, should be careful where they have their fun.

A long-standing city ordinance prohibits the shooting of fireworks anywhere in the city limits. Police are keeping close watch to enforce the law and assist fire authorities in preventing fires.

A former city ordinance prohibited the selling of fireworks in Santa Ana but this was repealed by the city council several years ago when it was found that the law was avoided by setting up stands on all highways just outside the city limits. The only requirement for selling now is to receive a permit from fire officials.

LEONARD WAKEFIELD CALLED BY DEATH

Leonard S. Wakefield, 62, who came to the United States 13 years ago from England, died here Saturday following a lingering illness.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lizzie Wakefield; one son, Arthur Wakefield, of Santa Ana, and four brothers, Ernest, Percy, Sidney and Branzion Wakefield, all of England.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the chapel of the Harrell and Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, with Dwight T. Kenyon, of Tustin, officiating.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Pneumonia Causes Death Of Child

Phyllis Patricia Telf, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Telf, of 1401 North Bristol street, Santa Ana, died Saturday of double pneumonia.

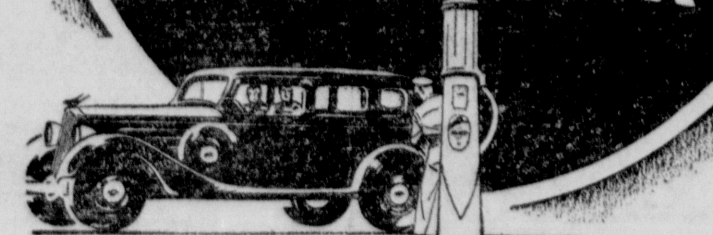

Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Catherine and Cecilia Christina Telf.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow at the St. Joseph Catholic church, under the direction of the Harrell and Brown Funeral home.

Interment will be made in Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

COURT PLANS TO IMPOUND DRUNKS' CARS

Drunken drivers from now on will get little consideration in Judge James L. Allen's department of superior court. It was learned today in an interview with the jurist.

Judge Allen has just completed what might be called an experiment which lasted for eight months, in which he has, in common with other prominent jurists of Southern California, inaugurated a plan to impound the cars of drunken drivers, as well as the drivers.

This plan, Judge Allen said, has worked out exceedingly well. "In many cases," Judge Allen declared, "those who are brought in court on drunk driving charges have not paid for their cars. So when we turn their cars over to the sheriff, they are forced to give up their cars or continue payment on something they cannot use."

"I intend to use this plan much more in the future than I have in the past, after having convinced myself of its success. At the same time that the car is given over to the custody of the sheriff, usually for a year, the driver's license is revoked for a similar period."

The jurist pointed out that this plan is not followed in every instance, because "each case must be judged on its own merits."

Black Blotters To Ban Attempts Of Check Forgers

Another obstacle has been placed in the path of would-be check forgers by the Security-First National bank of Los Angeles, by equipping all of its writing desks with black blotters instead of the usual white blotting paper, it was announced today.

Investigation into the methods of forgers and embezzlers has disclosed that signatures employed as "models" in some forgeries have been obtained from blotters taken from public writing desks.

White or gray absorbent paper, applied to dry the ink on a check or letter, sometimes bears the perfect imprint of a signature in reverse. Holding the blotter up to a mirror, the criminal not only detects the name of the prospective victim, but discovers also the manner in which he writes his signature.

Consequently, bank officials said, the person who uses a pale blotter and leaves it on a desk or counter, in a public or semi-public place, is liable to become the innocent victim of forgers, embezzlers, black-mailers or other defrauders.

Christian Science

"Christian Science," was the subject of the lesson sermon yesterday at the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Among the Bible citations in the lesson-sermon were these verses from John: "Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches.... And a certain man was there, who had an infirmity thirty and eight years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he said unto him, Will thou be made whole? The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. Jesus said unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked."

A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained.... It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

Boulder Dam Job Now Far Ahead of Schedule

Government officials thought Boulder Dam, on the Colorado river, would look like this in November, 1934, the time estimated to have the big project half completed. But the Six Companies, Inc., contractors, have reached the halfway mark 18 months ahead of schedule. This view of construction operations in the canyon alone shows: 1—Five main cableways to carry and dump concrete into dam forms. 2—One of the inlet towers to let water into the power plant tunnels. 3—Main dam, now 400 feet above bedrock foundation—to be made 300 feet higher. 4—Pre-cooling tower (dark body above figure 4) on top of lower diversion dam. 5 and 6—Outlet tunnel portals.

JUDGMENTS AGAINST HEWES RANCH GIVEN

Two judgments on promissory notes secured by mortgages have been granted against the Hewes Ranch company by Judge H. G. Ames in superior court.

The First National bank in Santa Ana was given judgment for $7552 on a note executed and delivered to the bank by the ranch concern September 5, 1929. Interest on the note had been paid up to September 5, 1932, and nothing more had been paid, the complaint stated. Ridley Smith was named commissioner after taking oath and posting $500 bond. His fee was set at $25.

Judgment for $2951.50 was granted to H. M. Elliott and Clara B. Elliott against the Hewes Ranch company. On December 6, 1930, the defendant company executed and delivered to the plaintiffs a note for $3500, secured by a mortgage, on which interest was paid up to Decem-

Representative Of Rosicrucian Order Is Named For S. A.

Mrs. Ray R. Ballard of 406 Fruit street has been appointed commissioner of extension activities of the Rosicrucian order in this community, it was announced today. North American headquarters for the order (AMORC) are at San Jose, and each country has its various sectional lodges, chapters, and extension commissioners, it is stated.

"The Rosicrucian order is a fraternity devoted to the dissemination of knowledge of the natural laws of life and the teachings of a philosophy," said Mrs. Ballard today. It is neither a commercial or a religious organization, and the commissioners donate their services and receive no compensation.

Mrs. Ballard urges all local Rosicrucians to attend the national convention of the order, to be held at Rosicrucian Park, San Jose, in July, a feature of which, on July 12, will be the depositing of a parchment scroll, hermetically sealed in a lead tube, in a sphinx mounted upon an eminence in front of the Science building now being completed by the order.

The scroll will contain a summary of the 15 principles thought by the membership to be the most fundamental of the order's philosophy and teachings and which should be preserved for posterity. Mrs. Ballard explained today. The fraternity had its traditional origin in Egypt, she said, and placing the scroll in the sphinx repeats the legendary act which is supposed to have placed a similar scroll in the Great Sphinx of Gizeh, Egypt, many hundreds of years ago.

Postal Workers Get Pay Increase

About 70 employees of the Santa Ana postoffice will be benefitted by a five per cent raise. Insalari given to all federal employees effective today, according to Postmaster Terry E. Stephenson. This is the second five per cent raise federal employees have received following the 15 per cent reduction as a measure of economy.

THIS GUARANTEED TIRE MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE

DON'T worry! When you buy a Goodrich Safety Silvertown your money is safe. Because every Goodrich Silvertown is fully guaranteed for a period of twelve months against any condition that may render the tire unfit for further service—except punctures, fire, theft or abuse from running flat.*

But, what is far more important, when you buy a Goodrich Silvertown you may be saving your life. For every Silvertown has the amazing Golden Ply invention that protects you from high-speed blow-outs.

Here's Proof!

Racing daredevils tested out the Golden Ply at break-neck speeds. On the world's fastest track. Gave it everything they had. Rubber got so hot it fairly smoked. Not one blow-out. Similar tires without the Life-Saver Golden Ply failed at one-third the distance the Golden Ply Silvertowns were run. And what's more, the Golden Ply Silvertowns kept right on eating up the miles.

Don't gamble when human lives are at stake. Get a set of Goodrich Silvertowns now and play safe. With each tire, you'll get the Goodrich guarantee which protects your tire investment for a full year. Remember, too, that you are getting the only tire in the world with the Life-Saving Golden Ply invention. And don't forget Goodrich Safety Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — News Behind The News —

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

CONGRESSIONAL RELIEF

The inside story of how congressmen slipped over that law allowing themselves to get relief loans from the government is one of the great political classics of all time.

Two senators did it. One is a newcomer from a midwestern state. You probably never have heard his name unless you reside in his state.

A fellow in his home town has a mortgage on one of his houses, but cannot get the relief offered in the home owners mortgage set-up, because the house is owned by a senator.

The senator went around among his friends in the senate, telling them the story and pointing out that such a situation needed correcting.

DISMAY

Another senator, who has large cotton interests in a south Atlantic state, was more interested than anyone else. He is an old-timer who knows how to get things done.

He took the midwesterner's idea and expanded it. A nameless bill was quietly introduced, amending the criminal code so congressmen could borrow from the farm credit administration as well as the mortgage relief administration.

Not a word ever got outside the inner congressional circle about the bill until after it had been passed by the senate and was pending in the house. Then the story got out and members of the house rebelled.

The White House was slipped from the bill. Word was that the bill would be vetoed if the house passed it.

PERSEVERANCE

Such a setback would have dismayed two less spirited men than the two senators. But they had the same pioneering spirit which brought Columbus across the ocean and sent Lindbergh back across it only they were more modest than either Columbus or Lindbergh and they chose to operate with privacy.

There was just one way for them to make the house and the president accept their little bill, and that was to tuck it into some big bill, marked "must" on the administration program. They chose the housing bill, knowing full well the president could not veto that.

But, so modest were they about their work that no one discovered their prank until four days after congress adjourned. Then President Roosevelt's housing experts came across a strange sentence, away back in Title V of the bill. It did not stop with opening up the coffers of the FCA and HOLC to congressmen, but took the lid off virtually every other government relief agency as well.

Mr. Roosevelt hesitated, but finally signed the bill and said nothing about the matter.

As a result of the successful fruition of this great work of relief for poor congressmen, who only get $9500 a year (plus mileage), a movement is afoot among news-men to strike off a medal to the two persevering senators.

The motif suggested is that of an eel on a background of two crossed palms.

BELOW BOARD

If you think there is any skulduggery behind this business, you are mistaken. You just do not understand. Any congressman can explain it to you.

The explanation is that, after all, congressmen are human beings. Even if they get $9500 a year (plus mileage), some of them are in distress if not actually in want. They have farms, homes, businesses (all kinds of businesses). Other people who have farms, homes, businesses are getting money from the government. It is rank discrimination for congressmen not to get it.

To think otherwise, you must be a suspicious soul. You must believe that the congressmen are going to exert political pressure on government officials to get unfair or even dishonest loans or that they will get more consideration from government relief agencies than the average citizen. You must suspect that, sometime in the future, these same congressmen will next pass a law cancelling the loans they got, so they will not have to pay the money back.

The fact that the transactions are not to be made in public does not mean anything, because the government will have a secret record of them. Also, government appraisers will certainly fix honest values for the loans, even though they may be political appointees of the congressman whose property they evaluate.

And you may rest assured that Democrats will not be loaned more than Republicans, and that the administration would surely not use its private knowledge about the loans to make borrowing congressmen vote the way it wants.

In fact, it is all to be very honest and fair, even if a little below board.

If you think otherwise, you just do not know congressmen.

EXODUS

There will be a minor exodus of deputy administrators and others from the NRA as soon as General Johnson gets out of town on his western tour.

Many have been afraid to resign while Johnson was in town. He always says something which makes his departing employees feel uncomfortable.

PASTOR CITES THINGS RIGHT, WRONG IN U. S.

FULLERTON, July 2.—Taking as his text Isaiah 2:2, "And it shall come to pass in the last days that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all the nations shall flow unto it," the Rev. Graham C. Hunter, yesterday preached at the first of the union services of the Presbyterian and Christian churches at the Christian church on "What's Right With America."

He was assisted in the services by the Rev. George F. Tinsley, pastor of the Christian church, who left soon after for Pacific Palisades, and by C. C. Chapman, founder of the church. Dr. Hunter is to have charge of the two congressmen during July, with services at the Christian church, and the Rev. Mr. Tinsley will have charge at the Presbyterian church during August, while Dr. Hunter has his vacation.

The great things about America, things that point to establishment of Christ's Kingdom on earth, according to Dr. Hunter, are an absence of caste, an idealism that is not centered on money, but on equality, self control and hope and courage. The task for all is to bring into each life the thoughts and purposes of Jesus Christ, thoughts of pure fellowship, sympathy, of service, hope, courage and devotion.

At the opening of the sermon he drew attention to the fact that all is not right in America; he told of the dream of the founders, the dream of equality, and how their traditions have brought to use the finest things we possess. Governor Bradford, and many others who sought the new world, builded that world on prayer, he said.

"Prayer was the very foundation of this country; citizens of this new world were aiming to dwell in righteousness, and in brotherhood," he declared.

In continuing with a brief sketch of the early history, he drew attention to the lessons learned in helping France, and continuing to the present time, said that the brotherhood and equality is not completely accomplished, as witnessed in the struggle for the workmen for a living wage. According to the Glassford report, he said, the American farmer, in 1929, and prior, only earned $700 a year, average, while the Mexican laborer earned less than $400 a year.

On self control, he appealed to America to maintain that equitable balance, while working for the development of all, and to find in that self control a respect for moral laws. He quoted from the song, "America, the Beautiful," during the sermon.

At the conclusion, he drew attention to the need of incorporating all of Christ in the full program of America that the things that are right with America may be enlarged and the wrongs may be righted.

MISS FOSTER BECOMES BRIDE OF G. E. MATTER

FULLERTON, July 2.—Before a small group of close relatives, Miss Dorothy Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Foster, of Union avenue, became the bride of George E. Matter, son of Mrs. Sophia Matter, of North Raymond avenue, when the Rev. Charles E. Maltas, pastor of the Fullerton St. Andrews Episcopal church, read the marriage vows at the chancel of the church at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

The bride, who was attended by Miss Norma Brastad, of Anaheim, wore a brown suit of sheer silk, with a brown wool hat and shoes to match. Her corsage was made up of orchids, a gift of Dr. J. P. Brastad, who grew them in his orchid house in Anaheim, and of lilacs of the valley. Miss Brastad wore a wine colored silk crepe suit and a hat of corresponding shade, and wore a corsage of lilacs of the valley. Ralph Henderson was best man.

The father of the bride escorted her to the altar and gave her away. Mrs. George Stephenson played a group of organ numbers prior to the procession, and played the wedding march, "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's Lohengrin.

The altar about which the wedding party assembled was decorated in pastel and white stocks and ferns and palms.

Following the wedding, guests gathered at the Foster home, where cake and coffee were served. The young couple then left for a two weeks trip to Yosemite, Tahoe and other parts of Northern California.

Miss Foster is a graduate of Fullerton Union High school and District Junior college, as is the bridegroom. She attended San Diego Teachers' college and has been teaching the past five years. He is employed by Alexander Anderson in his oil well supply business in Fullerton. They plan to return to Fullerton to make their home after their short trip.

DRIVER FINED $50

FULLERTON, July 2.—After he had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, Ramon Cardillas, 38, of Puente, an orange picker, Saturday was given a fine of $50, or the alternative of 17½ days in jail, and had his driver's license suspended for 30 days. His hearing was before Judge Halsey I. Spence.

Although several arrests were made in the first six months of 1934 for reckless driving, none are on file for drunken driving, while during the same period of 1934, 15 convictions were made on drunken driving charges.

The percentages in increase are based on the files, which show that in January, 1932, seven arrests were made for intoxication;

LIQUOR ARRESTS FOR YEAR TO DATE SHOW 73 1-2 PER CENT GAIN RECORDS OF POLICE DISCLOSE

FULLERTON, July 2.—Five times as many drunks were arrested in June of 1934 as were arrested in June of the like period, according to the files at the Fullerton police station. The increase in arrests for the first six months of 1934 over 1933, was 62½ per cent. The increase for 1934 over 1932 was 73 1/3 per cent.

The records show other interesting figures, including the fact that fines for possession of liquor for the period prior to the repeal of the dry laws amounted to more than fines imposed for drunkenness. Arrest for possession is not made now.

The records at the police station show that in 1932 30 drunks were arrested; in 1933, 32 were arrested, and in 1934, 52 were arrested.

Although several arrests were made in the first six months of 1934 for reckless driving, none are on file for drunken driving, while during the same period of 1934, 15 convictions were made on drunken driving charges.

The percentages in increase are based on the files, which show that in January, 1932, seven arrests were made for intoxication;

In February, one; in March, six; in April, four; in May seven, and in June, five, a total of 20; in 1933, two more were made, and in 1934, for the first six months, four were made in January, eight in February, nine in March, seven in April, nine in May, and 15 in June. The percentage of increase of June, 1934, over May, 1934, is more than 63 per cent.

An interesting item is the fact that the revenue derived from convictions on possession of liquor for 1932 was more than the revenue derived from convictions and fines imposed on the many drunks of 1934. In January of 1932, of the four convictions on possession charges, two of the six cases were listed as pending, $135 in fines being collected. In January, 1934, the collections for intoxication convictions, four in number, totaled $85.

DRIVER ARRESTED

FULLERTON, July 2.—John C. Hughes, a Canadian residing at 111 North Nicholas, was arrested yesterday by Fullerton police on a charge of drunken driving. He is out on $150 bail. The hearing date was not set.

DIVISION BOARD TO DIRECT ACTIVITIES

FULLERTON, July 2.—Because Rich Volk, elected chairman of the Merchants' division of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce Friday night, maintained he is unable to serve, the division will function without a chairman, but with six men, including Volk, as a board of directors, directing the affairs.

The men are five preceding chairmen. Volk also is a former chairman, having served many years ago. They are Harry V. Williams, Ralph Irwin, William Steinar, James H. Robert, K. H. Postline and Volk.

Arrange Funeral Of Matthew Duty

FULLERTON, July 2.—Private funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning for Matthew Duty, 68, of La Habra, at the McAulay and Suters Funeral home, Fullerton. The aged man, who is survived by his wife, Jeanette Duty, of La Habra, and by two sisters in Illinois, died yesterday in a hospital. Interment is to be at Loma Vista.

YOU wouldn't knowingly endanger your dog's health. But that's just what hundreds of people are doing—with poorly balanced, "waste-product" foods.

You may face the sad realization when it's too late to save your dog from skin troubles, stomach disorders—illnesses that may do him permanent injury, may actually kill him.

Why take this risk?

Buy This Proven Ration

Today you can get a fully adequate dog food from your grocer. It costs not over a cent or so more than the "cheap" ones.

This proven ration is Balto—made from fresh-caught, whole fish ground and cooked with selected cereals and other ingredients needed in a dog's diet. A leading university, veterinarians, dog fanciers have tested Balto. All say it is safe.

Let these facts guide your choice. Bear in mind, too, that the world's healthiest dogs, the huskies, live chiefly on whole fish.

MAN'S REGARD FOR HIS BODY SERMON TOPIC

The relationship between man and his body, and man's regard for his body, was discussed by the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, pastor of Calvary church at the Sunday morning service, when he spoke on the subject: "The Christian and His Body."

He said, in part: "When God first created man, He formed him from the dust of the ground. This gave him his body. God then breathed into his body the breath of life and man became a living soul. That was not all that was done then. We are told that God 'formed the spirit of man within him.' So a whole man is constituted of body, soul and spirit. As to personality, man is a spirit, but a spirit needs a body for expression and social life. There are evil spirits in the world and they are constantly seeking embodiment. They have no power of expression without it. 'The body is a real work of the hand of God. To deny that is to deny the Scriptures as well as common sense and scientific fact. Adam was created with body, soul and spirit untouched by sin. But he fell and the ruin was complete and universal. The Bible tells of a 'last Adam' who, through the redemption on the cross, redeemed this ruin with the effect that man can be 'born again' as to his spirit. His soul, or life, is saved and his body purchased, awaiting the complete redemption at the coming again of Christ at which time these bodies, now corruptible, are to be made incorruptible like unto His glorious body."

"The relationship of man to his body depends upon whether he is a Christian man or not. The man of the world is typified by the rich farmer of the gospel of Luke. He had much goods laid up for many years; it was now time to 'eat, drink and be merry.' That was all he thought his body was for. All but those who have been saved are governed by this principle. But the Christian is made aware of the fact that his body is 'for the Lord and the Lord for the body' and that he is not his own but has been bought with a price. 'He is told, therefore, to glorify God in his body. He is to govern his life as it affects his body with that fact in view. What a change in Christian living that would make if all who professed allegiance to God actually did that! Have we any honest right to do anything else?"

IRVINE, July 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sellers and son, Noble, have left for Colorado and other places of interest.

Mrs. John Davis and her sister, Mrs. Thelma Bennis, and son, Edsel, who have been living on the Henry Boosey lease for some time, have moved to their recently purchased home near Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurley Sears and son, Hurst, of Modesto, have left for their home after visiting in this vicinity and in Santa Ana.

PASTOR HOLDS WELDED CHURCH GREATEST NEED OF THE WORLD; DIVISION HELPED BRING CHAOS

The greatest necessity of modern times, with no other issue exceeding it in importance, is the unity of the church of Christ, the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, declared in delivering the sermon at the union church service Sunday evening.

His topic, "That They All May Be One" was one of a series on "The Message of Jesus To the Church," that forms the theme of the union services during the first part of the summer, each pastor in turn dealing with a different phase of the theme.

"Church unity is the challenge of the hour," said the Rev. Buchanan, who pointed out, however, that "if any of us think that all we have to do to have Christian unity is simply preach a sermon on it, with someone to move that we all unite, and the deed is done, he is mistaken."

"Our union will amount to nothing unless we have unity," he said. "We can tie a dog and cat together and we will have union—but not unity."

"I am not ready for Christian unity unless I first love God's people wherever or whoever they are—and I can't love them until I know them."

"It would be hard to believe,"

costs of operating denominational schools.

"Here we are, each division of Christ's church, working hard to keep up our organizations, running our selfishness, and 19,000 people in this city needing Christ," he said. "You talk about foreign missions. Christ said 'Jerusalem first.' Christ said 'Santa Ana first.' I hang my head in shame when I think of how Christ gave His blood that our sins might be forgiven, and at least 19,000 people in Santa Ana do not realize that fact; and that one of the reasons is our division. Christians, this is enough to lead us all to our gardens of Gethsemane."

Development Of Leadership Aim Of Church Class

The regular weekly development class of the Southside Church of Christ will be conducted this evening instead of Friday evening, as formerly planned, it was announced today.

The purpose of this service, it was said, is the development of the various talents for leadership among the men of the church. The program consisting of songs, prayer and short talks, is conducted by the younger men. The general public is invited to these classes each Monday evening.

GOSPEL SERIES CLOSED SUNDAY BY EVANGELIST

T. W. Phillips Jr., evangelist from Detroit, Mich., spoke before an impressive audience at the Broadway and Walnut Church of Christ in the regular services yesterday morning. This was the closing day of a splendid gospel meeting. He said, in part:

"Our worship, to be acceptable in the sight of God, must be conducted to meet His divine approval. A thing is not true because we feel all right and believe it to be true, nor because I feel no remorse of conscience when it is practiced, but because it is in the Bible by the direct authority of the Lord. There are three things recognized as authority in religion above the whims and fancies of man:

"(1) A direct statement of inspiration in the New Testament.
"(2) A necessary inference, and
"(3) A positive, divine example.
"There is a great principle involved in the matter of restricting our worship, i. e., I cannot legislate where the word of God has not legislated. In the Great Commission we are told to teach, but the manner and method of teaching is left to our disposal; we are told to 'baptize,' but the place of baptism is left to our convenience. So often custom has enwrapped us in a hide-bound ritual of services, and we feel by the growth of years that that particular way is the only acceptable worship to God.

"As a third point, worship is not acceptable unto our heavenly Father, if there is animosity in my heart toward my fellow-man. My prayers and songs arise no higher than the ceiling."
"If, therefore, thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee, leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift." (Matt. 5:24, 25).

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER GIVES ADVICE ON PREVENTION AND CARE OF PARALYSIS CASES

By K. H. SUTHERLAND, M. D.,
Health Officer, Orange County

Infantile paralysis (epidemic poliomyelitis) is a communicable disease most commonly seen in children. Young grown-ups may have it and for that matter so may anyone no matter what his age.

As I said, the disease is communicable and is passed from one individual to another by personal contact. It is caused by what we call a virus. This word simply means a poison and is used to describe the causative agent because the latter is evidently much smaller than any known bacteria. Claims have been made that the causative agent has been seen with the most powerful microscope, but this fact has never been confirmed. We can detect the virus however, in the nose and throat of infected individuals and in the brain and spinal cord tissue of those who have died from the disease, by the following laboratory procedure:

Filtered nose and throat washings from those known to be infected with the disease, and emulsions from the brain tissues of those who have died from the disease, when injected under suitable anaesthetic into the brain of a monkey will cause the monkey to develop infantile paralysis. The monkey is the only animal that is susceptible to this disease and for this reason our laboratory experimental work is handicapped by lack of specimens on which we can work. Thus we know that the virus can be spread by the saliva spray emanating from the mouth and nose of infected individuals and breathed in by other persons who come in close contact with infected individuals.

A few years ago a theory was advanced that insects spread infantile paralysis. There is no evidence of this fact however, and the theory has been pretty generally discarded. Quite recently attention has been directed toward milk as a possible means of transfer, but the case against milk has not been proved. However, pasteurization would kill all virus if it were transmitted that way. Cleanliness in the kitchen and in foodhandling places is essential in controlling the spread of the disease.

What Are Some of the Symptoms of Infantile Paralysis?

First of all, there is a period of general sickness sometimes for several days before the paralysis appears; there is almost always a fever; headache; constipation; more frequently than diarrhea; marked irritability when disturbed; alternating with drowsiness; not infrequently flushing; usually slight soreness of the throat, sometimes marked sweating, and sometimes difficulty in urination. After a few hours usually, if the disease progresses, we have evidence that the virus is attacking the brain and spinal cord tissues. This is shown by the appearance of a stiffness in the neck such that the head cannot be bent forward to touch the chin on the chest; a stiffness of the back, usually such that the body cannot be easily bent from the hips. There is apt to be a marked soreness of the muscles and a sensitiveness of the skin. This latter is so great at times that any motion is painful.

If these signs of nervous system involvement are present, a

GEORGE CREEL
THIS EVENING

Advocating the election of George Creel, of San Francisco, as the staunchest supporter of President Roosevelt and the only Democratic candidate who can be elected governor if nominated at the August 23 primary, H. C. Head, chairman of the Orange county Creel committee has called a meeting of Democrats and other progressive voters, to be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

The meeting will take place at the new Creel headquarters, 311 North Main street, and is open to all voters, both men and women. There will be several short talks. It is announced, and George Reid, of Anaheim, will discuss pertinent phases of the political situation, especially in relation to the gubernatorial race.

"We urge all Democratic voters to unite in supporting Creel at the primary because he is the one Democratic candidate who, if nominated, can be elected," said Head today. "And we urge his election by voters of all parties because as governor he can carry out tax economies and make the necessary changes which no candidate of the present Republican administration would dare make. Tonight's meeting is open to all, and I would urge the voters to come and learn some very important facts about the situation."

A doctor, notify the County Health Department, Santa Ana 3000, and we will try to see that the case has medical attention. If you secure a doctor, carefully follow his instructions. Do not oppose sending the case to the hospital if that is advised and do not oppose a spinal puncture if that seems necessary, and do not oppose treatment with convalescent blood serum if that is suggested. The latter is the only effective medication that we have.

If the case diagnosed as one of infantile paralysis, three weeks quarantine will have to be established. Do not object to the quarantine, since this isolation to the patient not only prevents the spread of the disease but gives the patient complete quiet and rest when it is most needed. In caring for the patient, three things should be borne in mind. (1) The prevention of deformities. (2) The protection of the muscles from the injury caused by stretching and fatigue. (3) The subsequent re-education of the paralyzed muscles.

Prevention of Deformities
To prevent deformities the child should be placed on a firm mattress. Do not use pillows under the head or limbs. The body should be flat down on the bed and straight out, as the body is when one is standing. The patient should not be allowed to sit up in bed nor in a wheel chair until the doctor permits. Sometimes the paralyzed member is best protected by putting it in a brace or plaster case which can be cut so that the child can be taken out for bathing and later on for exercise.

Lying in bed for many months with plenty of rest is one of the most important things in severe cases. The length of time the child must rest differs in nearly every case.

BATHING: If the doctor recommends it, the patient may be lifted into a tub of warm water. The warm bath is very comforting to the patient. Take care in lifting the child to see that the paralyzed limbs do not hang down or dangle. Adults may be bathed on the bed.

WARMTH: The paralyzed part must be kept warm. This helps the circulation. It helps recovery and also aids in the growth of the limb. Later, during convalescence, always warm the part before exercise.

EXERCISE: After several weeks of rest, if the doctor thinks the patient is ready for it, the muscles may be exercised and re-educated, but this must be done only under the careful direction of the doctor or a trained physiotherapist, if such service can be secured. In re-training or re-educating the muscles, do not allow

NEW TYPE GARBAGE TRUCK DEVELOPED
HERE IS SUCCESS

There is nothing especially beautiful about a garbage truck but employees in the Santa Ana municipal garage constructed such an improved type of truck several months ago that it is attracting national attention among engineers and municipal sanitation heads.

City Engineer J. L. McBride has just received a request for pictures and specifications on the truck so they can be exhibited and explained at a convention of national sanitation engineers in Vancouver in the near future. The request came from E. A. Reineke, senior sanitary engineer of the department of public health in Sacramento.

The principal feature of the new truck is a loading device on the front of the bed. This consists of a place to empty garbage cans only a few feet from the ground and eliminates the necessity of hoisting the heavy cans to the top of the truck body. A hoisting device is used to keep pushing the load to the rear of the truck.

FIREWORKS TO BE ATTRACTION AT AUTO RACES

Colorful displays of fireworks will feature the Fourth of July racing program in the Santa Ana Bowl Wednesday night, when the midweek auto racers hold their weekly speed events.

American Legion officials have arranged a wide variety of set and display pieces of fireworks, since no high aerial rockets can be used so close in the city. Bombs will be used to open the program and patriotic music and events will be given.

Aside from the fireworks, interest will center in another five-lap match race between "Curly" Mills in 36 and Chester Mortimer in 96. Last week, at the Mid-Summer Motor Pageant, Mills won the first race, Mortimer the second and Mortimer the third, but only because the Mills speedster stalled on the home stretch and nearly overturned.

Bill Bettridge in his No. 7 will be on the track with the other familiar drivers. The qualifying heats are to be concluded by 8 o'clock and the fireworks will begin shortly thereafter.

SINCLAIR CLUBS
AT BEACH JULY 4

All Upton Sinclair-for-Governor clubs are urged to bring members and friends to the E. P. L. C. Boosters picnic to be held in Newport Beach July Fourth. It was announced today by Harry Gerhart, campaign worker.

Charles L. Heiser, World War veteran, will speak on "The Road Ahead—Promise and Danger," on an afternoon program, which also will feature special music and an exhibition by H. Clark, 73-year-old strong man of Santa Ana.

Following the all-day picnic, a mass meeting will be held in Birch park, Santa Ana, at 8 o'clock, at which time Heiser will deliver a second speech, "The Way Out for America."

PIONEER CENTRALIA SCHOOL DISTRICT REACHES END OF LONG AND MEMORABLE TRAIL

Midnight Saturday wrote finis to the Centralia school district, in the northwest section of the county, one of the original school districts of Orange county whose history goes back 60 years, to the time when the only nearby school was at Anaheim.

The district came officially into being, free music lessons, and individual instruction in the arts. At the beginning, however, according to Judge Landell, it was not so pretentious. "There were only eight families in the district," he said yesterday, "and the only organized school nearby was in Anaheim. We didn't even have a school bell, but Mr. Macpherson came to the door with a hand-bell to call us to school in the morning."

The first pupils of the school drew their water from a well behind the building, and rode to school on horses, or walked several miles. It was a real country school, being used by residents of the locality as theater, church, and clubrooms, for all occasions. The present building, which was abandoned this week, was built in 1899, a short distance from the original.

Macpherson was followed as school teacher of Centralia by Mrs. Margaret Harrington, now of Occidente, Mrs. Cora Williams, now in charge of a northern California school, gave place to Mrs. Annie Hanlon, who went from there to teach in Los Angeles. Lewis A. Cox was principal of the school for the past year.

Over 150 old-time pupils of Centralia were present at a reunion held at Buena Park last January. "Dorey Haycox and I were the only original ones there," Judge Landell said. "He brought a bell he claimed to be the original school bell, and I suppose it was. It brought back a lot of memories."

Most of Judge Landell's schoolmates are dead, he said, but of those that remain most have gained prominence. Among the well known ex-Centralia pupils are Dorey Haycox, Monterey Park; Loney Haycox, Imperial Valley.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind the News

whether it lands a member on the regulating commission. The boys are planning to set up a board of their own to advise the commission and help it over the rough spots. They point to Secretary Roper's Planning and Research Council—by which industry is decidedly helping to govern itself—and inquire who they shouldn't do the same. They figure the commission should be duly grateful.

If the plan works the board will be set up by the Association of Stock Exchange firms. That's an important distinction. The Association's leaders—whenever outstandingly liberal—are certainly more progressive than Richard Whitney and his crowd. They recognize that regulation has come to stay and are authentically willing to adapt themselves to it as best they can. They are keen to get back in the public's good graces. The commission needn't be too suspicious of gift horses.

The Association's bid for Washington favor leads some of the unreconstructed to refer to its heads as teacher's pets. But their better sense of public relations is likely to increase their influence in Exchange affairs while that of the Old Guard wanes.

LEADERSHIP
E. A. Pierce—mentioned as a possible candidate for Whitney's job before the last Exchange election—vice president of the Association. His outspoken statement that the brokerage business can perfectly well continue to function under regulation—not originally intended for public use—was in sharp contrast to Whitney's grudging announcement of cooperation which Pierce's firm pointedly did not sign.

There's no doubt that Pierce reflected the views of Wall Street's younger generation—whose discontent with the Whitney regime has been kept muted. Now they well they've found leadership and many insiders predict a complete new deal for the Exchange at its next election.

SPREE
Stories are current in Wall Street that big-time speculators are due to take a final fling at the market in July. Everything is very circumstantial. The operators are due to place buying orders in London which will send prices kiting in the manner of last year's alcohol pools and then step out and leave the public with the bag.

Probably half of Wall Street believes the yarn and is waiting with bated breath for the fireworks to commence. There's just one thing wrong with it. The rumors have been spread so assiduously they have all the earmarks of the ancient come-on game.

The object? If enough would-be insiders believe it they'll start buying now to beat the gun. That would ten to raise prices just as the big operators were active themselves and enable the said operators to get rid of their present holdings at higher levels without having to put more money into the market. Very simple.

So if you see the stock market staging a spectacular spree in the next month don't take it too seriously.

UTILITIES

The naming of Wendell L. Wilkie as chairman of Commonwealth and Southern—he has run the company for the past year—accentuates the clash between two opposing schools of utility thought. Wilkie believes the utilities can best combat oppressive legislation by cleaning up abuses themselves instead of standing by and howling murder. In this he differs radically from such hard-boiled stand-patters as Thomas N. McCarter—head of the Edison Institute and Public Service of New Jersey—and C. E. Groesbeck of Electric Bond and Share.

Commonwealth and Southern has already taken long strides towards simplifying its corporate structure in line with the New Deal trend. Also—thanks to Wilkie's tact and cooperation—it has suffered less from friction with TVA than Electric Bond and Share although its stake in the territory is considerably larger.

Up to now the hard-boiled school has had things pretty much its own way in the industry. Wilkie's emergency into the limelight may change the picture.

TRAVEL

If you thought the New Deal dollar would put a crimp in tourist travel to Europe you were wrong. Travel men say this will be their best summer since '29. They credit much of their good luck to cuts in tourist rates by European hotels and railroads—some as much as 60 per cent—which make dollar costs about what they were pre-New Deal.

HEADACHE

The Airlines have some brand new grief—this time about air express. They carried nearly two million pounds last year at rates running from $1.25 a pound up. Now that they've got the reduction in airmail postage they've been yelling for they find express can be airmailed for 35 cents a pound.

So their precious express baby goes bloomy if they don't cut rates. And Mr. Farley will get mad if they do. Once again the lines have to reach for the aspirin.

SIDELIGHTS

Local aviation circles aren't too pleased with Elliott Roosevelt's election as vice president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce. Critics call at the kind of dumb lobbying that's put the industry in trouble before.

Insiders estimate that half a billion dollars in real estate securities will be floated between now and the end of the year. Germany is likely to ask her domestic bondholders to take a "voluntary" reduction of interest.

DECLARES GOD IS IGNORED AND MAN GLORIFIED

EL MODENA, July 2.—Declaring that "the reason the church pews are empty is because God is ignored and man glorified," the Rev. James Fisk, pastor of the El Modena Friends church, preached Sunday on the words found in Nehemiah 4:6, "So we built the walls and all the wall was joined together into the wall thereof; for the people had a mind to work."

His sermon, in part, follows: "The walls of Jerusalem had it. Jerusalem had walls for its protection. When the walls were torn down and burned and all the worthy young men had been taken away into captivity, Nehemiah was one of these, and he made inquiry and when he found that the walls had been burned and that Jerusalem was a prey to her enemies, he felt he must try to do something about it."

"When that city was overcome the walls were torn down and those there were not able to protect each other. They were a prey to the people around them. If we in the world the orthodox who love God need to read their Bibles and need to come together and build the walls, it is now. This Nehemiah, cup-bearer, as I read of him, I noticed that he prayed and prayed earnestly to God that he might move the heart of the king. And when he appeared before the king his face was pale and the king noticed it and made inquiry. This boy lifted his heart to God that he might find favor with the king. He was burdened for Jerusalem. It should move us as we think over the destruction of the walls of the church. So he had a concern, he was burdened for the old paths, for the faith of his fathers. He wanted to still keep the light burning."

"If we continue to go on as we are, it won't be long until Jesus is unknown to this generation. There is less prayer than has ever been known. If we that are present here tonight would put ourselves to the task and pray we could fill this church. That king couldn't do anything but what he did do. Nehemiah had asked God and the king wanted to do it. It was out of keeping and contrary to his customs."

"The reason the church pews are empty is because God is ignored and man glorified. The people had a mind to work. When they started people didn't think it possible. Nehemiah had papers from the king. He asked God for the things he needed. He knew God and wasn't afraid of exhausting His store. He even had letters to the men who had the forests. Every man had a mind to work and they started right. So the walls went up and when those around them tried to hinder, Nehemiah said, 'I am doing a great work and I haven't time to come down. The greatest work any man

HILDA FRICK BECOMES BRIDE OF AUBREY HORN

ORANGE, July 2.—At a beautiful single ring ceremony, Miss Hilda Frick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph M. Frick of 1295 East Palmyra avenue, became the bride of Aubrey Horn of South Pasadena.

The ceremony took place Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Memorial hall of St. John's Lutheran church, which was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion. The Rev. George Theis of South Pasadena read the service which united the happy couple. Lohengrin's wedding march was played by William Batterman.

The bride, who was gowned in eggshell satin with short jacket, wore a full length veil caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Dorothea Anderson, of Pasadena in white organ-die, who carried a bouquet of white sweet peas.

The groom, who is a well known young architect of South Pasadena, was attended by his brother, Wilfred Horn.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at which the

at no increase in cost!

"EAT A SUNBEAM!" says one of the most famous scientists in America. The particular sunbeam he tells us to eat is the one that the smoke and dust of cities, the houses and buildings we live and work in, and the clothes we wear, keep from reaching us. And this is the sunbeam that would create for us the precious vitamin D if it could shine upon us.

We must have this vitamin. Children must have it to make their bones grow straight and strong. Expectant and nursing mothers must have it for the protection of the bones and teeth both of the mother and the child. It is highly probable that all people of all ages would be greatly benefited by a more adequate supply.

So the famous scientist says, "Eat a Sunbeam." We make them for you to eat. By creating the ultra-violet rays in our plants and allowing them to shine on the milk, we put an extra supply of the precious vitamin D in Pet Milk. That is nature's own method of creating vitamin D.

Pet Milk has long been noted for its sure safety, uniform double-richness, and ready digestibility. Thousands of physicians have prescribed Pet Milk for babies because of these extraordinary qualities.

Many thousands of women use Pet Milk for all their milk and cream needs because the double-richness enables them more easily to put in their families' food the quantity of milk they ought to have.

Irradiated Pet Milk—enriched with vitamin D—now possesses the further virtue of enabling you to give to all your family the additional protection which this precious vitamin provides against the tragic results of faulty bones and teeth, not only in childhood but in later life.

And this added protection costs you nothing. The cost of Pet Milk is not increased because of irradiation. It costs less generally than ordinary milk.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

© 1934 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The rain poured down a little while and then the youngster, with a smile, said, "Well, the ground has had enough, so now I'll make it stop."

"You Tinymites will shortly see that I'm as clever as can be. When I have sung my little song, you will not see a drop."

And then he started in to sing. The song was quite a pretty thing. Oh, rain, wet rain, you've watered flowers, and we are glad you're here.

"But now, it's time to go away, because the Tinies want to play." In just about a minute, everything was bright and clear.

"My goodness, that was clever, said Dotty, and were very glad that you let us stand with you. Your umbrella kept us dry." Then Peter, who was near at hand, said, "Say, I think it will be grand if your new friend will come with us and have some milk and pie."

So, off to Peter's house they rode in Peter's cart. 'Twas quite a load. It wasn't very long until they all enjoyed some lunch.

The lad who owned the bumber-shoot then said, "It's time for me to scoot. I hope we meet again some day. You are a real nice bunch."

"Well, we'll go too," said Scouty. Then, a smile spread on his small face when he saw two youngsters coming. He exclaimed, "Gee, what a thrill!"

"Those two tots have a pall in hand. It's easy, thus, to understand that in about a minute we'll be meeting Jack and Jill."

They all soon found that he was right, and little Goldy Tinymite said, "Hi there, Jill, and Hi there, Jack! Please tell us where you're bound."

"For water," Jill replied. "And you can come along, if you want to." "Of course we do," said Copy, as the Tinies gathered 'round.

FOUR PARTIES SPONSORED BY TUSTIN GROUP

TUSTIN, July 2.—Four card parties sponsored by the Tustin American Legion auxiliary Friday night proved a success in every detail with approximately 80 persons in attendance.

Bridge was played at a party given at the home of Mrs. Betty Bear in Santa Ana, with Mrs. Dwight Hayden assisting her sister in hostess duties. First and second high scores were held by Mrs. L. H. Gulick, Harvey Bear; Mrs. Ralph Shannon and John Cleary.

Mrs. Hilda Riehl and Mrs. Grace Leinberger were co-hostesses at a bridge party held at the home of Mrs. Riehl on First street. Mrs. Rena Bouchard and C. Spain held high score and Mrs. Ruby Prather and Bud Hannafor held second high.

The game of "500" provided diversion at the party staged at the home of Mrs. Helen Matthews in Santa Ana. Mrs. Genevieve McConnell assisted in hostess duties. Checking of tallies, revealed that Mrs. Ethel Manderscheid and Bill Hunt held high score and Mrs. Anna Hunt and George Matthews, second high.

Mrs. Laura Marks and Mrs. Helen Bruce were co-hostesses at a bridge party held at the Marks' home on McFadden street, Santa Ana. High and second high scores were made by Mrs. Dorothy Tubbs, Cassius Cluser; Mrs. Daisy Turner and Floyd Turner.

Following the contests, the four groups of players adjourned to the lodge hall in Tustin, where prizes were awarded those making special scores. The door prize was won by Mrs. Hazel Harbör.

Refreshments of combination salad, sandwiches and coffee were served by the ways and means committee, composed of Mesdames Mary Lambert, chairman; Blanche Young, Pauline Cleary, Hazel Vigor and Catherine Stanton.

One Hurt As Boats Crash; 'Vega' Wins

NEWPORT BEACH, July 2.—Considerable excitement was given the star races held off Newport Beach yesterday afternoon when the "West Wind" and "Tempi," well up in the running, collided, snapping the mainmast on the "Tempi." H. L. Ingersoll, skipper of the yacht, was slightly injured by the falling mast.

"The Vega," piloted by W. Dick-ey, came in first, with a time of two hours, 30 minutes and one second, followed three seconds later by the "Adgeron," piloted by Jack Cotton, with the "Vela" third, with Fred Lyon sailing. K. Simpson's "Speedstar" finished fourth. Ingersoll's "Tempi" failed to finish, as did the "Trivius," sailed by H. Benjamin.

LAGUNA BEACH LIONS SPONSOR RACES JULY 15

LAGUNA BEACH, July 2.—Much interest is being taken throughout athletic circles in the annual swimming race staged by the Lions club, to be held this year July 15, according to a report of a special committee, at the club meeting Friday night. It is planned to hold the race on a two-mile course extending from Emerald bay to a point in front of Hotel Laguna. The event is open to amateur swimmers of both sexes. Motion pictures showing scenes from different parts of the world, including Arctic regions and close-ups of Mount Everest, featured the entertainment part of the program provided at the White House cafe.

President John Gibson occupied the chair and Alfred Haste was in charge of the program. C. Addison Van Loeven, chairman of the education committee, has arranged for the showing of the motion pictures.

NEW PARLOR CAR FOR NEWPORT LINE

NEWPORT BEACH, July 2.—The new summer parlor car service of the Pacific Electric was inaugurated this morning when the "Commodore," special Los Angeles to Balboa car, was put into service. Local chamber of commerce officials have been angling for the special service for some time, it was reported, and today's schedule was the result of many month's work.

The car will make a round trip each day from Balboa to Los Angeles in the morning, and return at night. The car is of the type now used in special steamship service according to Pacific Electric officials, and will be on the beach run until September 15.

MOVE TO ALTADENA
BREA, July 2.—Miss Edna Neugebauer and her mother, Mrs. Mary Neugebauer have moved their household goods to Altadena, where they have taken up their residence. Miss Neugebauer has been a member of the Brea-Olinda Union High school faculty since the opening of the school in 1925 resigning her position there with the close of the school this year.

SEEK TO RAISE SPEED BOAT AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 2.—Salvage operations in an attempt to raise and float a luxuriously appointed speed boat, now resting on the bottom of the sea off the Laguna Beach fishing pier, were renewed today by Capt. O. E. Ayers lessee of the pier.

The craft, reported to be registered at Newport Beach, was cruising off the Laguna Beach coast line Saturday afternoon when the gasoline supply ran out, causing the boat to drift about at the mercy of wind and currents. The boat was navigated by H. J. Romer of Pasadena. A woman, whose identity was not learned, was a passenger in the boat.

Romer's distress signals were observed by a state traffic officer, who phoned Captain Ayers and the life guards who, boarding a motorboat belonging to the former, went to the disabled craft, reported to be off Tyrone's camp, north of Laguna. Before they reached there, however, the boat had been dashed against the rocks, causing it to be tossed about and capsized by the force of the huge breakers. The man and the woman managed to make their way ashore. It was while towing the partially submerged boat back to Laguna that it sunk a short distance off the pier.

FILM PRODUCTIONS TO GET ATTENTION OF BEACH P.-T. A.

LAGUNA BEACH, July 2.—One of the principal subjects to be taken up by the Laguna Beach Parent-Teacher association with the resumption of activities next September is motion picture entertainment, particularly the type of films shown children at Saturday matinees. It was stated today by Mrs. A. C. Watkins, 339 Aster street, newly elected president.

Commenting upon the campaign against objectionable pictures now sweeping the country, Mrs. Watkins pointed out that long before the churches took up this matter, it had the attention of the Parent-Teacher organizations throughout the nation, whose membership perhaps more than any other class realized the harmful effect of objectionable pictures. Mrs. Watkins added that effective results would be obtained if each and every Parent-Teacher association would give the local situation its attention and communicate its views to exhibitors and producers.

Church Trustees To Meet Tonight

BREA, July 2.—A regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Congregational church will be held in the pastor's study at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

Because of the holiday the mid-week meeting is to be omitted this week. Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the subject "Salvation by Sympathy."

Members and guests attending Sunday morning services were given an opportunity to sign a petition to place on the ballot the proposal for local option in California.

'CHRIST ORIGINAL ENEMY OF NATIONALISM' SAYS MINISTER IN DENOUNCING MILITARISTS

BREA, July 2.—"Christ was the original enemy of nationalism and his true followers have been so ever since," declared the Rev. Donald F. Gaylord, preaching at the Congregational church on Sunday morning, taking as his text a part of the second verse of Luke 23, "And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation."

"Certain groups," said the pastor, "are spoiling patriotism for me. Instead of their words bringing a thrill of pride, a glad rush of joy to my heart, I feel an uneasiness, a dread of the things they define as patriotism. Our flag is made to stand for militarism, for preparations for war, for the propaganda profitable to those financially concerned in the traffic of war."

"It is not difficult to trace as one of the reasons for the failure of the disarmament conference the fact that some of its members were directly or indirectly concerned among share holders in armament stocks. Dividends in this market have increased in the past few years more than 500 per cent."

"Among the militarists pacifists are classed with communists, enemies of the flag. Which is the higher law for Christians, the will of the state or the will of God? Any war, defensive or otherwise, is the very negation of love. We cannot have war and Christianity. Are the men and women who are taking their religion most seriously and who hate the traffic of war—are they to be called enemies of the flag? Isn't it about time we declare loyalty to God in this matter? If we do history will discover in us the finest type of patriot."

"Edith Cavell, British war nurse, about to face a firing squad said, 'One thing I have learned and that is that patriotism is not enough.'"

Gaylord denied the assertion frequently made that the Civil Liberties union is controlled and managed by communists. "Among the 50 members of the board," he said, "there is but one avowed communist and he is a very minor part in the movement. Most of the board members are registered as Republicans and Democrats."

According to Captain Portus the chamber has made several requests of the telegraph company for such a service but so far no results have been obtained. The present arrangement, involving extra charges for telephone calls and delivery, not to mention delay in handling money transfers, is very unsatisfactory, Portus declared.

Two members of the Brea unit have been named to offices on the district board. They are Mrs. Frank Bickel, district chairman of student welfare and Mrs. Glenn Jones, district chairman of the P.-T. A. magazine.

Resignation of Mrs. Guy McIntyre as president of the Brea P.-T. A. has been accepted by the executive board of that group for the reason that Mrs. McIntyre and her sons, Julius and Donald, are leaving Brea, within a few weeks to take up a homestead in San Diego county. Mrs. A. M. Ferree, who has been secretary of the association for the past several years, has been named by the board to succeed Mrs. McIntyre.

According to Captain Portus the chamber has made several requests of the telegraph company for such a service but so far no results have been obtained. The present arrangement, involving extra charges for telephone calls and delivery, not to mention delay in handling money transfers, is very unsatisfactory, Portus declared.

a muscle to et tired. Too much exercise is worse than none.

RECOVERY: Recovery is usually slow. It may take months or years before the patient will recover as much as he will. Avoid people who guarantee to cure infantile paralysis. A good doctor may help your child but he cannot promise a complete cure. Do not get restless and want to change your doctor or clinic because the improvement is slow. One careful period may take months of patient work.

MENTAL SIDE: The child should not be humored or spoiled. Do not express pity, lest the child get to pitying himself. Self-pity is a most destructive thing. Proper mental rest is as essential as physical rest. Teach the child self-reliance, teach him to understand that even if he is paralyzed he can make a place for himself in the world.

What is the Situation in Orange County?

During the course of the epidemic this spring we have had a total of 25 cases, with almost every part of the county represented. The disease is not spreading rapidly, but for several weeks past we have had an average of four to five cases a week. It is possible that the peak of the epidemic has been reached, but as yet we cannot be sure of that fact.

Of these 25 cases, one case has died, a few of them are badly paralyzed, but for the most part we have had remarkably good results because we have been able to discover the case in its early stages. At present there are 11 cases of infantile paralysis in quarantine.

While there is no need for any great alarm in Orange county at the present time, yet we must realize that we have a very dangerous communicable infection in the community, which can be held in check only by the willing and active cooperation of every person in the county.

McCormick Takes L. A. Golf Crown

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—(UP)—Bruce McCormick, young Los Angeles golfer, today held top position among city players by virtue of an easy, one-sided victory over Stanley Seymour, 8 and 7, in the finale of the Municipal golf championships yesterday at Griffith park.

Seymour, who was runner-up to Guy Hanson, last year's champion, in the county a year ago, failed to show any real competition against McCormick.

ranched; Elbert Potter, Los Angeles corporation lawyer; John Potter, also a Los Angeles attorney; F. W. Shoemaker, principal of Roosevelt High school, Los Angeles; Dr. Otto Roller, now a Los Angeles dentist; Miss Leona Browning, a Los Angeles teacher.

Judge Landell easily recalled the eight pioneer families of northern Orange county that felt the need of a central school district, and lent their time and money to the building of the school. They were W. G. Potter, one time Santa Ana city treasurer, John Upson, E. B. Foster, Thomas Lyons, inspector of the Los Angeles police, Thomas Haycock, J. C. Hill and C. F. Crane.

By last week the district had expanded from one-half acre in area to a six-square-mile area; from no assessed valuation to one of $150,000; and from a minus tax rate to one which still was the second low in Orange county; and from eight pupils to 53.

'DARK HORSE' BEATS CHAMP, GETS $1000

DALLAS, Tex., July 2.—(UP)—"Dark Horse" Leland Hamman of Waco, Tex., enjoyed the greatest day of his golfing career yesterday as he defeated the former National Open champion, Johnny Goodman of Omaha, in the finals of the Trans-Mississippi tournament and was presented a $1000 check by his elated father.

Hamman's 3 and 2 victory over Goodman, former Trans champion, climaxed a week of upsets that witnessed the elimination in early rounds of Gus Moreland, former titlist and 1934 Walker Cup player, and Lawson Little, British Amateur champion.

Hamman carded a 69, one under par, in the morning round, while Goodman took a 75. Hamman was one over par for the 16 holes of the afternoon round.

"Pop" Higgins, featured character of the sketch, is much put out by hot weather and irritating difficulties but he learns a lesson and "everybody lives happily ever after."

Lowell D. Wood Succumbs Sunday

Lowell D. Wood, 47, of 1002 East Fourth street, died yesterday following a lingering illness. He had lived here for the past seven years. He was a fruit chemist and preserver of fruits, and at one time had a store of such nature on Fourth street.

His only relative here was a cousin, Miss May C. Brower, who cared for him during his illness. His mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Wood, and a sister, Mrs. Geraldine F. Spaulding, live in New York City, and two brothers, Robert T. Wood, and William T. Wood, live in Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be held at a time to be announced later by the Winbigger Funeral home.

HARRY BATESON PAMPHLETS TO BE GIVEN FREE

Program officials of KREG emphasized the fact that there are no charges nor any obligations whatever connected with the distribution of gardening pamphlets by Harry L. Bateson, "Gardener of the Air," heard on the local station each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

Bateson's interest in gardening is such that he wants others to benefit by what he has learned and to use every opportunity to better themselves, both physically and economically, with gardening. He makes no charge for his services and pays all his own expenses connected with the broadcasts and his horticultural work in helping individuals in various communities throughout Southern California to "get back to the soil."

Tonight he will continue with more information on the "3 Acres and a Home" movement, which he originated some years ago.

GOODRICH PROGRAM ON KREG TONIGHT

An interesting episode in the life of the Higgins family will be told in tonight's Goodrich Silver-toned play on KREG at 8:40, immediately following the regular Orange county news broadcast.

"Pop" Higgins, featured character of the sketch, is much put out by hot weather and irritating difficulties but he learns a lesson and "everybody lives happily ever after."

The Goodrich players are scheduled each Monday at the same time on the local station.

EVENING PROGRAM TO FEATURE TRIO

Under the title of "Twilight Melodies," an early evening program featuring the same instrumental combination as heard in "Melody Lane"—pipe organ, harp and steel guitar—will be broadcast from KREG tonight at 8:45, via CBS facilities.

"Melody Lane," scheduled daily from 10:15 to 11 p.m. on KREG has brought forth many favorable comments from those who appreciate and look for a program of light classics at that hour, it was stated.

KREG NOTES

Lani McIntyre's Harmony Hawaiians, well-known throughout the West for many years of Hawaiian music and rhythm par excellence, continue to please KREG listeners from 3 to 3:30 every afternoon except Sundays, program officials stated. Many listeners have stated that this group is equal if not better than the best of all other Hawaiian quartets.

A 15-minute broadcast of favorite band numbers, written by Sousa and other bandmasters who are known the world over, is programmed for 3 o'clock tonight and another at 1:45 p.m. tomorrow on KREG.

Benny Nawahl, the "guitarist extraordinary," will be heard again tomorrow morning on KREG at 11:30 as of each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. He is the boy who plays the ukulele with his toes almost as well as with his fingers and the latter method he "plenty hot" it was stated.

TRIAL TODAY NEARS CLOSE

The murder trial of Al Brunner, Long Beach fisherman and ex-prizefighter, who is accused in connection with an automobile wreck that cost three lives at Dana Point last March, was nearing its close today as the state presented rebuttal testimony, the defense having rested its case.

Medical opinion on the point whether Brunner was drunk at the time his car crashed against a machine operated by Max Devitt, of Los Angeles, was further confused today when two Santa Ana physicians, Dr. H. G. Huffman and Dr. John D. Ball, testified in reply to a hypothetical question asked by Deputy District Attorney Leo G. Frills. Both said that the symptoms described in question indicated to them that Brunner was drunk.

Previously, Dr. J. M. Burlew, of Santa Ana, and Dr. H. A. Johnston, of Anaheim, testifying for the defense, expressed the opinion that Brunner was not intoxicated. Dr. Huffman answered a hypothetical question submitted by L. W. Blodgett, defense attorney.

The two hypothetical questions were not entirely alike in their description of symptoms and conditions, court observers noted, as a possible explanation of the divergent medical opinion.

The Devitt car caught fire at the time of the crash, burning Devitt's sister and niece, Mrs. Jennie Orinstein, and Miss Beverly Orinstein to death. Mrs. Mildred Devitt, wife of the driver, died in a local hospital three days later.

Brunner is charged with the murder of Mrs. Orinstein and her daughter.

SORROWING GERMANY

News from Germany that Chancellor Adolf Hitler has undertaken to strengthen his position by the execution of his opponents in as yet unestimable numbers comes as a shock, though hardly a surprise. It is a logical sequence of his ruthless rise to power and the doctrines which he has promulgated.

One can only sympathize, not only with those bereaved by these executions, but the whole German people who are beginning to realize that they are at the mercy of a dictator who is bringing ruin on their country as well as death to their fellows. Hitler has strengthened his own position but he has not yet solved the domestic financial crisis and he has driven deeper the wedge which is isolating Germany from the rest of the world. By his suppression of all opposition he proves that he knows the code of conduct required of a dictator who would retain his power. The German people themselves are beginning to realize what might be expected of a dictator. We cannot believe that they have known before. And millions of them, knowing, were forced to the support of the Chancellor by fear of the annihilation which within the last forty-eight hours has overtaken those who sought to revolt.

From time to time we have expressed our sympathy for Germany and our regret that the German people were pinning their faith to so fallible a leader. We have been criticized harshly for this. From time to time we have printed some of the letters we have received from people who felt themselves better able to judge German conditions than we were. As affairs have developed in Germany, however, we cannot but feel that we have been more loyal to the real hearts of the German people than those who have been so set in their opinion that Chancellor Hitler was the savior of Germany.

There are millions sorrowing in Germany today because of this display of the ruthless cruelty of the man who is determined to keep himself in power at all cost. Chancellor Hitler is riding high today but at what a cost! No nation can pay such a price for leadership and not be shaken to its foundations.

The deaths have solved none of Germany's pressing problems. They have solved, temporarily the Chancellor's problem of staying in power, that is all.

Incidentally it unites the sentiment of the people in this country against a dictator, as it has never been united before.

AN EXPERIMENT

Two ministers and 48 of their parishioners, with their entire families, tried an experiment a few weeks ago. They submitted themselves to a week's test of the food rations which the city of Hartford's (Conn.) Welfare department has been doling out to the needy for the last two years. One minister reports that the members of his family of seven lost 15 1-2 pounds after trying it out for one week.

The other minister reported that his family of five did not lose weight but lost their tempers. "The children, whose spirits are usually happy, were noticeably irritable toward mealtime. What this would mean to a family on this diet for months is obvious."

This is very suggestive. But more significant is the psychological attitude, which naturally would be very much different among the needy from that of the people who were merely trying out the experiment for a week.

These ministers and the families trying the experiment with them could not, in the very nature of the case, appreciate the state of mind of those who did not know when they would be able to support themselves. Not only were they the victims of malnutrition, but there was with them constantly the anxiety concerning the future. That the families trying the experiment could not comprehend.

An experiment like this reveals the disturbing and the irritating conditions under which the unemployed suffer. Relief is good enough as far as it goes, but for many the eating of the bread of charity is bitter and demoralizing; and when long continued breaks down the morale of those who have to call for it.

At present, we know no other way to meet the situation. The C. W. A. did do something to bring back sufficiency and self-respect. The drain upon Federal resources, however, was too great.

We may moralize on an experiment such as has been reported by these two ministers; but the essential problem is not solved by the doling out of rations. As indicated by this experiment, it is physically harmful.

To this must be added what the ministers could not comprehend—the mental and the moral consequences which are inevitable when men and women and children are thrown upon public relief.

THE DOCTORS MEET

The American Medical association has been holding its annual sessions in Cleveland, Ohio, the past week. At these annual meetings many new discoveries and many new cures are expected. To those who have been reading some of the reports as they have appeared in the press, it is surprising how many people died in former years who might yet be alive had some of the medical discoveries been made earlier. And how many more who have been dragging out a miserable physical existence might have spent their lives in comfort and joy had certain discoveries been made earlier.

The prevention of disease and the conquest of one-time fatal maladies have changed the whole tenor of human existence. Thanks to a sense of public service which moves the medical profession, there can be no monopoly control. Yet it must be said that there are still thousands of men and women and children in our land to whom the benefits of these new discoveries are still unavailable. The agitation for cooperative medicine does not yet find much favor among the doctors, and the American Medical association again put itself on record as opposed to it.

More and more are the best facilities becoming available to the poorer people. But there is a great middle class, not rich enough to pay the price and too proud to ask for charity, who are the sufferers from the system which now prevails. Most doctors give generously in gratuitous service; but the deserving and the undeserving poor are more apt to be the recipients of it. This would seem to make some form of social health insurance desirable. The great middle class of people forms the strength of the nation. They should not be overlooked. Many delegates at the sessions of the American Medical association spoke for this largely overlooked class.

The medical profession is, however, looking forward. Doctors are among the most valuable of our public servants. Without disparaging other professions, it must be said that the medical profession renders a service without which this would still be a miserable world and many in it doomed to a life of misery and pain. Most of the doctors earn all they get. Few of them, as statistics show, are overpaid.

THE MILITANT MUSSOLINI

War is for men, says Mussolini, what maternity is for women. Inasmuch as he believes in much maternity for women—since he bestows medals upon all Italian women who have more than twelve children—it must follow that he believes in much war for men. Women will furnish the men, and the men will fight the battles.

Some one has said that an idea like that can only originate in a lunatic asylum, and the man who proposes it should be in a madhouse. We are inclined to agree with the statement. Nothing more barbaric can be conceived than a policy or an idea such as this which has been suggested by Mussolini.

It is a great misfortune that such paranoias are entrusted with power in so many states. They have an abnormal conception of the function of states and the goal of humanity. And what adds to the misfortune is the fact that they succeed in stirring up the mob; and timid souls are cowed by these bloodthirsty militarists. It marks a return to the Napoleonic ideal of womanhood which is to produce children to serve as cannon fodder to pamper the pride of tyrants. Is it possible that the world will drop back?

Miss Abbott and the Children's Bureau

New York Herald-Tribune

Miss Grace Abbott, who retires this week as head of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, has been one of the indispensable figures in the creation of the American conscience in regard to child welfare. If today it is comparatively easy to persuade any American community that its children must be safeguarded against disease and malnutrition, that for their youthful shortcomings must be meted out a different punishment from what is given to hardened criminals, and that young folks are better off in school than in factories, a large part of the credit must be assigned to the Children's Bureau.

Steadily, constructively, with unwavering fidelity to the truth and no deference to political expediency or flashy popularity, its two chiefs, Julia Lathrop and Grace Abbott, have for twenty-two years directed its activities in the unromantic field of collecting statistics, issuing pamphlets containing advice to mothers and adding all sound measures for improving the general well-being of 43,000,000 American children. That their work is far from completed, and that the depression has complicated the problem a thousandfold, the Children's Bureau workers would be the first to admit. Theirs, however, is the kind of faith that plods steadily ahead. They work hardest when most needs to be done.

Miss Abbott has served under five Presidents, going to Washington first in 1917 in the administration of Woodrow Wilson as director of the child labor division of the bureau. When the first Federal child labor law was declared unconstitutional she served as adviser on the War Labor Policies Board, and in other positions of responsibility in child welfare fields, until her appointment in 1921 to succeed Miss Lathrop. The integrity and wisdom of her conduct of the bureau led to her being widely supported in 1930 as a candidate for Secretary of Labor to succeed James J. Davis. This opportunity she is generally believed to have sacrificed when she differed with President Hoover in his desire to transfer the activities of the Children's Bureau from the Department of Labor to the Public Health Service of the Department of the Treasury. The bureau remained where it was. So did Miss Abbott.

When two years later, Miss Frances Perkins became Secretary of Labor, one of her first official utterances was a promise that the Children's Bureau would not be molested. The somewhat harassed Secretary, confronted with tremendous seethings throughout the labor world, and with internal problems in other nooks of her department, expressed profound thanks that the Children's Bureau was one thing she need not worry about.

In her new post as professor of public welfare in the School of Social Service of the University of Chicago Miss Abbott will have the good wishes of all citizens who have applauded her Washington service, and for generations to come millions who know nothing about her will benefit from that service.

Chance For Large Vote

Oakland Tribune

Registration figures indicate that the general public's old habit of coasting through a primary and saving its voting strength for the general election is likely to be forgotten this year. There are already more than 613,000 eligible voters above the comparative figure in the state campaign of 1930.

Qualified voters in California now number less than two hundred thousand short of the three million mark with the books open for several weeks to come. Possibilities for a heavy vote are present but if one comes it must be because a great army that votes only in the general election has changed its ways.

THE HEIGHT OF INGRATITUDE

German scientists are now breeding a larger and more productive race of bees.

Though the weather be cloudy or sunny
There is never a rest for the bee,
She has to go out after honey,
An industrious nature has she.
No eye has this insect for beauty,
No hope through the wide world to roam,
She has to attend to her duty
Till she's filled the last cell in the comb.

One would think, when her labors are ended
In the heat of the blistering sun,
That she ought to be praised and commended
For a task that's been bee-folly done.
But man, who consumes all the honey
That the insect can gather and store,
Being merely a glutton for money
Complains that she don't gather more.

With the aid of the minions of science
More industrious bees have been bred,
Which, by some newly fashioned appliance,
Are carefully nurtured and fed,
So the bees who've exhausted their powers
By flitting beneath the hot sky
To harvest each crop of new flowers
Will shortly be turned out to die.

They soon must browse 'round through the daisies
Or nest in some broken-down shack
With no one to sound their just praises
Or to give them a pat on the back.
Give a thought to the poor, worn-out toilers,
Just picture their plight, if you can,
And think what stern cruel despoilers
Compose the rough race we call man.

Thank Heaven for debt repudiation. Something was needed to make us mad enough to keep out of Europe's mess hereafter. Where servants are many and cheap, you can take your choice between doing your own work and reconciling yourself to slippish work.

Maybe England could be induced to square the debt by presenting our gals at court at about a million dollars a head.

Necessity is also the mother of defaulting.

If it's a sin to tempt people, why isn't it sinful to be so ornery you tempt them to swear?

How unfair life is! If you bowl out an enemy by letter, you feel cowardly; and if you do it face to face, he interrupts.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

ROOSEVELT AND FASCISM

Is there any chance that America might go Fascist either under Roosevelt or after Roosevelt?

Well, there is a chance, but whether America drives straight to Fascism or detours around it Roosevelt will be the determining factor.

Many of the same conditions that preceded the Fascist assumptions of power in Italy and Germany exist now in the United States.

The jobless, the veterans and the farmers have their backs to the wall here as in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany.

The small business men are shrinking in number and power before the magisterial power of monopoly here as in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany.

There are all the makings of a swashbuckling nationalism here as in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany.

The capacity for cruelty is quite as great here as in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany, as witness our barbaric ventures in lynching. We are not lacking in machine-gun experts who, lacking lucrative work since repeal, would gladly play bouncer to a blustering dictator.

The facilities of effective propaganda are greater here than in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany.

And we have had the Ku Klux Klan and have Huey Long!

The New Deal may fall short enough of delivering the goods to provoke an American reaction to the right as the failure of pre-Fascist liberalism in Italy and Germany set the stage for Fascism there.

But there is this difference: Roosevelt, in his New Deal, has come very near to copying the theories and tricks of the corporative state of Mussolini and Hitler. He has clung to capitalism as they did. He has shoved the state in between capital and labor in the role of rule maker and umpire as they did. He has called for a class cooperation instead of a class conflict as they did. He has insisted, as they did not, that all this new dealing is voluntary on the part of private enterprise, but the sword of blame in the hands of a Roosevelt has proved as compulsive as the big stick in the hands of a Mussolini or a Hitler.

Now—my point is—if anybody tries to stir America to Fascism, it will have to be a Fascism with a new economic and political philosophy, for Roosevelt has adopted almost everything in Fascism except the swagger of the leader and the shifts of the followers.

My guess, therefore, is that America will not go Fascist. The only logical man to lead us into Fascism of the Italian sort, let us say, is Roosevelt himself, for he is already operating under its pattern. But he won't. The pressures upon him to go to the right, taking a lot of the liberal vocabulary with him, will be too powerful to permit his leading us in any drastic over-turn.

My hope is that the Roosevelt regime will prove a relatively painless transition to a new movement of political and economic realism that will rise effectively above our equally obsolete radicalism and reactionisms.

THE FOURTH

The Fourth of July is the birthday of our country. We are rather inclined to consider it an important national holiday, an occasion for formal speeches, tributes to the flag, parades and patriot meetings. The day has not enough personal meaning for us because we make it more the occasion for backyard looks than for inward searches. It is the inward searching glance that we need this Fourth. What meaning has it for each of us good citizens of a great nation?

The men who signed the Declaration of Independence, the men who entered the war that decided the stability of the Declaration, the men and women who suffered through the years of that terrible struggle were not making speeches, pointing with pride or viewing with alarm. They were fighting with all they had in them, staking all they had or hoped to have, for an ideal. The freedom of the individual soul was at stake. Its cause was won.

Spiritual freedom must be won many times. One victory is never enough. The enemy can never be exterminated, never as long as men continue to fight for existence on this material earth. Again and again the war must be won. Daily battles must be fought if the victory is to remain with the victors. Ideals must be reborn if they are to be sustained.

This Fourth of July must see a rebirth of an old ideal. Personal citizenship must rally to the cause of good government. It is the business of every man and woman of voting age to search his spirit, concentrate his devotion to the end that this nation enter upon its rebirth with the utmost courage, determination and devotion. We cannot stand by while others bear our burdens. We must think, and speak and act in support of our ideals if these ideals are to be maintained.

What are we teaching the children about all this? To tell them on the Fourth of July seventeen hundred seventy-six this nation was declared free and independent, is to tell them nothing that has meaning for them. It is our duty to put meaning into those words. It is our duty to point out to the young men and women who have just graduated from our high schools and colleges what the present ideals of the American people are, where they are leading, what aims they indicate.

With each succeeding generation these ideals take on new color, are expressed in new terms. Speak to the children in words they can understand. Translate the old ideals of spiritual freedom into present day phrases. Fit the new schemes into the old and show how they fit, how they belong, how they are the logical outgrowth of an ancient truth. Translate this Fourth into today's thought and make it vital with meaning for the boys and girls who are so soon to take over the management of their country.

Your party obligations have no quarrel with American ideals. These were founded on fundamental truth, the right of mankind to the pursuit of happiness. The right of all men to liberty and justice. The terms are old. The ideals are old. They still apply even in this new day, the better day that is dawning for America. Turn your face forward, point the children forward, this Fourth and make it meaningful for yourself and for them.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him a care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

Here and There

The United States once had beavers as large as bears; specimens of this giant beaver have been found in Ohio, New York, Michigan, South Carolina and Texas.

Utah territory was created in Washington in September, 1850, but the news did not reach Salt Lake City until January, 1851. It was sent by steamer around Cape Horn to San Francisco and thence by pack mule service to Salt Lake City.

There was no such thing as standard time until 1883.

After being kept for five years in a showcase in the Natural History Museum of South Kensington, London, a small shell was found to contain live snail.

All eclipses repeat themselves after a period of approximately 18 years and 12 days; this period of time is known as the Saros.

INJUSTICES SAN FRANCISCO SHIPOWNERS REVEALED BY PLAN TO OPEN PORT BY FORCE

BOARD TODAY

"TOO MANY CODES"

New Report Expected to Bring Another Outburst from General Johnson

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(UP)—For the third and last time the Darrow Recovery Board reported today that the NRA is squeezing the "little man" and the consumer and bolstering huge monopolies.

The board's final report was made public today. It differed from the earlier findings only in the specific injustices cited. The conclusions were the same as those of its first and most effective bombshell.

The report completes the public life of the board named in answer to widespread complaints regarding the recovery agency. Clarence Darrow, caustic chairman of the group, already has left Washington.

As in the past, it was expected a new report could bring an outburst of rhetoric from Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief.

The board took cognizance of some code revisions inaugurated by the NRA but maintained that the situation was substantially unchanged.

Basic charges made by the board:

Codes have sabled powerful interests to self control of industries and to extend a control already established.

Codes not only permit but foster monopolies. Small enterprises are oppressed and often accelerated toward ruin.

"There seems sinister purpose and entrenchment" in conditions through the act.

Suspension of anti-trust provisions granted the greatest desire of monopoly-seekers.

Production at distribution are hampered by sentiment aroused by coercion.

Aids monopolies

Elimination of the basic point system of price-making should be obtained instantaneously.

Price fixing should be abandoned immediately.

RESIDENT AND NO SONS OFF VACATION

Executive by Order Creates National Emergency Committee

ARD U. S. S. GILMER, Van Chesebrough Bay, July 2.

(UP)—President Roosevelt, who does it best at sea, relaxed completely today from the stress directing national affairs.

A cruiser Houston bore him south over gentle Atlantic swells and idled pleasantly in companionship of Franklin, Jr., John, youngest of his sons.

Limpert business was finishing the night as the Houlihan down Chesapeake Bay, a brief pause at Hampton, Va., to put ashore dispatched executive papers, the 10,000 warship was on orders to start to sea.

Limit Newsman

Only three newspapermen are allowed on the destroyer, following in the cruiser. Another destroyer, the Wilson, completed the convoy.

Banked deep outside the east gate, White House were thousands Sunday night-seers and well-wishers. They cheered the president. The scene was repeated throughout the hour's drive to the polls.

Cia Committee

The point today issued an executive order creating a national committee to advise him on problems connected with public works, industries, and industrial recovery.

Donald Richberg, NRA chief counsel, appointed executive secretary.

Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, administrator of industrial recovery, and Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins.

Richberg assumed the duties of Frank Walker, director of the National Emergency Council, who was on the summer off.

The executive order signed by the president before he boarded the cruiser Houston for his journey to Hawaii was issued by the Whitehouse.

STATE'S REVENUE BOOST $400,000

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 2.—(UP)—California will receive $400,000 more than expected from public utilities this year, as a result of an audit of gross revenues, made by the State Board of Equalization.

Utilities make early reports to the board, show their gross receipts, upon which a tax is levied, and the board conducts an audit to "assure equality of the tax." Fred E. Stev, board member, explained, the audit increased the state revenue $400,000.

Sun Bathers Warned By Physician

NEW YORK, July 2.—(UP)—Nudists shouldn't let the sun see them; for health's sake, not modesty's.

Other things dangerous to mix with sunshine, warned Chief Dermatologist Charles F. Pabst of Greenpoint hospital today, are—highballs, buckwheat cakes, scant bathing suits, toilet water, perfume.

Dr. Pabst, an authority for 20 years on the effect of sun upon the body, asserted: "Eight million Americans can't get tanned. But how they can burn! They are heliophobes."

Pleas Delayed When Attorneys Declare Intention to Seek Demurrer

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—(UP)—Branding the indictment of nine former officials of the CWA as an "emergency case," Federal Judge Harry A. Holtz declared he wanted a speedy trial when the defendants were arraigned today.

Pleas were delayed, however, until next Thursday when Attorney Baldwin Robertson, representing R. C. Branton, head of the state SERA and one of those indicted, said he intended to file a demurrer to the charges.

The indictment charged that in several instances, men were idle and receiving pay on CWA projects because tools and materials were not furnished them.

Named with Branton in the indictment are Jules Hanique, former county director and chief engineer of the CWA; Charles C. Frye, also director of the organization; Eugene M. Brown, former secretary of the CWA advisory committee; James T. Ritchey, who was manager of the purchasing department George O. Durkee, formerly in charge of work assignments; Henry E. Walker, Southern California director of the national reemployment service; Roy C. Donnelly, assistant to Walker, and Pierce Williams, former western CWA director.

He advised the marshal's office he would appear as soon as he returned from Washington. A bench warrant for his arrest was issued.

PRIME MINISTER OF ALBERTA CONVICTED

EDMONTON, Alberta, July 2.—(UP)—Prime Minister John E. Brownlee branded the seducer of a 22-year-old government stenographer, was expected to resign today. He had already notified the lieutenant governor of Alberta province of his intention, it was reported.

A jury Saturday found that Brownlee had seduced Vivian MacMillan and awarded her $10,000 damages. It awarded $5000 to Miss MacMillan's father. The verdict followed a sensational trial.

Acting Chief Justice W. C. Ives, in dismissing the grand jury said: "I think I should say openly and publicly what you are here, that I strongly disagree with your decision. That is all. You may go."

M. M. Porter, K. C., counsel for the defense, moved for dismissal of the verdict on the appeal that no damage to the plaintiff had been proven.

Board Fails In Move At Settlement

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—(UP)—The industrial association of San Francisco at noon today notified Mayor Angelo Rossi that it proposed to open the port of San Francisco at 3 p. m. today.

Blue-coated police moved in and took up stations on San Francisco's historic, cobble stoned embarcadero today as President Roosevelt's longshoremen's strike mediators apparently had failed and industrial leaders planned to open the port by force.

Negotiations for settlement of the Pacific coast's million-dollar-a-day maritime workers' strike, which has paralyzed ocean-going commerce from San Diego to Seattle and thrown 23,000 men out of employment, have reached an impasse, leaders of both factions admitted.

Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, heading President Roosevelt's national mediation board, appealed for advice from Secretary of Labor Perkins and the president himself as industrial leaders went ahead with plans to open the port here today.

Renewal of violence on a greater and bloodier plane than heretofore was feared. Police Chief William Quinn mobilized all available police forces near the waterfront. Other police guarded newspapers and other buildings in downtown San Francisco. Several newspapers and shipping firms received letters threatening sabotage.

Noon was the deadline set by shipping line operators for the opening of the port. They said they had hired sufficient strike-breakers and armed guards to open the port and move $50,000,000 worth of cargo tied up on docks here since longshoremen struck May 9.

Archbishop Hanna, Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward McGrady, and O. K. Cushing—President Roosevelt's mediators—appealed to the ship owners to hold their plans in abeyance and allow the board an extra day to attempt settlement of the dispute.

Ship owners were to answer the board's request at 10 a. m. In some quarters it was believed the ship owners would accede to the mediators' request. Others believed the operators, disgruntled by handling within the ranks of the strikers and the mediators' inability to restore order in peace negotiations, would proceed with their plan, first threatened 10 days ago.

Appeal To Secretary

Cushing, acting as spokesman for the mediators, said the negotiations had reached an impasse. "The board has sent a report by wire to Secretary of Labor Perkins regarding the situation. We anticipate a reply either from her or the president some time tomorrow. We hope Madame Perkins' reply will give us the ammunition."

JOHN JACOB ASTOR AND BRIDE HIDE OUT

CHICAGO, July 2.—(UP)—The John Jacob Astor massed honeymoon flight to British Columbia paused in Chicago today to take on some broccoli and champagne but didn't so much as stick a nose out of the Superb, the bride and groom's private car.

The Superb was transferred from the Pennsylvania road to the Chicago and Northwestern's crack express, The Viking, but a crowd of curious that followed every operation through the yards was not favored with even a glimpse of the young bridegroom or the former Ellen (Tucky) French.

Attendants were dispatched for newspapers, a stack of humor magazines and foodstuffs.

SISTER OF U. S. DIPLOMAT ARRESTED IN MOSCOW FOR TAKING PHOTOS OF KREMLIN

MOSCOW, July 2.—(UP)—Miss Avis Thayer, 22, of Philadelphia, an alumna of Bryn Mawr college and sister of a United States diplomatic service secretary, was arrested today by Moscow militia after she had photographed the walls of the Kremlin.

Miss Thayer was detained at the police station for an hour and a half. She is the sister of Charles Thayer, private secretary to U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt.

Miss Thayer was watched for several minutes by an ogpu (secret police) official and by a policeman. They conferred for several minutes as she took the photographs of the Kremlin, then they informed her she was under arrest.

The fact that she voluntarily offered to surrender her camera to them did not save her from being taken to police headquarters.

At the police station Miss Thayer was not allowed to telephone her brother for an hour. Finally, she was permitted to call him at the embassy. Later she was released after her relationship to Thayer was established.

It was pointed out that photographs of the Kremlin, such as she was taking, are sold every day in Soviet commercial agencies.

At one time while Miss Thayer was at the police station, the police snatched the telephone from her hand. (This fact was eliminated from one United Press dispatch by the Soviet censor.)

A Soviet official said that there was no rule against photographing the Kremlin if the famous red square was not included in the picture. Miss Thayer did not photograph the red square.

CHANCELLOR SEEKS TO PRESENT LEGAL JUSTIFICATION FOR HUGE SLAUGHTER

PRESIDENT HINDENBURG DENIES REPORT THAT HE IS ILL; KARL ERNST DIES

BERLIN, July 2.—(UP)—After liquidating his political enemies in a bath of blood and bullets, Chancellor Adolf Hitler and his modern "committee of public safety" today sought to present to the world legal justification for the execution of at least 24 high officials. Among those executed was Ernst Roehm, trusted friend of Hitler and head of all storm troops.

"All executions of storm troop leaders," the Nazi high command declared, "followed summary court martial proceedings, before court martial held in Berlin and Munich."

The courts were said to have consisted of one SS (crack bodyguard) commander, one general of the Reichswehr, two civil judges, and two SS leaders acting as lay judges.

Erects Bulwark

Chancellor Hitler erected another bulwark of defense for his strong position when he released telegrams from President Paul von Hindenburg which put the stamp of approval on the "suppression of treasonable machinations" and gave the old warrior's blessing to the "bloody undertakings of the past week-end, which may result in an even higher death toll when the whole truth is known."

The situation throughout Germany was tense but "quiet." Reports of cannonading heard at Munich by unnamed travelers were discounted by direct word from Munich that there was no disorder. Similar reports of trouble in Hamburg and other provincial cities were categorically denied by the government.

From his estate at Neudeck, in East Prussia, the aged field marshal telegraphed Hitler and Hermann Goering his chief cabinet aide, agreeing with their actions, congratulating them for their victory and thanking them for the nation's name.

Death Toll High

As Hindenburg sent his message, the first indication of his views on the sanguinary suppression of the

FLYING BROTHERS ARRIVE AT WARSAW

WARSAW, July 2.—(UP)—The Adamowski brothers of Brooklyn landed their transatlantic plane at the Warsaw airport at 5:40 p. m. today, and were greeted by a wildly cheering crowd of 20,000 citizens.

The two fliers, soda-pop manufacturers with a yearning for flight records, had intended to fly one-stop from New York to the Polish capital.

Their plans were interrupted three times, first when they were forced down for lack of fuel in a field in France, again in Germany, and once more in Poland.

The last stages of their flight were made with the aid of a "home-made" landing skid, fashioned from the tongue of a farm wagon, to replace part of the big Bellanca's tail, which was broken in their first landing.

CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH IN MANSION

SAN MATEO, Cal., July 2.—(UP)—A young mother, socially prominent Mrs. Henriette Erhart Ruggles of New York, screamed hysterically from her bed in Mills hospital today.

"Henry (Henriette), darling, Johnny, sweet-muzzie's coming. Muzzie's coming soon."

But Henriette and Johnny Ruggles could not hear their mother's screams. The tow-headed youngsters, clasped in each other's arms, died yesterday morning when their brown-shingled mansion burned while their mother danced at a nearby night club.

Their governess and a cook were separated from the children in the smoke and flames. Servants saved themselves by leaping from the second floor. Each had thought the other had rescued him. Henriette, 3, and John, 4, died.

FAT MEN'S CLUB IS TRUE TO FORM

WILMINGTON, Mass., July 2.—(UP)—Caterers at the annual outing of the United States Fat Men's club—always an excellent account—checked up today and found their clients had consumed: 700 pounds of turkey; 40 gallons of ice cream; four bags of potatoes; 100 loaves of bread; 100 pounds of cake; 90 pounds of dressing; 100 gallons of cranberry sauce; 200 gallons of iced coffee; 700 pounds of carrots; and 70 pounds of turnips.

Harold H. Westfall, slimmest entrant in the eating contest, weighed 135 pounds, 365 pounds, a margin of three exhaustively walters and a dazed chef. The fall weighs only 240 pounds, tableside.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(UP)—The president's mediation board in the San Francisco Longshoremen's strike has been given authority to speak for the federal government in any emergency which may arise, it was said unofficially at the labor department today. Secret of Labor Frances Perkins has close touch with the situation, telephone.

TWO INJURED WHEN BOAT CATCHES FIRE

SANTA MONICA, Calif., July 2.—(UP)—Panic among the passengers on a fishing boat today was blamed for the injury of two persons aboard the ship Garey late yesterday after fire had broken out in the pilot's booth.

The lives of 22 other persons were endangered by the incident.

SANTA MONICA, July 2. (To the Editor of The Register:) Well, the President left on his cruise aboard what must be Jesse Jones's boat, for it's called the Houston.

I expect that guy Hitler would like to be on a boat headed somewhere about now. Germany has some sort of a custom where they allow you to commit suicide in case you have been found to be against the government. Over here we just let you go on making speeches, and it amounts to about the same thing in the end.

Well, they finally got that Astor wedding over with. There ain't nothing that will do more to add comedy relief to our reading of strikes, wars, revolutions, and world uncertainty, than to read about a society wedding.

DANGER HELD OVER DEATH OF SPOUSE

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—(UP)—Because Jay Thomas, 34, danced with his sister-in-law while his wife lay dying from bullet wounds in a hospital, police today were holding him on charges of suspicion of murder.

Thomas was arrested when he finally appeared at the hospital where his wife had just died from a bullet wound in her heart. The husband said his wife shot herself after she accused him of associating with other women. He declared that after he summoned an ambulance, he washed his hands and went to a beer parlor to meet his wife's sister. After dancing with her for a short time, he went to the hospital to see his wife, he told police.

SAN FRANCISCO PLANS TO OPEN PORT BY FORCE

Union to continue negotiations and delay the shipowners' plans to open the port.

The board still hoped to get union acceptance of the June 16 agreement, signed by union leaders but repudiated by the rank and file, regarding control of longshoremen's hiring halls and recognition of their union.

New violence, meantime, resulted in the arrest of five men and damage to two residences in the San Francisco Bay region. The strike's fourth fatality was recorded at Seattle when Longshoreman Shelby S. Daffon died from a bullet wound received when 75 strikers clashed with dock guards.

Union freight truck drivers struck at Portland and returned to their work after freight line operators met their demands.

CARDENAS ELECTED MEXICO PRESIDENT

MEXICO CITY, July 2.—(UP)—General Lazaro Cardenas, 39-year-old Mexican of pure Indian stock and protégé of General Plutarco Elias Calles, was President-elect of Mexico today. He will succeed President Abelardo L. Rodriguez Dec. 1 for a six-year term.

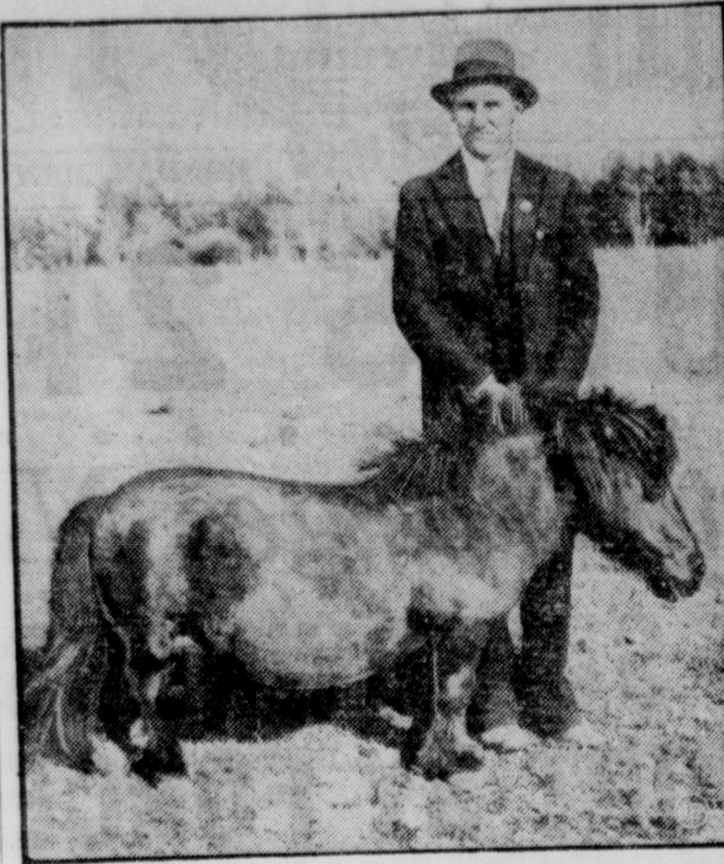

Cardenas amassed the greatest total of ballots in Mexican history and the election was the most peaceful ever held, with only two deaths directly attributable to the voting. Defeated candidates, however, charged their supporters had been beaten and otherwise intimidated.

With 75 per cent of the vote counted the tabulation early today showed: Cardenas, 1,400,000; General Antonio L. Villarreal, opponent, 18,000; Col. Adalberto Tejeda, left socialist, 8,800, and Hernan Laborde, communist, 6,700. Returns from 18 of the 28 states were included.

JAPANESE CABINET TO RESIGN TUESDAY

TOKYO, July 2.—(UP)—Viscount Saito's cabinet, harassed by scandal involving a subordinate official, will submit its resignation to Emperor Hirohito on Tuesday, it was learned reliably today. Members of the cabinet made the decision in a meeting at the residence of Premier Saito.

It's a Horse and No Boloney

It may seem like boloney, but this is a horse. Furthermore, he's one of the most popular horses in Idaho, because when his child jockeys fall off they haven't far to go. It has been suggested that he be sent across the sea as a mount for the Prince of Wales, but his owner, Lester J. Anthony, of Anthony, Idaho, shown with him, wouldn't think of parting with "Shorty the Dachshund."

24 NAZI HEADS ARE EXECUTED AS TRAITORS

storm troop revolt, there were strong indications the death toll might prove high.

It was reported that a dozen more storm troop leaders were executed last night. That would have brought the known list to 24.

But it was understood from an authoritative non-government source that numerous additional storm troop men were executed yesterday afternoon and evening as late as midnight at the Lichterfelde Cadet school.

The informant said that many of them died with the words "Heil Hitler" on their lips.

Karl Ernst, Berlin-Brandenburg leader whose execution was announced, was said to have died with that cry.

It was understood that after an investigation of conditions in the provinces, and a check of arresting agencies, an official communique would be issued listing the number of arrests and deaths.

All sorts of reports were circulating, some undoubtedly exaggerated. It seemed probable, however, that a number of secondary leaders were executed, committed suicide, or were killed in resisting arrest.

Leaders Dead
When the revolt broke Saturday, it was announced that a number of leaders had died in one of those three ways. But official announcements of storm troopers' deaths have listed only names of men executed.

As the government continued its investigation of the revolt, it was learned from an authoritative source that all but one or two members of the staff of Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen, conservative leader, had been arrested.

Hindenburg's telegram was regarded as particularly significant because Papen is listed as a close friend of his, and is supposed to be his intimate political contact.

The telegram also constituted his own denial of reports that the president was desperately ill. His health has not been good for years, as he suffers from chronic prostate trouble.

Papen himself, it was said, was not under arrest, although he was under guard—protective custody—at his home, as was Prince August Wilhelm, fourth son of the former Kaiser.

The text of Hindenburg's telegram to Hitler was: "I gather from reports submitted to me that by energetic intervention you courageously, at the risk of your own life, suppressed all treasonable machinations at the outset."

"You saved the German people from grave danger. I therefore convey to you expressions of sincere, heartfelt thanks and appreciation."

To Goering he wired: "I convey to you an expression of thanks and appreciation for your energetic, successful action in quelling treasonable attempts. With comradely greeting."

"HINDENBURG."

SIXTEEN FIREMEN HURT AT STOCKTON

STOCKTON, Cal., July 2.—(UP)—Sixteen firemen were injured when fire destroyed the Stockton Lumber company's yards and other business property, damaged ten residences badly and fired the roofs of 40 other houses on Sunday. Loss was estimated at between $200,000 and $500,000.

The fire started at the lumber yard which covered a square block, spread to and destroyed a grain packing shed, two motor trucks, and was not known.

REPORT FEW DILLINGER PA AUTO MISHAPS FORCES DOCTO OVER WEEKEND TO TREAT HIM

Traffic accidents were unusually light in Orange county over the week end, with three persons being injured seriously and eight to a minor extent.

Bert Crane, of Anaheim, is unconscious in the Orange County hospital suffering from a possible skull fracture and cuts and bruises as the result of a wreck at Placentia and Orange roads at 4:50 a. m. yesterday. In the same accident, S. Arnold, 36, also of Anaheim, received cuts and bruises and required first aid treatment at the hospital.

Four persons were hurt, oneseriously, when cars driven by Robert D. Hunt, Long Beach, and John Howland, Pasadena, collided on the Coast highway near the Beacon Service station last night. Anna Sue Barrum, 16, Pasadena, was taken to the Newport Beach hospital for shock and a possible fractured arm. Castleman Leisen, 18, another passenger in Howland's car, Howland, and Mrs. P. J. Roberts, ... Long Beach, were slightly hurt.

Edward Roger, Garden Grove, was slightly hurt Saturday evening when his car sheared off a telegraph pole in the 1500 block on West First street. He told police that another car crowded him off the road, according to reports. John Eisenblase, 27, San Diego, and two unidentified companions were shaken up and bruised last night when the new car in which they were riding overturned at high speed on the Coast highway near Corona del Mar. Eisenblase was jailed for drunken driving after the crash.

RAILROAD BOMBING "CLOSED INCIDENT"

PEIPING, July 2.—(UP)—Japanese authorities at Peiping announced today that they considered bombing of the Peiping-Mukden railroad line, in which six Chinese were killed and many injured, a "closed incident."

Col. Shibayama, Japanese military attaché who investigated the case, announced that the Boxer protocol would not be invoked, and that he was confident the Chinese government would punish those guilty.

Creutz took a five year lease on the building which is owned by the Broadway Development company. His store, he said, will be operated as an old-fashioned drug store.

The fountain lunch will be in charge of Claude M. Derden, well known local restaurant and fountain man.

"There's none in the office," said Laird. Splinters of light crashed before his eyes, followed 30 minutes later by slowly returning consciousness.

Officers believed it probable that men were members of the gang of bank robbers who separate from four companions soon after leaving South Bend. It was also possible, they said, that others of the gang remained out of sight in a car nearby. Dr. Laird was unable to identify photographs of Dillinger or others of his known gang.

Search of densely wooded lake country around North Webster, which is about 50 miles southeast of South Bend, revealed no trace of the gang. Today's search was concentrated south of Chicago along the Indiana-Ohio boundary.

BOOKED FOR ASSAULT
Leon B. Smith, 35, 1114 West Sixth street, was booked at the county jail for assault and battery yesterday morning by Santa Ana police, following the signing of a complaint by his wife, Mrs. Mable H. Smith.

BATTER STOLEN
A rental autobody was stolen last week from the E. R. Clem service station, 121 Spurgeon street. It was reported to police yesterday. The body was valued at $5.

Local Briefs
Leonard Baker, the Winbiger Funeral home, is greatly improved at the Santa Ana Valley hospital from illness received in an automobile accident last week.

FOOTLEEN AT JOBB'S WAREHOUSE
Follow the ring of a window, a small amount of potato and inned fruit yesterday in the Orange County Cooperative Unemployed association warehouse on Fourth street by the Santa Fe railway. It was noted by police.

E. S. Smith, custodian of the warehouse, found the window open and pairs in the office scattered about. The only loss from the warehouse was the potatoes and fruit, although it would be difficult to determine the amount he said officers.

Lone Tucant Puts On the Act Play
Roy Till of Placentia, who recently graduated from the one-man graduate class of Valencia high school, was heard a commencement address delivered to him by State Superintendent Vierling Kerser, now pursuing a business administration course at the Orange County Business college. It was found today by J. W. McCormick, president. Tillery entertained students and faculty of the school recently with his two-act play, in which he assumes four characters, using a different makeup for each and changing costumes hurriedly on the stage.

After Cuban President Escaped Bomb
The terrorism that culminated in the massacre of 12 persons in Havana during a parade of the ABC revolutionary organization, nearly cost the life of Carlos Mendieta, Cuban President, a few days previously when a bomb was set off while he dined as a guest of the Navy at Tiscornia. He is shown at right smiling at his good fortune at having escaped with a bruised hand, which Colonel Fulgencia Batista, head of the Cuban Army, holds.

DRUNK CHARGES BRING 17 TO COUNTY JAIL
Seventeen persons were booked at the county jail over the weekend on liquor violations, including four charged with drunken driving and 13 for drunkenness. Another alleged drunken driver was arrested today in Anaheim.

Santa Ana police arrested eight of the total, Placentia officers apprehended four, the California Highway Patrol jailed two of the alleged drunken drivers, Orange officers made two arrests and Tustin police one.

John Eisenbise, 27, San Diego, escaped with minor cuts and bruises but was jailed last night for drunken driving after his new car overturned near Corona del Mar while travelling at a reported speed of more than 60 miles per hour. A man and woman riding with Eisenbise were thrown clear of the wreck and received pavement burns and slight cuts and bruises. They were not held by Captain H. C. Meehan and Officer Horace Inge of the highway patrol, who arrested Eisenbise.

George H. Gerry, 51, and Reid B. Bordwell, 53, both of Upland, were booked at the jail yesterday afternoon by Officers Pete Winslow and A. H. Westermann of Orange. Gerry was charged with drunken driving and Bordwell with drunkenness.

Martin Castillas, 32, Belvedere Gardens, was arrested by Chief John Stanton of Tustin yesterday afternoon and booked at the jail for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was later released on a $150 bail bond.

California Highway Patrolman Oscar Kelly arrested Benjamin F. Pecoy, 48, Wilmar, and booked him at the county jail for drunken driving Saturday afternoon. He was released later on a $150 bail bond.

Dallas Preble, 39, 1720 West Ninth street, released from jail Friday after concluding a 60-day term for drunkenness, was arrested with two other men on the same charge and booked at the jail Saturday night by Officers F. L. Grouard and Jess Buckles. Preble, John Strain, 32, Orange and Edward Ward, 42, East Chestnut avenue, were arrested at Fourth and Lucy streets.

Charles Ray, 38, 1140 West Fourth street, was arrested by Buckles and Grouard at Fourth and French streets and jailed for intoxication at 11:20 p. m. Saturday.

Joe Mendosa, 43, 916 Logan street, was arrested at Logan street and Washington avenue at 2:30 a. m. Sunday by Officer Ralph Pantuse of Placentia, who was coming into Santa Ana. He brought Mendosa to the police station, where Officers William Heard and W. C.

B. Sherwood took him to the county jail for intoxication.

Jose Sineras, 40, 958 Stafford street, was arrested at Fruit street and Grand avenue by Officers C. W. Wolford and Roy Hartley and booked at the jail for drunkenness at 2:50 p. m. yesterday.

Pete Adams, 40, and Al Carlszo, 23, both of Delhi, were arrested at Fourth and Garfield streets last evening and taken to the jail for intoxication by Officers J. W. Foster and C. V. Adams.

Juan Rosales, 29, Colton, told by officers three times to get off the streets, was arrested at 1 a. m. today and booked at the jail for intoxication by Officers Joe Murillo and A. L. Steward. He was arrested in Delhi.

Officer Gus Barnes of Placentia brought three men to the jail for intoxication last night. Y. Palacio, 25, Anaheim, was booked at 5:40 o'clock, Dave Valasquez, 53, Placentia, at 8:27 o'clock and Pedro Ramirez, 65, Placentia, at 10:50 o'clock.

Ramirez is being held as the result of a knife fight in the Richter Beer Garden on Santa Fe avenue in Placentia. Manuel Jaffoya, 52, was seriously wounded and is in a critical condition in the Orange county hospital. Ramirez will probably be faced with charges of assault with a deadly weapon. It was learned from Barnes today.

Manuel Aguirre, arrested early this morning by Officers Cheatum and Sherman of Anaheim pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunken driving. His trial was set for 3 p. m. today and bail set at $150.

Aguirre was taken in custody in the 100 block on East Broadway, Anaheim, when he was driving his automobile on the left side of the street. Taken to the police station he was pronounced intoxicated by a physician.

GETS JAIL TERM
Earl Holt, charged with assault and battery, was sentenced to the county jail for six months by Judge Kenneth Morrison Saturday. He was charged with beating his wife.

WARNING ON RABIES SPREAD ISSUED TODAY

Dog owners should be careful to keep their pets confined in yards as a means of combating the prevalence of rabies. It was announced today by health authorities.

There are now 14 dogs under quarantine for rabies, principally near Seal Beach, Sunset Beach and Surfside colony. Seven dogs have died of rabies within the past 30 days and roving dogs with the disease are a menace to other animals. It was pointed out. There has been one case reported from Santa Ana.

It was also urged that dogs be licensed so that it will be possible to trace ownership of animals in case they are bitten by mad dogs. The fee is 50 cents for the unincorporated areas of the county and $1 in Santa Ana.

When dogs appear sick or are bitten by other dogs, the health department should be notified immediately. It was declared. This will enable the authorities to quarantine suspects, perhaps save the life of the animal, and protect children and adults from being harmed by roving dogs.

Hilarity Marks Legion Affair

HEIM WILL HEAD DAVIS CAMPAIGN

Carl M. Heim, attorney with offices in the Commercial National bank building, has been selected as Santa Ana chairman of the campaign committee for James L. Davis, deputy district attorney and a Democratic candidate for congress, it was announced today.

"I am supporting Davis because, besides having recognized ability as a lawyer, a speaker and a thinker, he also has a real sympathy for right, justice, and equality of opportunity, the same forces which inspire our President," Heim said today.

"Recovery has just begun, and we must continue to support Roosevelt to obtain a more equal distribution of wealth, just wages for labor, pensions for the aged, care for the handicapped and children, and security for jobs and homes."

Local Briefs

Rumors heard on the streets of Santa Ana today that a large Los Angeles drug company has signed a lease for store room on Fourth street near Main in the Otis building, were denied today by William E. Otis, owner of the building, although he said negotiations were pending.

New Air Colossus Will Fly U. S.-Buenos Aires Route

ORIGINATOR OF PENSION PLAN TALKS AT PARK

America has unlimited ability to produce things the people need and only needs to use the marketing ability which is also unlimited, Dr. F. E. Townsend of Long Beach, originator of the Townsend old age revolving pension plan, declared yesterday afternoon when he addressed a large gathering at Birch park to explain the objectives of the pension plan. "Prosperity is ours for the taking," he said, in urging that people over 60 years of age be retired from business and industry, and placed upon government pensions of $200 per month with the requirement that this money be spent within 30 days of its receipt. He pointed out that this step would bring about a rapid circulation of money which is required for prosperity, and would create employment for all, by creating vacancies in the ranks of workers and enabling the aged, as a leisure class, to provide the purchasing power needed for prosperity and stimulate the free flow of goods.

The old age revolving pension is not a panacea for all the world's ills, Dr. Townsend said, but is one step which would enable the intelligence of the people to lift the nation out of its present condition of business and industrial stagnation. Ninety per cent of the voters of Southern California are endorsing the pension plan, the speaker declared, and there are now working organizations in 30 states urging its adoption on a national scale. By the time congress meets in January, there will be a universal demand for old age pension legislation, he predicted, and said his organization hopes to present petitions signed by twenty million American voters to congress on January 2 next in its behalf.

"Our whole system of charity is utterly ridiculous and absurd," said Dr. Townsend. "We are spending a million and a half to maintain a poor farm between here and Los Angeles. Two-thirds of it goes to provide the personnel, and it costs more to feed the employes than the inmates. Wouldn't it be better to give the money direct to those who need it?"

It would require two billion dollars to start the plan in operation, the speaker said, and this would be raised through a sales tax, averaging 10 per cent probably, but with lower rates on necessities than upon luxury purchases by the well-to-do. He estimated that eight million people, at least, would be removed from competition for jobs in his pension plan, who would then be enabled to think and plan a new cultural life for the nation in the leisure time thus provided.

C. J. MacDonald, publicity director for the Townsend organization, said they now have 18 active state organizations and 274 branches carrying the pension plan to the people. And expressed the thanks of the organization to the Register and the Tustin News for publicity articles used. He announced that on Friday President Roosevelt had appointed a committee to investigate pension plans for submission to the next congress, with every indication that the Townsend plan will meet with administration favor. He said all candidates for legislative office would be contacted and asked to sign a questionnaire expressing ing their views on the Townsend plan. J. T. Nichols, Orange county manager of the plan with headquarters at 218 West Fifth street, introduced the speakers and spoke briefly. At the close of the meeting questions were asked from the audience and answered by Dr. Townsend, who said that any citizen over 60 years could qualify for the pension, regardless of their means, and there would be no discrimination. When asked where the money would come from to start the plan in operation, he countered by asking where "the ten billion comes from that was spent this past year."

FIREWORKS BANNED IN CITY LIMITS

Patriotic children in Santa Ana anxious to celebrate the Fourth of July season by shooting fireworks, should be careful where they have their fun.

A long-standing city ordinance prohibits the shooting of fireworks anywhere in the city limits. Police are keeping close watch to enforce the law and assist fire authorities in preventing fires.

A former city ordinance prohibited the selling of fireworks in Santa Ana but this was repealed by the city council several years ago when it was found that the law was avoided by setting up stands on all highways just outside the city limits. The only requirement for selling now is to receive a permit from fire officials.

LEONARD WAKEFIELD CALLED BY DEATH

Leonard S. Wakefield, 62, who came to the United States 13 years ago from England, died here Saturday following a lingering illness.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lizzie Wakefield; one son, Arthur Wakefield, of Santa Ana, and four brothers, Ernest, Percy, Sidney and Branson Wakefield, all of England.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the chapel of the Harrell and Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, with Dwight T. Kenyon, of Tustin, officiating.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Pneumonia Causes Death Of Child

Phyllis Patricia Telf, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Telf, of 1401 North Bristol street, Santa Ana, died Saturday of double pneumonia.

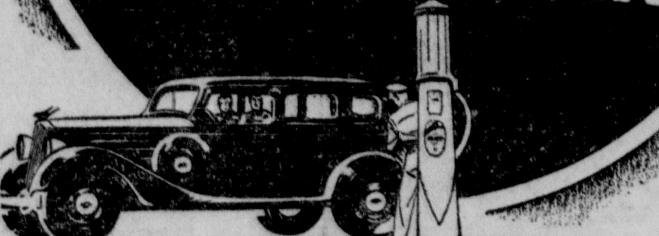

Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Catherine and Cecelia Christina Telf.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow at the St. Joseph Catholic church, under the direction of the Harrell and Brown Funeral home.

Interment will be made in Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

MRS. GUS LEANDER ENTERTAINS GROUP

FULLERTON, July 2.—Mrs. Gus Leander entertained at a delightful party recently for Mrs. J. Arthur Miller and Mrs. J. R. Eberhard, chairman of the arts and crafts and of the home economics sections of the Ebull club during the 1933-34 season. The party was at the Leander home on East Orange-thorpe avenue. Each of the two honor guests was presented with casserole by the groups in appreciation of their services for past year.

The evening was spent at cards. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. DeLand, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stone, Mrs. W. E. Tripp, Mrs. Daisy Reese, Mr. and Mrs. C. Crooke, Mr. and Mrs. G. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sattler, George E. Velgie, Lou Miller, Mrs. Carrie Ford, Miss Fonda Eris, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Eberhard, Mr. and Mrs. Leander and Elina Leander. Mrs. Leander served crab souffle, wafer cake and coffee as refreshments.

COURT PLANS TO IMPOUND DRUNKS' CARS

Drunken drivers from now on will get little consideration in Judge James L. Allen's department of superior court. It was learned today in an interview with the jurist.

Judge Allen has just completed what might be called an experiment which lasted for eight months, in which he has, in common with other prominent jurists of Southern California, inaugurated a plan to impound the cars of drunken drivers, as well as the drivers.

This plan, Judge Allen said, has worked out exceedingly well. "In many cases," Judge Allen declared, "those who are brought in court on drunk driving charges have not paid for their cars. So when we turn their cars over to the sheriff, they are forced to give up their cars or continue payment on something they cannot use."

"I intend to use this plan much more in the future than I have in the past, after having convinced myself of its success. At the same time that the car is given over to the custody of the sheriff, usually for a year, the driver's license is revoked for a similar period."

The jurist pointed out that this plan is not followed in every instance, because "each case must be judged on its own merits."

Black Blotters To Ban Attempts Of Check Forgers

Another obstacle has been placed in the path of would-be check forgers by the Security-First National bank of Los Angeles by equipping all of its writing desks with black blotters instead of the usual white blotting paper, it was announced today.

Investigation into the methods of forgers and embezzlers has disclosed that signatures employed as "models" in some forgeries have been obtained from blotters taken from public writing desks.

White or gray absorbent paper, applied to dry the ink on a check or letter, sometimes bears the perfect imprint of a signature in reverse. Holding the blotter up to a mirror, the criminal not only detects the name of the prospective victim, but discovers also the manner in which he writes his signature.

Consequently, bank officials said, the person who uses a pale blotter and leaves it on a desk or counter, in a public or semi-public place, is liable to become the innocent victim of forgers, embezzlers, black-mallers or other defrauders.

Christian Science

"Christian Science," was the subject of the lesson sermon yesterday at the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Among the Bible citations in the lesson-sermon were these verses from John: "Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches.... And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked."

A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained.... It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

Boulder Dam Job Now Far Ahead of Schedule

Government officials thought Boulder Dam, on the Colorado river, would look like this in November, 1934, the time estimated to have the big project half completed. But the Six Companies, Inc., contractors, have reached the halfway mark 18 months ahead of schedule. This view of construction operations in the canyon alone shows: 1—Five main cableways to carry and dump concrete into dam forms. 2—One of the inlet towers to let water into the power plant tunnels. 3—Main dam, now 400 feet above bedrock foundation—to be made 300 feet higher. 4—Pre-cooling tower (dark body above figure 4) on top of lower diversion dam. 5 and 6—Outlet tunnel portals.

JUDGMENTS AGAINST HEWES RANCH GIVEN

Two judgments on promissory notes secured by mortgages have been granted against the Hewes Ranch company by Judge H. G. Ames in superior court.

The First National bank in Santa Ana was given judgment for $7552 on a note executed and delivered to the bank by the ranch concern September 5, 1929. Interest on the note had been paid up to September 5, 1932, and nothing more had been paid, the complaint stated. Ridley Smith was named commissioner after taking oath and posting $500 bond. His fee was set at $25.

Judgment for $2951.50 was granted to H. M. Elliott and Clara B. Elliott against the Hewes Ranch company. On December 6, 1930, the defendant company executed and delivered to the plaintiffs a note for $3500, secured by a mortgage, on which interest was paid up to Decem-

Representative Of Rosicrucian Order Is Named For S. A.

Mrs. Ray R. Ballard of 608 Fruit street has been appointed commissioner of extension activities of the Rosicrucian order in this community. It was announced today, North American headquarters at San Jose, and each country has its various sectional lodges, chapters, and extension commissioners. It is stated.

"The Rosicrucian order is a fraternity devoted to the dissemination of knowledge of the natural laws of life and the teachings of a philosophy," said Mrs. Ballard today. It is neither a commercial or a religious organization, and the commissioners donate their services and receive no compensation."

Mrs. Ballard urges all local Rosicrucians to attend the national convention of the order, to be held at Rosicrucian Park, San Jose, in July, a feature of which, on July 12, will be the depositing of a parchment scroll, hermetically sealed in a lead tube, in a sphinx mounted upon an eminence in front of the Science building now being completed by the order. The scroll will contain a summary of the 15 principles thought by the membership to be the most fundamental of the order's philosophy and teachings and which should be preserved for posterity. Mrs. Ballard explained today. The fraternity had its traditional origin in Egypt, she said, and placing the scroll in the sphinx repeats the legendary act which is supposed to have placed a similar scroll in the Great Sphinx of Gizeh, Egypt, many hundreds of years ago.

Postal Workers Get Pay Increase

About 70 employees of the Santa Ana postoffice will be benefitted by a five per cent raise. Insular given to all federal employees effective today, according to Postmaster Terry E. Stephenson. This is the second five per cent raise federal employees have received following the 15 per cent reduction as a measure of economy.

TWO FEATURES AT WEST COAST TODAY

"The Hell Cat," a colorful comedy-melodrama featuring Robert Armstrong and Ann Rothery, opens a four-day engagement at the West Coast theater today with a second feature film, "Kiss and Make Up," a farcical comedy presenting Cary Grant and Genevieve Tobin in the leading roles.

In "The Hell Cat," a newspaper reporter meets a wilful society debutante and proceeds to teach her "how to be nice." Edward Everett Horton and Helen Mack have prominent parts in "Kiss and Make Up," a comedy which sounds a humorous diatribe at feminine worship of beauty, from the masculine point of view. A cartoon and World News Events completes the program.

Big Train Bows to Cupid

Walter Johnson hoped that his son, Walter, Jr., would become as good a pitcher as he was. But young Johnson eloped with his high school sweetheart, Jean W. Duvall, and was secretly married at Ellicott City, Md. This convinced Johnson, Sr., that his eldest son was not interested in professional baseball. Young Johnson starred as a pitcher in high school. His famous father's hopes now are Eddie, 16, a second baseman, and Bob, 12. The above photograph of the 18-year-old Johnson and his bride was taken shortly after their marriage was revealed.

As Charley Ruffing goes so Joe Phillips had to be brought up from Chattanooga to fill in.

SENATORS IN RACE
Rogers Hornsby remarked the other day that the rallying of the Washington club behind poor pitching was admirable. The American league champions have remained in the race despite the spottiest kind of hurling, what with Alvin Crowder far below his 20-game form, and other former dependables staggering about. Then, just when a better than .700 clip had them overhauling the leaders, out went Kuhel, one of the main cogs in the most highly geared defensive infield machine in the American league. The consensus is that it has been just as well for the Yankees and Tigers and the remainder of the league that the Washington club has been handicapped. As things are, five clubs remain in the scramble, with two ambitious aggregations standing a chance of bringing the junior loop bunting west for the first time in 14 years. Detroit has given unmistakable evidence that it is going to be tough to shake off, and Cleveland has the pitching strength to stage a sustained drive at any time.

RUFFING EMULATES MERRIWELL
The red-head's feat against the Indians was one of the finest on record. He really was entitled to a no-hit, no-run game, for the one blow charged against him came off the hands of Hal Trosky's shillalah, and was a fly that would have been snared by most any outfielder but the Babe Ruth of 1934. Ruffing is something of a Frank Merriwell. He hit a home run in the tenth inning after striking out 19 to beat Al Thomas and Washington, 1 to 0, in 1932, which he considers his finest baseball feat. He always has been exceptionally formidable against the Senators. While Washington unquestionably will feel the loss of Joe Kuhel, who will be out for more than a month with a broken bone in his ankle, Ruffing and the Yankees still believe the Senators are one of the two clubs they have to beat. Naturally, the other is Detroit.

Connie Mack says that a club that fails to repeat a flag-winning performance is not a great club, and the Washington array is making a brave effort to do this under almost unsurmountable obstacles. From the outside, Joe Cronin's men have been hampered by an epidemic of injuries and illness in their catching department. They only now have Luke Sewell back in the game with any degree of regularity. The veteran Eddie

FIERMONTE AGREES TO BOX ROSENBLUM
NEW YORK, July 2.—(UP)—Enzo Fiermonte, Italian boxer and husband of the former Mrs. Madeleine Fiermonte, agreed today to fight Maxie Rosenbloom for the latter's world light heavyweight championship early in August. Fiermonte, the Roman Adonis who recently announced that he had retired from the ring after the New York state athletic commission refused to sanction his proposed meeting with Rosenbloom, did a right-about-face during a conference with officials of Madison Square Garden.

He assured the officials that he would be willing to meet Rosenbloom in a 15-rounder at the Garden's Long Island bowl, if they could arrange the match. James J. Johnston, Garden promoter, said he thought the commission probably would change its mind about the contest because of pressure being exerted by New York.

Broncos Vanquish Merchants 11-3
Garden Grove mowed down Anaheim's Merchants, 11-3, in an exhibition contest at Garden Grove yesterday. Short several players, Anaheim filled out its lineup with Garden Grove substitutes. The Broncos made five runs in the first inning and six in the fifth. The game was called at the end of the fifth. The score:

WOOD, SHIELDS IN SEMI-FINAL

CLUBMEN TO FETE WILDE, TRACK HERO

Tied as tight as Gordon's knot at the end of their regular schedule, baseball teams representing the Union Oil company and Santa Ana lodge of Elks No. 794 struggle for the Santa Ana City league championship in the Municipal Bowl tonight at 8 o'clock.

Their climactic quarrel not only decides the first-half crown but also counts in the official second-half standings. The second-half of the split schedule starts simultaneously with the First National bank and the Commercial bank nines prying off the lid at 7 o'clock.

Lloyd Lichtenwalter, regarded as the City circuit's outstanding gunner, opposed Claude Gregory in the titular tussle. Lichtenwalter lost only one game during the first round. Nine in a 2-2 pitcher's battle. Lichtenwalter is conceded a slight edge on Gregory by reason of experience, but most observers believe the Elks have more and sharper hitting, and as steady a defense. The outcome is supposedly a tossup.

Probable lineups issued today show Lichtenwalter hurling for the Union Oilers, with Gibson catching, McCullough at first base, Wrigley second, Eaton third, Cannon short, and Kneeland, Johnson and Pitts in the outfield. Gregory and Ojeda will compose the Elks battery, with Styling at first base, Daley second, Clark third, Lacy shortstop, and Herman, Schwarm and Garlock in the gardens.

The complete second-half schedule: July 2—First National Bank vs. Commercial National Bank, 7 p. m.; Elks vs. Union Oil company, 8 p. m.; July 3—M. E. South Juniors vs. M. E. South Seniors, 7 p. m.; July 4—M. E. South Juniors vs. M. E. South Seniors, 7 p. m.; July 5—M. E. South Juniors vs. M. E. South Seniors, 7 p. m.; July 6—M. E. South Juniors vs. M. E. ## CLUBMEN TO FETE WILDE, TRACK HERO

Santa Ana's service clubs held a joint luncheon at James' cafe tomorrow to pay homage to Bob Wilde, 15-year-old high school athlete, who will represent this city in the International Junior Pentathlon finals at Mexico City August 4-8.

Wilde finished second in the Southern California senior meet and will be one of four youths whose traveling expenses will be paid into Mexico by a Los Angeles newspaper.

The Rotary club is sponsoring the luncheon, with Alex Brownridge as program chairman. Charles "Chuck" Webber, Wilde's coach and head of the pentathlon committee in Orange county, also will be a guest of honor.

Other Southland service clubs have purchased for their contestants uniform clothing which all pentathlon entrants will wear at Mexico City. The outfits include flannel trousers, sports coat, cap, sweater, shirts, neckties, shoes, track suit, emblems, track shoes and incidentals.

DECIDE INLAND LEAGUE CROWN FRIDAY NIGHT

Although National Night league ball clubs will be idle this week, awaiting the opening of their second-half drive July 10, the championship chase is just beginning to get warm in the sister American division.

This week's games wind up the inland league's first round. Four teams still have a chance for the singleton, with San Bernardino slightly favored. Yuma Botts team meets Riverside tonight, and by winning can assure itself of no worse than a tie for the flag.

'FIVE-CENT SERIES' LIKELY IN MAJORS
NEW YORK, July 2.—(UP)—As New York clubs in both leagues roar toward that mystical moment—July 4—when baseball south-sayers claim you can pick each league leader as the ultimate fan winner, metropolitan fans are beginning to book odds and talk of a "five-cent series."

The five-cent series means you can reach either Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds on a subway. The Yankees, boosting their lead in the American to a game and a half—the most they have enjoyed since they wilted in the west—are quoted by Jack Doyle, Broadway betting commissioner, at 7-5 odds to cop the pennant.

The same exchange prevails on the Giants, leader in the National. The Ruppert Rifles seem to have all cylinders barking again. Yesterday young Johnny Broaca, Yale's latest gift to baseball, cleaned up the series in Washington, 5-2. It was his third victory in four tries, and it gives the Yanks four able throwing men—Gomez, Ruffing, Murphy and Broaca—bowling at a .700 clip or better.

GUILLEN HEADS JULY 4 BOXING CARNIVAL HERE

Paddy Guillen, mighty mite of the amateurs, and Carmen Tullio, the little Negro who gave him his hardest fight here a few weeks ago, will headline the Fourth of July matinee boxing carnival at the Orange County Athletic club, Matchmaker "Bud" Rutledge announced today.

Perhaps the first holiday leather-slugging program ever attempted here, Wednesday's card will include 12 bouts and feature some of the ablest battlers in the simon-pure game.

The crack Ebony club team of Negro fighters will handle one entire side of the show, which starts at 2:30. In the other bracket will be the outstanding boys developed at Sam Sampson's new highway arena.

Guillen and Tullio are 112-pounders, probably the best of their class in Southern California. They go five rounds in the windup.

Johnny Martinez, Long Beach 200-pounder, and Art Breaux of the Ebony team meet in the five-round semi-final. Martinez was runner-up in the recent state heavyweight in San Francisco.

George Crouch, cleverest of the colored 115-pounders, battles "Bud" Ray of Pasadena in the special event.

Indian Leo Lopez, El Modena's contribution to the manly art, faces Gil La Marr in an attractive preliminary. Lopez recently gave Guillen a terrific battle.

Other bouts: Romeo Lemon, Fullerton, vs. Louie Marshall, Ebony club, 145 pounds; Al Lopez, Placentia, vs. Eddie Jackson, Ebony club, 146 pounds; Babe Rosales, Placentia, vs. "Frenchie" Trout, Ebony club, 118 pounds; Johnny Martinez, Long Beach, vs. Johnny Wilkes, Ebony club, 132 pounds; Art Arroya, Anaheim, vs. Al Baker, Ebony club, 140 pounds; Jesse Sanchez, Santa Ana, vs. Eddie Parker, Ebony club, 133 pounds; Paul Saucedo, Long Beach, vs. Young Flores, Ebony club, 125 pounds.

After the main event, ten members of the Ebony club will engage in a watermelon-eating contest.

TENNIS

Lewis Wetherell of Santa Ana and "Hoots" Chilson of Anaheim tangle on the Frances Willard courts here next Sunday in the men's singles final of the Orange County Public Parks tournament, the winner qualifying for the Southern California eliminations at Los Angeles later in July.

Wetherell, starting with a bye, eliminated Harold Hemus of Fullerton in four sets yesterday. Chilson, seeded second and also drawing a first round bye, put out John Cress of Santa Ana in a long three-set duel.

Chilson and Bill Grafton, also of Anaheim, went into the men's doubles finals along with Toby White and Kenneth Ranney of Santa Ana.

Women's singles and mixed doubles competition were postponed until later this week because of a series of ailments suffered by three of the leading aspirants.

Marjorie Lauderbach returned from the State tournament at Berkeley with an injured arm. Katherine Wood pulled a leg muscle in the invitational tournament at Catalina Island, and Mildred Ward is caring for her husband, Gilmore Ward, who was painfully injured in a recent automobile accident.

SUMMARY OF MEN'S MATCHES:
Men's singles: Harold Hemus defeated Arno Finster, 6-3, 7-5; John Cress d. Orris Davis, 6-1, 6-2; Lewis Wetherell d. Hemus, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4; "Hoots" Chilson d. Cress, 11-9, 6-0, 8-6.

Men's doubles: Harry Nisley and Arno Finster, 6-4, 6-3; Hoots Chilson and Bill Grafton d. Orris Davis and Arno Finster, 6-3, 6-2, 8-6; Toby White and Kenneth Ranney d. Nisley and Zimmerman, 6-3, 7-5.

Santa Ana tennis players were reminded today that 6 p. m. Friday is the deadline for round-robin tournament entries. The books will be closed at that time and a committee meeting called to seed players and draw first-round matches in various classes. Competition begins next Monday on the Willard courts.

Players may register at Jim Smalley's Tennis shop, at Al Jasper's sporting goods store, or with President Frank Bettis, phone 31813, of evenings. The fee is 25 cents.

HE'S VICTOR AT WIMBLEDON

TENNIS OFFICIALS ON GRILL

Lott, Shields Disregard Umpire, Call Own Shots

BRITISH GUESSERS BLINDEST

BY HENRY MCLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 2.—The fence after particularly atrocious decisions. Even when the umpire gave Shields a service break by yelling "good" on a ball that landed in the middle of the doubles alley, Lott refused to become ugly-tempered and simply walked over to the chair, and in a soft voice asked:

"Is the Braille System difficult to learn?"

Finally, however, after a series of decisions so absurd that the gallery began hooting, Lott and Shields took matters in their own hands. After a brief conference at the net, Lott turned to the umpire, and in a voice that carried to all the spectators, announced that from there out, he and Shields would call their own shots.

The gentleman in the chair on Stoecken and Wood was just as fantastic, but he had a weakness—he couldn't take it. He bore up all right for two sets, but shortly after the beginning of the third when Stoecken gently asked if it would be asking too much for him to call balls out that landed three feet beyond the baseline, he demanded to be replaced. The tournament officials apparently thought he should be, for they sent in a substitute without hesitation.

They were bold, too. None of this cautious stuff of calling them wrong on close shots. Their misses were clean masterpieces of any-where from one to 12 inches.

The players behaved admirably. Lott and Shields tried to be subtle with their annoyance at first, limiting this display to throwing racquets on the ground. This falling, they made their feelings a bit more apparent, kicking the ball over

SANTA ANITA ROUTS EASTSIDE NINE, 8-3

The Eastside All-Stars, including Second Baseman Dunnigan and Shortstop Davies who report to Hollywood next spring, went down to defeat before a barrage of Santa Anita baseballs here Sunday, 8-3.

Santa Anita scored four times in the first inning on Joe Koral's walk, Ben Koral's double, Farley's triple, and successive singles by Serna, Munoz and Faris.

Faris, Santa Anita's hurler, was knocked out of the box in the sixth after Askins' single, Morrow's triple, Wilco's single and a lengthy double by Dismang. Shepherd finished, twirling masterfully in the pinches.

"Bono" Koral crashed out three successive doubles to improve his league batting average of .475. The score:

'Ad' Man Denies Jacobs Betrothal

NEWTON, Mass., July 2.—(UP)—Sheldon Fisher Jr., 24-year-old advertising man, said today there was "no truth whatsoever" in a report that he was engaged to Miss Helen Jacobs, tennis champion.

PERRY DEFEATS LOTT: STOECKEN ALSO HUMBLER

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 2.—(UP)—Sidney Wood and Frances X. Shields, both of New York, advanced today to the semi-finals of the All-England tennis championships.

Shields, American champion and seeded No. 2, won the tourney, downed H. W. (Bunny) Austin, English Davis cupper, 4-6, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 7-5.

Wood joined Shields in the round of four by eliminating Vernon G. Kirby, unseeded South African player. Wood won 6-1, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0.

Crawford and Shields will meet in the semi-final match of the upper bracket, while Wood and Perry play the other one. It was assumed that the semi-finals would be played tomorrow.

Perry Eliminates Lott
George Lott of Chicago, U. S. Davis cup doubles player, was not as successful as his mate. He was eliminated in a quarter-final match by Fred Perry of England, ace of the British cup team and No. 2. Perry entered the semi-finals with a 6-4, 2-6, 7-5, 10-5 victory.

Another member of the U. S. team, towering Lester Stoecken of Los Angeles was eliminated by Jack Crawford of Australia, the defending champion. Crawford, seeded first, defeated Stoecken, 7-5, 2-6, 7-5, 6-0.

Shields' victory was achieved after one of the games, up to the first set, was a war of attrition. In the first two sets and in the opening two games of the third set Shields' game was pathetic. His shots refused to function. Meanwhile Austin was playing with the machine-like precision which had gained him the seeding No. 4 in the tourney.

Shields Storms Net
The lanky New Yorker finally found his game and the crowd, which had been cheering Austin, sighed its disappointment as Shields drew up even with the British Davis cup player. The American's cause again seemed hopeless when Austin won his first two games of the final set at love.

Shields then tossed caution, sped to the net behind every steaming shot and in the final game lashed across three aces which were so bulletlike that Austin didn't even wave at them.

Lott bowed to Perry, No. 3 in the tourney, after a four-set struggle. The winning score was 6-4, 2-6, 7-5, 10-8. The Chicago player, probably the outstanding doubles performer in the world, gave England's ace singles player a much harder fight than was expected.

Lott Extends Perry
Lott stormed the net at every opportunity and upset Perry's attack time and again. Frequently he forced the Englishman to take the defensive. He acted Perry several times. However, Lott's backhand was erratic, causing him to net several easy volleys. When Perry broke through with his attack he forced Lott to lob and this invariably proved disastrous. Lott led 5-2 in the fourth set, but Perry rallied and won out.

The Crawford-Stoecken match, which had been anticipated eagerly by the gallery, developed into the dulllest quarter-final contests in years. It produced a minimum of exciting rallies since both players suffered from the terrific heat.

Stoecken, No. 6, made a match of it, despite the weakness of his ground strokes, until five-all in the third set when he gave way to fatigue. The Californian then allowed the Australian to run off eight games in a row, many at love.

Only in the second set did Stoecken's cannonball service bother the Australian. After that Crawford fathomed Stoecken's blazing service and returned it often for winners. Crawford's play was unexpectedly ragged, particularly his service. He made 14 double faults.

Wood was impressive defeating Kirby. He was easily the South African's master except in the third set when the New Yorker became temporarily erratic, and suffered a spell of outting and over-driving. At all other times, however, Wood completely out-served and out-drove the south-paw, who was unable to handle the American's sizzling deliveries.

Jane Sharp Wins Kentucky Tennis

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 2.—(UP)—Frankie Parker of Milwaukee won the Kentucky silver jubilee tennis tournament for the third time Sunday, by defeating Wilmer Hines, Columbia, S. C., 7-5, 6-2, 6-1. Jane Sharp, Pasadena, Cal., won the women's title by defeating Catherine Wolf, Elkhart, Ind., 8-6, 6-2.

WASHINGTON By Paul Mallon

CONGRESSIONAL RELIEF

The inside story of how congressmen slipped over that law allowing themselves to get relief loans from the government is one of the great political classics of all time.

Two senators did it. One is a newcomer from a midwestern state. You probably never have heard his name unless you reside in his state.

A fellow in his home town has a mortgage on one of his houses, but cannot get the relief offered in the home owners mortgage set-up, because the house is owned by a senator.

The senator went around among his friends in the senate, telling them the story and pointing out that such a situation needed correcting.

DISMAY

Another senator, who has large cotton interests in a south Atlantic state, was more interested than anyone else. He is an old-timer who knows how to get things done.

He took the midwesterner's idea and expanded it. A nameless bill was quietly introduced, amending the criminal code so congressmen could borrow from the farm credit administration as well as the mortgage relief administration.

Not a word ever got outside the inner congressional circle about the bill until after it had been passed by the senate and was pending in the house. Then the story got out and members of the house rebelled. Word was slipped from the White House that the bill would be vetoed if the house passed it.

PERSEVERANCE

Such a setback would have dismayed two less spirited men than the two senators. But they had the same pioneering spirit which brought Columbus across the ocean and sent Lindbergh back across it, only they were more modest than either Columbus or Lindbergh and they chose to operate with privacy.

There was just one way for them to make the house and the president accept their little bill, and that was to tuck it into some big bill, marked "must" on the administration program. They chose the housing bill, knowing full well the president could not veto that.

But, so modest were they about their work that no one discovered their prank until four days after congress adjourned. Then President Roosevelt's housing experts came across a strange single sentence, away back in Title V of the bill. It did not stop with opening up the coffers of the FCA and HOLC to congressmen, but took the lid off virtually every other government relief agency as well. Mr. Roosevelt hesitated, but finally signed the bill and said nothing about the matter.

As a result of the successful fruition of this great work of relief for poor congressmen, who only get $9500 a year (plus mileage), a movement is afoot among news-men to strike off a medal to the two persevering senators.

The motif suggested is that of an eel on a background of two crossed palms.

BELOW BOARD

If you think there is any skulduggery behind this business, you are mistaken. You just do not understand. Any congressman can explain it to you.

The explanation is that, after all, congressmen are human beings. Even if they get $9500 a year (plus mileage), some of them are in distress if not actually in want. They have farms, homes, businesses (all kinds of businesses). Other people who have farm, homes, businesses are getting money from the government. It is rank discrimination for congressmen not to get it.

To think otherwise, you must be a suspicious soul. You must believe that the congressmen are going to exert political pressure on government officials to get unfair or even dishonest loans or that they will get more consideration from government relief agencies than the average citizen. You must suspect that, sometime in the future, these same congressmen will next pass a law cancelling the loans they got, so they will not have to pay the money back.

The fact that the transactions are not to be made in public does not mean anything, because the government will have a secret record of them. Also, government appraisers will certainly fix honest values for the loans, even though they may be political appointees of the congressman whose property they evaluate.

And you may rest assured that Democrats will not be loaned more than Republicans, and that the administration would surely not use its private knowledge about the loans to make borrowing congressmen vote the way it wants.

In fact, it is all to be very honest and fair, even if a little below board.

If you think otherwise, you just do not know congressmen.

EXODUS

There will be a minor exodus of deputy administrators and others from the NRA as soon as General Johnson gets out of town on his western tour.

Many have been afraid to resign while Johnson was in town. He always says something which makes his departing employees feel uncomfortable.

PASTOR CITES THINGS RIGHT. WRONG IN U. S.

FULLERTON, July 2.—Taking as his text Isaiah 2:2, "And it shall come to pass in the last days that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all the nations shall flow unto it," the Rev. Graham C. Hunter, yesterday preached at the first of the union services of the Presbyterian and Christian churches at the Christian church on "What's Right With America."

He was assisted in the services by the Rev. George F. Tinsley, pastor of the Christian church, who left soon after for Pacific Palisades, and by C. C. Chapman, founder of the church. Dr. Hunter is to have charge of the two congregations during July, with services at the Christian church, and the Rev. Mr. Tinsley will have charge at the Presbyterian church during August, while Dr. Hunter has his vacation.

The great things about America, things that point to establishment of Christ's Kingdom on earth, according to Dr. Hunter, are an absence of caste, an idealism that is not centered on money, but on equality, self control and hope and courage. The task for all is to bring into each life the thoughts and purposes of Jesus Christ, thoughts of pure fellowship, of sympathy, of service, hope, courage and devotion.

At the opening of the sermon he drew attention to the fact that all is not right in America; he told of the dream of the founders, the dream of equality, and how their traditions have brought to use the finest things we possess. Government, and many others, he said, sought the new world, builded that world on prayer, he said.

"Prayer was the very foundation of this country; citizens of this new world were aiming to dwell in righteousness, and in brotherhood," he declared.

In continuing with a brief sketch of the early history, he drew attention to the lessons learned in helping France, and continuing to the present time, said that the brotherhood and equality is not completely accomplished, as witnessed in the struggle for the workmen for a living wage. According to the Glassford report, he said, the American farmer, in 1929, and prior, only earned $790 a year, average, while the Mexican laborer earned less than $400 a year.

On self control, he appealed to America to maintain that equitable balance, while working for the development of all, and to find in that self control a respect for moral laws. He quoted from the song, "America, the Beautiful," during the sermon.

At the conclusion, he drew attention to the need of incorporating all of Christ in the full program of America that the things that are right with America may be enlarged and the wrongs may be righted.

MISS FOSTER BECOMES BRIDE OF G. E. MATTER

FULLERTON, July 2.—Before a small group of close relatives, Miss Dorothy Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Foster, of the Union avenue, became the bride of George E. Matter, son of Mrs. Sophia Matter, of North Raymond avenue, when the Rev. Charles E. Maltas, pastor of the Fullerton St. Andrews Episcopal church, read the marriage vows at the channel of the church at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

The bride, who was attended by Miss Norma Brastad, of Anaheim, wore a brown suit of sheer silk, with a brown wool hat and shoes to match. Her corsage was made up of orchids, a gift of Dr. J. P. Brastad, who grew them in his orchid house in Anaheim, and of lilies of the valley. Miss Brastad wore a wine colored silk crepe suit and a hat of corresponding shade, and wore a corsage of lilies of the valley. Ralph Henderson was best man.

The father of the bride escorted her to the altar and gave her away. Mrs. George Stephenson played a group of organ numbers prior to the procession. "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's Lohengrin. The altar about which the wedding party assembled was decorated in pastel and white stocks and ferns and palms.

Following the wedding, guests gathered at the Foster home, where cake and coffee were served. The young couple then left for a two weeks trip to Yosemite, Tahoe and other parts of Northern California.

Miss Foster is a graduate of Fullerton Union High school and District Junior college, as is the bridegroom. She attended San Diego Teachers' college and has been teaching the past five years. He is employed by Alexander Anderson in his oil well supply business in Fullerton. They plan to return to Fullerton to make their home after their short trip.

DRIVER FINED $50
FULLERTON, July 2.—After he had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, Ramon Carrillas, 38, of Puente, an orange picker, Saturday was given a fine of $50, or the alternative of 15 days in jail, and had his driver's license suspended for 30 days. His hearing was before Judge Halsey I. Spence.

Although several arrests were made in the first six months of 1933 for reckless driving, none are on file for drunken driving, while during the same period of 1934, 15 convictions were made on drunken driving charges.

The percentages in increase are based on the files, which show that in January, 1932, seven arrests were made for intoxication;

LIQUOR ARRESTS FOR YEAR TO DATE SHOW 73 1-2 PER CENT GAIN RECORDS OF POLICE DISCLOSE

FULLERTON, July 2.—Five times as many drunks were arrested in June of 1934 as were arrested in 1933 for the like period, according to the files at the Fullerton police station. The increase in arrests for the first six months of 1934 over 1933, was 62 1/2 per cent. The increase for 1934 over 1933 was 73 1/3 per cent.

The records show other interesting figures, including the fact that fines for possession of liquor for the period prior to the repeal of the dry laws amounted to more than fines imposed for drunkenness. Arrest for possession is not made now.

The records at the police station show that in 1932 30 drunks were arrested; in 1933, 32 were arrested, and in 1934, 52 were arrested.

Although several arrests were made in the first six months of 1933 for reckless driving, none are on file for drunken driving, while during the same period of 1934, 15 convictions were made on drunken driving charges.

The percentages in increase are based on the files, which show that in January, 1932, seven arrests were made for intoxication;

In February, one; in March, six; in April, four; in May seven, and in June, five, a total of 30; in 1933, two more were made, and in 1934, for the first six months, four were made in January, eight in February, nine in March, seven in April, nine in May, and 15 in June. The percentage of increase of June, 1934, over May, 1934, is more than 63 per cent.

An interesting item is the fact that the revenue derived from convictions on possession of liquor for 1933 was more than the revenue derived from convictions and fines imposed on the many drunks of 1934. In January of 1932, of the four convictions on possession charges, two of the six cases were listed as pending, $135 in fines being collected. In January, 1934, the collections for intoxication convictions, four in number, totalled $35.

DRIVER ARRESTED
FULLERTON, July 2.—John C. Hughes, a Canadian residing at 111 North Nicholas, was arrested yesterday by Fullerton police on a charge of drunken driving. He is out on $150 bail. The hearing date was not set.

DIVISION BOARD TO DIRECT ACTIVITIES

FULLERTON, July 2.—Because Rich Volk, elected chairman of the Merchants' division of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce Friday night, maintained he is unable to serve, the division will function without a chairman, but with six men, including Volk, as a board of directors, directing the affairs. The men are five preceding chairmen. Volk also is a former chairman, having served many years ago. They are Harry V. Williams, Ralph Irwin, William Steinar, James H. Robert, K. H. Enstine and Volk.

Arrange Funeral Of Matthew Duty

FULLERTON, July 2.—Private funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning for Matthew Duty, 68, of La Habra, at the McAulay and Suters Funeral home, Fullerton. The aged man, who is survived by his wife, Jeanette Duty, of La Habra, and by two sisters in Illinois, died yesterday in a hospital. Interment is to be at Loma Vista.

YOU wouldn't knowingly endanger your dog's health. But that's just what hundreds of people are doing—with poorly balanced, "waste-product" foods.

You may face the sad realization when it's too late to save your dog from skin troubles, stomach disorders—illnesses that may do him permanent injury, may actually kill him.

Why take this risk?

Buy This Proven Ration

Today you can get a fully adequate dog food from your grocer. It costs not over a cent or so more than the "cheap" ones.

This proven ration is Balto—made from fresh-caught, whole fish ground and cooked with selected cereals and other ingredients needed in a dog's diet. A leading university, veterinarians, dog fanciers have tested Balto. All say it is safe.

Let these facts guide your choice. Bear in mind, too, that the world's healthiest dogs, the huskies, live chiefly on whole fish.

MAN'S REGARD FOR HIS BODY SERMON TOPIC

The relationship between man and his body, and man's regard for his body, was discussed by the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, pastor of Calvary church at the Sunday morning service, when he spoke on the subject: "The Christian and His Body."

He said, in part: "When God first created man, he formed him from the dust of the ground. This gave him his body. God then breathed into his body the breath of life and man became a living soul. That was not all that was done then. We are told that God 'formed the spirit of man within him.' So a whole man is constituted of body, soul and spirit. As to personality, man is a spirit, but a spirit needs a body for expression and social life. There are evil spirits in the world and they are constantly seeking embodiment. They have no power of expression without it. 'The body is a real work of the hand of God. To deny that is to deny the Scriptures as well as common sense and scientific fact. Adam was created with body, soul and spirit untouched by sin. But he fell and the ruin was complete and universal. The Bible tells of a 'last Adam' who, through the redemption on the cross, redeemed this ruin with the effect that man can be 'born again' as to his spirit. His soul, or life, is saved and his body purchased, awaiting the complete redemption at the coming again of Christ at which time these bodies, now corruptible, are to be made incorruptible like unto His glorious body."

"The relationship of man to his body depends upon whether he is a Christian man or not. The man of the world is typified by the rich farmer of the gospel of Luke. He had much goods laid up for many years; it was now time to 'eat, drink and be merry.' That was all he thought his body was for. All but those who have been saved are governed by this principle. But the Christian is made aware of the fact that his body is 'for the Lord and the Lord for the body' and that he is not his own but has been bought with a price. 'He is told, therefore, to glorify God in his body. He is to govern his life as it affects his body with that fact in view. What a change in Christian living that would make if all who professed allegiance to God actually did that! Have we any honest right to do anything else?'"

PASTOR HOLDS WELDED CHURCH GREATEST NEED OF THE WORLD; DIVISION HELPED BRING CHAOS

The greatest necessity of modern times, with no other issue exceeding it in importance, is the unity of the church of Christ, the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, declared in delivering the sermon at the union church service Sunday evening.

His topic, "That They All May Be One" was one of a series on "The Message of Jesus To the Church," that forms the theme of the union services during the first part of the summer, each pastor in turn dealing with a different phase of the theme.

"Church unity is the challenge of the hour," said the Rev. Buchanan, who pointed out, however, that "if any of us think that we have to do to have Christian unity is simply preach a sermon on it, with someone to move that we unite, and the deed is done, he is mistaken."

"Our union will amount to nothing unless we have unity," he said. "We can tie a dog and cat together and we will have union—but not unity."

"I am not ready for Christian union unless I first love God's people wherever or whoever they are—and I can't love them until I know them."

"It would be hard to believe," he said, "that a Father and Son, so closely interwoven into each others' lives, who had worked together to bring into existence a world with such harmony and beauty, would bring into existence a church that had for its mission the redemption of the world, void of unity, harmony and beauty."

The hurtfulness of church division was pointed out by the speaker, who declared that had the church been united and working to carry out the commands of Christ, there never would have been a world war. "Our divisions," he said, "have helped to throw the world into our present chaotic condition. Had the church of Christ been united, we never would have had our depression, for God's love would have been so lodged in the hearts of men that selfishness could never have gained such a hold in the world."

The Rev. Buchanan deplored the barring of religious teachings from the schools, and the enormous costs of operating denominational schools.

"Here we are, each division of Christ's church, working hard to keep up our organizations, running our selfishness, and 10,000 people in this city needing Christ," he said. "You talk about foreign missions. Christ said 'Jerusalem first.' Christ said 'Santa Ana first.' I hang my head in shame when I think of how Christ gave His blood that our sins might be forgiven, and at least 10,000 people in Santa Ana do not realize that fact; and that one of the reasons is our division. Christians, this is enough to lead us all to our gardens of Gethsemane."

Development Of Leadership Aim Of Church Class

The regular weekly development class of the Southside Church of Christ will be conducted this evening instead of Friday evening, as formerly planned, it was announced today.

The purpose of this service, it was said, is the development of the various talents for leadership among the men of the church. The program consisting of songs, prayer and short talks, is conducted by the younger men. The general public is invited to these classes each Monday evening.

GOSPEL SERIES CLOSED SUNDAY BY EVANGELIST

T. W. Phillips Jr., evangelist from Detroit, Mich., spoke before an impressive audience at the Broadway and Walnut Church of Christ in the regular services yesterday morning. This was the closing day of a splendid gospel meeting. He said, in part:

"Our worship, to be acceptable in the sight of God, must be conducted to meet His divine approval. A thing is not true because we feel all right and believe it to be true, nor because I feel no remorse of conscience when it is practiced, but because it is in the Bible by the direct authority of the Lord. There are three things recognized as authority in religion above the whims and fancies of man:

"(1) A direct statement of inspiration in the New Testament.
"(2) A necessary inference, and
"(3) A positive, divine example.
"There is a great principle involved in the matter of restricting our worship, i. e., I cannot legislate where the word of God has not legislated. In the Great Commission we are told to teach, but the manner and method of teaching is left to our disposal; we are told to 'baptize,' but the place of baptism is left to our convenience. So often custom has enwrapped us in a hide-bound ritual of services, and we feel by the growth of years that that particular way is the only acceptable worship to God.

"As a third point, worship is not acceptable unto our heavenly Father, if there is animosity in my heart toward my fellow-man. My prayers and songs arise no higher than the ceiling."
"If, therefore, thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee, leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift." (Matt. 5:24, 25).

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER GIVES ADVICE ON PREVENTION AND CARE OF PARALYSIS CASES

By K. H. SUTHERLAND, M. D.,
Health Officer, Orange County

Infantile paralysis (epidemic poliomyelitis) is a communicable disease most commonly seen in children. Young grown-ups may have it and for that matter so may anyone no matter what his age.

As I said, the disease is communicable and is passed from one individual to another by personal contact. It is caused by what we call a virus. This word simply means a poison and is used to describe the causative agent because the latter is evidently much smaller than any known bacteria. Claims have been made that the causative agent has been seen with the most powerful microscope, but this fact has never been confirmed. We can detect the virus however, in the nose and throat of infected individuals and in the brain and spinal cord tissue of those who have died from the disease, by the following laboratory procedure:

Filtered nose and throat washings from those known to be infected with the disease, and emulsions from the brain tissues of those who have died from the disease, when injected under suitable anesthetic into the brain of a monkey will cause the monkey to develop infantile paralysis. The monkey is the only animal that is susceptible to this disease and for this reason our laboratory experimental work is handicapped by lack of specimens on which we can work. Thus we know that the virus can be spread by the saliva spray emanating from the mouth and nose of infected individuals and breathed in by other persons who come in close contact with infected individuals.

A few years ago a theory was advanced that insects spread infantile paralysis. There is no evidence of this fact however, and the theory has been pretty generally discarded. Quite recently attention has been directed toward milk as a possible means of transfer, but the case against milk has not been proved. However, pasteurization would kill any virus if it were transmitted that way. Cleanliness in the kitchen and in foodhandling places is essential in controlling the spread of the disease.

What Are Some of the Symptoms of Infantile Paralysis?

First of all, there is a period of general sickness sometimes for several days before the paralysis appears; there is almost always a fever; headache; constipation more frequently than diarrhea; marked irritability when disturbed alternating with drowsiness; not infrequently flushing; usually slight soreness of the throat, sometimes marked sweating, and sometimes difficulty in urination. After a few hours usually, if the disease progresses, we have evidence that the virus is attacking the brain and spinal cord tissues. This is shown by the appearance of a stiffness in the neck such that the head cannot be bent forward to touch the chin on the chest; a stiffness of the back, usually such that the body cannot be easily bent from the hips. There is apt to be a marked soreness of the muscles and a sensitiveness of the skin. This latter is so great at times that any motion is painful.

GEORGE CREEL GROUP MEETS THIS EVENING

Advocating the election of George Creel, of San Francisco, as the staunchest supporter of President Roosevelt and the only Democratic candidate who can be elected governor if nominated at the August 28 primary, H. C. Head, chairman of the Orange County Creel committee has called a meeting of Democrats and other progressive voters, to be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

The meeting will take place at the new Creel headquarters, 311 North Main street, and is open to all voters, both men and women. There will be several short talks. It is announced, and George Head, of Anaheim, will discuss pertinent phases of the political situation, especially in relation to the gubernatorial race.

"We urge all Democratic voters to unite in supporting Creel at the primary because he is the one Democratic candidate who, if nominated, can be elected," said Head today. "And we urge his election by voters of all parties because as governor he can carry out tax economies which no candidate of the present Republican administration would dare make. Tonight's meeting is open to all, and I would urge the voters to come and learn some very important facts about the situation."

A doctor, notify the County Health Department, Santa Ana 3000, and we will try to see that the case has medical attention. If you secure a doctor, carefully follow his instructions. Do not oppose sending the case to the hospital if that is advised and do not oppose a spinal puncture if that seems necessary, and with convalescent blood serum if that is suggested. The latter is the only effective medication that we have.

If the case diagnosed as one of infantile paralysis, three weeks quarantine will have to be established. Do not object to the quarantine, since this isolation to the patient not only prevents the spread of the disease but gives the patient complete quiet and rest when it is most needed. In caring for the patient, three things should be borne in mind. (1) The prevention of deformities. (2) The protection of the muscles from the injury caused by stretching and fatigue. (3) The subsequent re-education of the paralyzed muscles.

Prevention of Deformities
To prevent deformities the child should be placed on a firm mattress. Do not use pillows under the head or limbs. The body should be flat down on the bed and straight out, as the body is when one is standing. The patient should not be allowed to sit up in bed nor in a wheel chair until the doctor permits. Sometimes the paralyzed member is best protected by putting it in a brace or plaster case which can be cut so that the child can be taken out for bathing and later on for exercise.

Lying in bed for many months with plenty of rest is one of the most important things in severe cases. The length of time the child must rest differs in nearly every case.

BATHING: If the doctor recommends it, the patient may be lifted into a tub of warm water. The warm bath is very comforting to the patient. Take care in lifting the child to see that the paralyzed limbs do not hang down or dangle. Adults may be bathed on the bed.

WARMTH: The paralyzed part must be kept warm. This helps the circulation. It helps recovery and also aids in the growth of the limb. Later, during convalescence, always warm the part before exercise.

EXERCISE: After several weeks of rest, if the doctor thinks the patient is ready for it, the muscles may be exercised and re-educated, but this must be done only under the careful direction of the doctor or a trained physiotherapist, if such service can be secured. In re-training or re-educating the muscles, do not allow

Tugwell Meets Chinch Bugs

NEW TYPE GARBAGE TRUCK DEVELOPED HERE IS SUCCESS

There is nothing especially beautiful about a garbage truck but employees in the Santa Ana municipal garage constructed such an improved type of truck several months ago that it is attracting national attention among engineers and municipal sanitation heads.

City Engineer J. L. McBride has just received a request for pictures and specifications on the truck so they can be exhibited and explained at a convention of national sanitation engineers in Vancouver in the near future. The request came from E. A. Rehnke, senior sanitary engineer of the department of public health in Sacramento.

The principal feature of the new truck is a loading device on the front of the bed. This consists of a place to empty garbage cans only a few feet from the ground and eliminates the necessity of hoisting the heavy cans to the top of the truck body. A hoisting device is used to keep pushing the load to the rear of the truck.

FIREWORKS TO BE ATTRACTION AT AUTO RACES

Colorful displays of fireworks will feature the Fourth of July racing program in the Santa Ana Bowl Wednesday night, when the midge auto racers hold their weekly speed events.

American Legion officials have arranged a wide variety of set and display pieces of fireworks, since no high aerial rockets can be used so close in the city. Bombs will be used to open the program and patriotic music and events will be given.

Aside from the fireworks, interest will center in another five-mile match race between "Curly" Mills in 35 and Chester Mortimer in 36. Last week, at the Mid-Summer Motor Pageant, Mills won the first race, Mortimer the second and Mortimer the third, but only because the Mills speedster stalled on the home stretch and nearly overturned.

Bill Bettridge in his No. 7 will be on the track with the other familiar drivers. The qualifying heats are to be concluded by 8 o'clock and the fireworks will begin shortly thereafter.

SINCLAIR CLUBS TO HOLD PICNIC AT BEACH JULY 4

All Upton Sinclair-for-Governor clubs are urged to bring members and friends to the E. P. I. C. Boosters picnic to be held in Newport Beach July Fourth, it was announced today by Harry Gehart, campaign worker.

Charles L. Heiser, World War veteran, will speak on "The Road Ahead—Promise and Danger," on an afternoon program, which also will feature special music and an exhibition by H. Clark, 73-year-old strong man of Santa Ana.

Following the all-day picnic, a mass meeting will be held in Birch park, Santa Ana, at 8 o'clock, at which time Heiser will deliver a second speech, "The Way Out for America."

PIONEER CENTRALIA SCHOOL DISTRICT REACHES END OF LONG AND MEMORABLE TRAIL

Midnight Saturday wrote finis to the Centralia school district, in the northwest section of the county, one of the original school districts of Orange county whose history goes back 60 years, to the time when the only nearby school was in Anaheim.

The district came officially to an end, as a result of action by the board of supervisors, following circulation of numerous petitions from patrons of the district, after a proposed bond issue for a new schoolhouse after the March, 1933, earthquake, had been defeated.

In compliance with the petitions, a portion of the district was added to the Buena Park district, another portion to Magnolia, and a third portion to the Cypress district. As apportioned, the properties were added to the various districts for tax purposes as of March 1 last, but the pioneer Centralia district did not come to an end officially until Saturday at midnight.

The fate of the abandoned Centralia schoolhouse and grounds appears to be in doubt. One report is that the property will revert to William Abplanalp, rancher of the district, who had donated it "for school purposes only." In case of reversion to the donor, no one appears to know what would become of the building, erected 35 years ago, which was damaged in the earthquake and condemned for school purposes.

The Centralia school district had its beginning as a one room frame structure erected by ranchers of the neighborhood on a half-acre of land donated by J. E. Landell, father of Judge Landell, now of San Juan Capistrano.

Judge Landell was one of the eight original pupils the school had, who studied under William Macpherson, father of Mrs. R. T. Jones, well known Orange county resident. In the years since its inception the school had grown from this small beginning to the point of housing 53 pupils, under three teachers, last year. At this time it carried on one of the most ambitious small-school programs in the state, embracing craft work.

WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Tent President Honors
Department Aids of
D. U. V.

Entertaining last week with a luncheon in her home at 1602 North Broadway, Mrs. Addie Gardner, president of Santa Ana D. U. V., complimented her department aids.

The hostess observed a patriotic theme in appointments for the menu served at 12:30 o'clock. Guests were seated at a large table centered with a bouquet of red and white carnations and blue delphiniums. Nutcrackers, place cards and favors were in red, white and blue.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Gardner introduced a clever contest in which Mrs. Elizabeth Smiley scored high, receiving a prize. The aids devoted some time to making plans for the new year.

Guests of Mrs. Gardner included Mrs. Nellie Parker and Mrs. Olive Willard, national aids, while department aids present were Mesdames Beren Baker, Thelma Williamson, Rowena Grout, Elizabeth Smiley, Helen Huntley, Jessie Overton and Mrs. Gardner's mother, Mrs. A. M. Pendleton.

Santa Anas Go to
Gift Shower

Four Santa Anas, Mesdames E. E. Frisby, William Lawrence, J. W. Parkinson and V. C. Shidler, were in Pasadena yesterday attending a shower for Mrs. Shidler's sister-in-law, Mrs. Hugh L. Shnyder of Pasadena, a bride of late spring.

The affair was given in the home of Mrs. Kenneth De Huff, with Mrs. Shidler as co-hostess. Guests were from Pasadena, Alhambra and Los Angeles, and included a former schoolmate of Mrs. Shidler, Mrs. William P. Hand of Los Angeles. Mrs. Hand (Lilah Clark) has achieved success as a stage and radio entertainer. She and Mrs. Shidler had a great deal of reminiscing to do, since they had not seen each other for several years.

Mrs. De Huff and Mrs. Shidler used daintily appointed trays in serving refreshments of coffee, open-faced sandwiches and frosted cakes decorated with little rosebuds. Mrs. Shnyder was shown with miscellaneous gifts.

Amusing Articles

The scavenger hunt promoted Thursday night by members of Sigma Tau Psi sorority resulted in one of the merriest evenings imaginable for members and their escorts, who began and ended the lively adventures at the Costa Mesa home of Miss Mary Jane Sturgeon.

A list of twenty widely contrasted articles was given each couple and at 8 o'clock all were underway to collect the booty. While seemingly among the most simple of the list to garner in, the two things that offered the greatest difficulty were a 1913 penny and a Santa Ana laundry coat hanger. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hoyte were the only couple to return at 11 o'clock to the home of their hostess.

Complete list of the competing articles, and had looked through several hundred pennies to get the coveted one of 1913. Miss Mary Jane Sturgeon and Clarke Stevens came in second best, and like the winners, were rewarded with a prize. The merry hunt was succeeded by a buffet supper at which Miss Sturgeon presided assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ann Saunders, after which the young people danced.

Couples taking part in the hunt were Miss Sturgeon and Mr. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyte, Mrs. Saunders and Harry Kiefer, Miss Virginia Swelges and Bob Beauchamp, Miss Jean Rowland and David Hill, Miss Jean House and Clifford Rumaek, Miss Genevieve Glover and Bud Swelges, Miss Betty Rowland and Don Stuer, Miss Betty Barkman and Clarence Rousseau.

ANN MEREDITH'S
MIXING

EAT AND GROW SLIM
Breakfast

1-2 cantaloupes or
2-4 cup berries with
1-2 tsp. sugar, no cream
2 slices zwiebach
1 scrambled egg with 1 tsp butter
1 cup coffee with 1-4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar
Calory total, 260.

The given total is with a choice of cantaloupe. If berries and sugar are chosen, add 25 calories to the total.

Warm the zwiebach, butter one slice very lightly, dip the other slice in hot water and pour the scrambled egg over it. Two tablespoons of milk have been allowed for scrambling the egg.

The Milk and Orange Juice Diet At the end of the second week of this diet loss of weight was 5 pounds. Interesting, but not an issue, for this diet was used to rid myself of neuritis and chronic constipation. My experience shows that while the neuritis still persists, the attacks are shorter and less painful, and that very slowly the intestinal tissues are regaining tone with a lessening of the need for enemas and cathartics.

The orange juice and milk still make up the larger part of the day's food, replaced at night with a meal of cooked green vegetables dressed with 1 tablespoonful of butter. This week (2) a codded egg has been added to the vegetable plate.

Resume of Diet Menu
7:30—8 ounces orange juice
8:00—2 glasses milk with cream removed
10:00—3 ounces orange juice
12:00 m.—1 cup coffee with 1 glass of hot milk
2 p. m.—3 ounces orange juice
4 p. m.—Coffee or tea with milk
6 p. m.—2 glasses milk, hot or cold
9:30 p. m.—3 ounces orange juice.

Beginning second week the 6 o'clock milk was replaced with the vegetable meal, with orange juice before or at bedtime. The third week adds one egg to the vegetable plate and goes on with the same milk and orange juice allowed for the second week.

Canned Vegetable Salad No doubt you've bought the canned mixed vegetables for salad or creaming. Since the commercial product is rather expensive, why not can these things now? They would need parboiling for different lengths of time, then packed in layers and processed for 3 hours. The best combination would be green peas, green string beans, carrots and green lima beans.

Cube scraped carrots and cook them 10 minutes, adding 1 tbs. of sugar to each quart of water. Use the smallest tenderest string beans available, cut in half-inch lengths and parboiled 20 minutes in salt water. Cook green peas and green lima beans with a little sugar for 5 minutes. Drain and blanch each vegetable separately. (Blanch by rinsing in ice water); sterilize pint jars, pack the vegetables in layers, add 1-2 tsp. of salt to each pint jar, fill jars to 1-2 inch of top with boiling water, adjust rubbers and tops and set the jars in boiling water up to the shoulder of the jars. As soon as the water boils, time the processing, and boil 3 hours. Take from the bath, tighten the tops, and store in a cool cupboard when cold.

Tuesday: Filled Cookies, grand for picnics and snacks for hungry young sprouts.

Past Chiefs of Lodge
Welcome Two New Members

Past most excellent chiefs of Tustin Pythian Sisters elected Mesdames Laura Sanborn and Emma Cochems to membership in their organization at a meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Etta Powers, 814 South Birch street.

Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Carol Reynolds and Mrs. Eureka Osborn were hostesses to the group, composed of Pythian Sisters of Santa Ana and Tustin. Guessing games were played, with prizes going to Mrs. Etta Matthews and Mrs. Lottie Nordstrom.

Small tables were utilized in serving a two course supper late in the evening.

Those present, with the hostesses, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Osborn, were Mesdames Emma K. Wassum, Dorothy Padilla, Gladys Percezi, Sarah Matthews, Edith Matthews, Effie Matthews, Lavenia Penman, Lottie Nordstrom, Jessie Kiser, Ora Collier, Emma Cochems, Laura Sanborn and Miss Minnie Penman.

Honeymoon Travels Take Couple to Old Mexico

Miss Marian B. Sumner, daughter of Mrs. L. B. Boyce of Artes, N. M., and Roy C. Dimock, son of D. W. Dimock, 2102 Oak street, were married at a quiet ceremony read Saturday, June 30 at 9 o'clock at the courthouse, with Judge Kenneth Morrison officiating.

The bride wore a blue swaggar suit with white accessories and a pretty corsage bouquet. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Delton Cushman of this city. Completing the group present for the ceremony were Miss Sumner's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hannah, 607 East Pine street.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Dimock left for a honeymoon trip down into Mexico. Upon their return they will make their home in Santa Ana, where the bridegroom is employed with the Valencia Trucking company.

Mr. Dimock, a native of this community, was graduated from Huntington Beach high school. His bride, a former Coloradoan, came to this city three years ago from Long Beach and has been in the employ of the Charcoal Broiler. She has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Hannah.

Club Meeting Features
Gift Exchange

Members of an informal bridge club were entertained Thursday evening when they met in the home of Miss Miriam Samuelson, 2021 Greenleaf street. The usual round of bridge was enjoyed, with first prize going to Miss Helen Demetriou, and second to Mrs. Clyde Higgins. A special guest prize of a small address book was presented to Miss Leona Faltis, of Minneapolis, Minn., a house guest of one of the club members, Miss Marjorie Berkner.

After each member had endorsed the book with her address, an amusing white elephant gift exchange was held. Each member was required to explain why she chose to exchange her particular gift, which added to the merriment. A refreshment course completed the evening.

Present were Mrs. Clyde Higgins, and the Misses Dorothy Dunbar, Helen Demetriou, May Haesen-Jaeger, Marjorie Berkner, two guests, Miss Leona Faltis, of Minneapolis, and Miss Helen Campbell, and the hostess.

Many Friends Assemble
For Croddy-Mathes
Wedding Rites

Although invitations to the wedding on Saturday afternoon of Miss Maurine Mathes and William Floyd Croddy, were issued with the utmost informality, the popularity of these two well known young people drew scores of close friends to the Church of the Messiah for the 4 o'clock rites.

Guests found the beauty of the church enhanced by festoons of greenery, quantities of pink gladioluses and white carnations, and the subdued light of innumerable candles. Miss Ruth Armstrong was at the organ for the bridal music, which included the traditional wedding marches, Wagner's as the processional and Mendelssohn's as the recessional, and a solo group by Mr. Croddy's sister, Mrs. Lynn C. Graves (Loraine Croddy). Mrs. Graves sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "I Love You" and "Because."

Miss Mathes, blonde and very lovely, chose moss crepe in the softest of blush pink for her wedding gown, wearing in it a picture hat of stitched maline in the same delicate hue. She carried gardenias and lilies of the valley, and in observing the customary wedding day traditions, combined the "something old and something borrowed," in the form of her mother's ring, now the prized possession of her sister, Miss Marjorie Ann Mathes.

Miss Marjorie Ann Mathes was maid of honor, and wore a filmy frock of pale yellow organza with stitched maline hat to match. Her flowers, violets in deep blue, lent a charming color contrast. Mr. Croddy had the assistance of Homer C. Chaney as best man, and of John Galbraith of Yuma, Ariz., and Stanley Clem as ushers.

The marriage service of the Episcopal church was read by the rector, the Rev. William J. Hatter, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, W. C. Mathes.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Croddy lingered for a brief interval at the church to receive the good wishes of their guests. Some of the closest friends preceded them to the bride's apartments, 1420 North Broadway, there to speed them on their way as they departed for a honeymoon at Catalina. Mr. Croddy works for traveling, a cheer crew in navy blue, with the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will make their home at La Hacienda apartments.

Mr. Croddy, the son of 801 West Third street, went into real estate and insurance immediately after graduation from Santa Ana High school. He has served the Santa Ana Realty board as president, and is now a director in the California Real Estate association. He has been prominent in various social and civic enterprises here.

His bride is a niece of Mrs. Lillie Hamilton, 816 North Ross street. She is a member of the Willard Junior High school staff and has taught here since her graduation from U. C. L. A. Her high school work was in Texas. At the university she was affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi, and her interest in sororities is manifested in Panhellenic activities. She is the newly elected president of Panhellenic society and is active in Junior Ebell.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were the bride's two brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burke Mathes and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mathes, Miss Myrtle Vencil and Giles Talbot, all of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert See of San Diego, and Mr. and Mrs. John Galbraith of Yuma.

Ceremony This Morning Unites Couple in Marriage

Miss Alberta Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smith of Fort Dodge, Ia., and Everett A. McKinney, son of Mrs. Florence McKinney, 815 Cypress street, were married this morning at 8 o'clock in Orange Avenue Christian church. Quantities of flowers added to the charms of the setting.

The Rev. John T. Stivers, pastor, read the ceremony, for which a liturgical group of relatives and close friends had gathered. The bride was very charming in an orchid frock, which pastel tints predominated. A chaplet of orange blossoms in her hair, and a bouquet of baby dahlias gave special bridal touches to her costume.

The newly married couple left after the rites for an automobile trip through Northern California and Oregon. After July 20 they will be at home at 1341 South Parton street.

Mr. McKinney, a graduate of Santa Ana High school with the class of 1934, has been in the battery business in this city for the past ten years.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Martha Nibel, Mrs. Dania Loptien, Leonard Snedaker, Leo Snedaker, Mrs. Florence McKinney, this city, Howard Shugart and Mrs. H. A. Shugart, Olive, Mr. and Mrs. Sonberg and children, of Long Beach, Mrs. Boneberg is Mr. McKinney's sister.

Neighborhood Club
Has Afternoon Meeting

Neighborhood club members spent a pleasant afternoon Friday as guests in the home of Mrs. J. J. Thompson, 813 Garfield street. The group did fancy work until the afternoon's close, when a refreshing dessert course was served at a table centered with sunny nasturtiums.

The hostess had assistance of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Huston, in serving. A special guest of the day was another daughter of Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Bessie Arnold of Tillamook, Ore. Others sharing the event with Mrs. Thompson were Mesdames Frank Calkins, R. E. McBurney, Joe Hauptert, Harvey Groover, Roscoe Dietrich, David Caldwell.

Friends Take Part in Farewell Party for Santa Ana

Mrs. P. T. Isherwood was complimented at a farewell party given Friday night in the home of Mrs. Edward Cochems, 323 East Chestnut street.

Mr. and Mrs. Isherwood, 719 East Walnut street, are leaving soon to make their home in Humboldt county, Calif. They had been invited to the Cochems home for dinner, together with their daughter, Mrs. S. F. Bernier and Mrs. J. D. Sanborn. Mrs. Cochems had conspired with other friends, who arrived later in the evening for a surprise event.

Cards and other games were played informally. Mrs. Isherwood was presented with gifts, including a package from the Mayflower club of which she is a member.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served at the evening's close.

Those present were Mesdames Edward Cochems, Etta Powers, William Lawrence, V. C. Shidler, Robert E. Smith, Herman Smith, S. F. Bernier, Margaret Culver, Florence Ford, J. D. Sanborn, J. H. Patison, Fannie Cunningham, Alma Anderson, Louella Welch and Mrs. Isherwood.

Drum Corps and Drill
Team Entertain
With Dance

Joining forces in giving a gala dance Saturday night in Veterans hall, members of American Legion Drum corps and the Legion Auxiliary Drill team met with the enthusiastic response of 450 members and guests. Proceeds will be used in defraying the two groups' expenses to the convention in August at San Francisco.

Large tables decked with bright-hued flowers, had been arranged in the ballroom so that dancers might be comfortably seated between dances when sandwiches and cooling punch were served. Late in the evening such a crowd had assembled that tables were placed in the lounge as well. Contributing to the cabaret effect were drum corps members, wearing white coats in their capacities as waiters for the event.

Roy Clark's 10-piece colored orchestra, "The Revelers" provided music for dancing. Marion Dodder was general chairman of the dance. He worked with assistance of Miss Gladys Young and Dr. F. K. Halber, drill team and drum corps leaders; Mrs. Dodder, chairman of decorations; Charles Cleary, kitchen chairman; Ernest Wimbler, business manager; Harold Rasmussen, house chairman.

YOU and your Friends
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith, 2397 North Flower street, have received word of the arrival of their daughter, Miss Carol Smith, in Charles City, Ia., en route to Chicago and other eastern points for a month's stay. She left this city in company with Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Stark, South Van Ness avenue, going with them as far as Mason City, Ia. The Starks went on to Minnesota, their destination, and Miss Smith traveled to Charles City, her former home, where she will visit with relatives before continuing on to Chicago for the exposition.

Judge and Mrs. J. P. Streuber have just arrived at the home of Mrs. Streuber's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. John Wehrly, 313 Spurgeon street, for a three weeks' visit. Judge and Mrs. Streuber motored from Alton, Ill., where they were joined by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Streuber of Los Angeles. The William Streubers had been in New York City and other points in the east since September as artists appearing on the Federal Radio Chain.

Miss Enid Roberta Bowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bowles of Ebell apartments, left this morning for an interesting summer trip to Berkeley and Etina.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Waynick, 1908 North Flower street, have gone to Laguna Beach for an extended stay.

Miss Muriel Woodland returned Saturday to her home in Los Angeles, concluding a three-day visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dawson and son, Raymond Dawson, 521 South Birch street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Thompson, 813 Garfield street, have as houseguests, their daughter and grandson, Mrs. Bessie Arnold and son, Billie Arnold of Tillamook, Ore., who are spending two months in this city. Mrs. Arnold has taught school in Tillamook for the past six years.

Mrs. Lena G. Hewitt, 1702 Spurgeon street, was in Los Angeles Saturday attending a luncheon honoring Mrs. Katherine Flood, past national president of Daughters of Union Veterans.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. MacMullen, 2418 Hellotrope Drive, have returned from Forest Home where they spent the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Low, 1420 North Broadway, left yesterday for a month's stay in Los Angeles after which they will spend the remainder of the summer in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mason and son Raymond left Saturday for their home in Modesto after a week's visit with Santa Ana friends and relatives. One of the pleasantest features of their stay was the birthday party complimenting Mrs. Mason on Friday when relatives met in the home of Miss Rose M. Young, 1412 North Broadway, the girlhood home of both Miss Young and Mrs. Mason.

Several Santa Anas were at Anaheim park Friday attending an all day affair for members of W. R. C. Federation No. 1. Picnic luncheon was enjoyed at noon. Present from this city were Mrs. Estelle Grey, Mrs. Ida Millen, president of the federation; Mrs. Lula Hall, the department president of the local corps and Mesdames Beatrice Hoessler, Bertha Thompson, Hattie Corad, Letta Morgan, Mabel Elliott and Mr. C. F. Millen.

Mrs. John G. Dayton (Virginia Powell) has concluded a visit with her mother, Mrs. Salie Powell, 117 El Portal, and has gone to Chicago, where she will be met by Mr. Dayton. The couple will visit the exposition, and then go to Mt. Pleasant, Mich. to make their home. Mrs. Dayton was accompanied last week to Los Angeles where she boarded the train, by her mother and brother, Mrs. Powell and Henry Powell. En route to the city the family group stopped at San Gabriel to have dinner with Mrs. Powell's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Peabody.

IRVINE

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Fellowes, of Orange, are the parents of a daughter, born June 22. The baby weighed seven pounds and six ounces and has been named Justine Elsie for her two grandmothers. Before her marriage, Mrs. Fellowes was Miss Olga McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Staples.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hazen and two daughters, Maxine and Vivian, have left for a vacation trip of several weeks with friends in the east and also to visit the Century of Progress, at Chicago.

DINNER OBSERVES
25TH ANNIVERSARY

ORANGE, July 2.—The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Harper was the incentive for a beautifully appointed dinner party given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrison in the gardens surrounding their lovely home in the Santa Ana canyon.

A pink and green color scheme was attractively carried out in table appointments, with a huge wedding cake, frosted in white and topped with a miniature bride and groom, centering the table. Tall pink tapers, on either side of the cake, were mounted in silver bells.

Following the dinner, a program and games were enjoyed. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Harper, Miss Cary Harper, Miss Helen Harper, Mrs. Frances Harper Davis, Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, Mrs. Erna Thatcher, Ernest Thatcher, Mrs. W. H. Culter and Miss Jean Kirkpatrick, both of Fontana; Miss Ethel Harrison, Loren Harrison and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrison.

whether it lands a member on the regulating commission. The boys are planning to set up a board of their own to advise the commission and help it over the rough spots. They point to Secretary Roper's Planning and Research Council—by which industry is decidedly helping to govern itself—and inquire who they shouldn't do the same. They figure the commission should be duly grateful.

If the plan works the board will be set up by the Association of Stock Exchange members. That's an important distinction. The Association's leaders—whenever not outstandingly liberal—are certainly more progressive than Richard Whitney and his crowd. They recognize that regulation has come to stay and are authentically willing to adapt themselves to it as best they can. They are keen to get back in the public's good graces. The commission needn't be too suspicious of gift horses. The Association's bid for Washington favor leads some of the unconstructed to refer to its heads as teacher's pets. But their better sense of public relations is likely to increase their influence in Exchange affairs while that of the Old Guard wanes.

LEADERSHIP

E. A. Pierce—mentioned as a possible candidate for Whitney's job before the last Exchange election—la vice president of the Association. His outspoken statement that the brokerage business can perfectly well continue to function under regulation—not originally intended for publication—was in sharp contrast to Whitney's grudging announcement of cooperation which Pierce's firm pointedly did not sign.

There's no doubt that Pierce reflected the views of Wall Street's younger generation—whose discontent with the Whitney regime has been kept muted. Now they well they've found leadership and many insiders predict a complete new deal for the Exchange at its next election.

SPREE

Stories are current in Wall Street that big-time speculators are due to take a final fling at the market in July. Everything is very circumstantial. The operators are due to place buying orders in London which will send prices kiting in the manner of last year's alcohol pools and then step out and leave the public with the bag.

Probably half of Wall Street believes the yarn and is waiting with bated breath for the fireworks to commence. There's just one thing wrong with it. The rumors have been spread so assiduously they have all the earmarks of the ancient come-on game.

The object? If enough would-be insiders believe it they'll start buying now to beat the gun. That would tend to raise prices just as if the big operators were active themselves and enable the said operators to get rid of their present holdings at higher levels with-out having to put more money into the market. Very simple.

So if you see the stock market etching a spectacular spree in

UTILITIES

The naming of Wendell L. Wilkie as chairman of Commonwealth and Southern—he has run the company for the past year—accentuates the clash between two opposing schools of utility thought. Wilkie believes the utilities can best combat oppressive legislation by cleaning up abuses themselves instead of standing by and howling murder. In this he differs radically from such hard-boiled stand-patters as Thomas N. McCarter—head of the Edison Institute and Public Service of New Jersey—and C. E. Groesbeck of Electric Bond and Share. Commonwealth and Southern has already taken long strides towards simplifying its corporate structure in line with the New Deal trend. Also—thanks to Wilkie's tact and cooperation—it has suffered less from friction with TVA. Electric Bond and Share although its stake in the territory is considerably larger.

Up to now the hard-boiled school has had things pretty much its own way in the industry. Wilkie's emergency into the limelight may change the picture.

TRAVEL

If you thought the New Deal dollar would put a crimp in tourist travel to Europe you were wrong. Travel men say this will be their best summer since '29. They credit much of their good luck to cuts in tourist rates by European hotels and railroads—some as much as 60 per cent—which make dollar costs about what they were pre-New Deal.

HEADACHE

The Airlines have some brand new grief—this time about air express. They carried nearly two million pounds last year at rates running from $1.25 a pound up. Now that they've got the reduction in airmail postage they've been yelling for they find express can be airmailed for 36 cents a pound.

So their precious express baby goes blooey if they don't cut rates. And Mr. Farley will get mad if they do. Once again the lines have to be reached for the aspirin.

SIDELIGHTS

Local aviation circles aren't too pleased with Elliott Roosevelt's election as vice president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce. . . . Critics call at the kind of dumb lobbying that's put the industry in trouble before.

Insiders estimate that half a billion dollars in real estate securities will be floated between now and the end of the year. . . . Germany is likely to ask her domestic bondholders to take a "voluntary" reduction of interest.

DECLARES GOD IS IGNORED AND MAN GLORIFIED

EL MODENA, July 2.—Declaring that "the reason the church pews are empty is because God is ignored and man glorified," the Rev. James Flisk, pastor of the El Modena Friends church, preached Sunday on the words found in Nehemiah 4:5, "So we built the walls and all the wall was joined together into the wall thereof; for the people had a mind to work."

His sermon, in part, follows: "The walls of Jerusalem had been torn down and burned and all the worthy young men had been taken away into captivity. Nehemiah was one of these, and he made inquiry and when he found that the walls had been burned and that Jerusalem was a prey to her enemies, he felt he must try to do something about it."

"When that city was overcome the walls were torn down and those there were not able to protect each other. They were a prey to the people around them. If ever in the world the orthodox who love God need to read their Bibles and need to come together and build the walls, it is now."

This Nehemiah, cup-bearer, as I read of him I noticed that he prayed and prayed earnestly to God that he might move the heart of the king. And when he appeared before the king his face was pale and the king noticed it and made inquiry. This boy lifted his heart to God that he might find favor with the king. He was burdened for Jerusalem. It should move us as we think over the destruction of the walls of the church. So he had a concern, he was burdened for the old paths, for the faith of his fathers. He wanted to still keep the light burning."

"If we continue to go on as we are, it won't be long until Jesus is unknown to this generation. There is less prayer than has ever been known. If we that are present here tonight would put ourselves to the task and pray we could fill this church. That king couldn't do anything but what he did do. Nehemiah had asked God and the king wanted to do it. It was out of keeping and contrary to his customs."

"The reason the church pews are empty is because God is ignored and man glorified. The people had a mind to work. When they started people didn't think it possible. Nehemiah had papers from the king. He asked God for the things he needed. He knew God and wasn't afraid of exhausting His store. He even had letters to the men who had the forests. Every man had a mind to work and they started right. So the walls went up and when those around them tried to hinder, Nehemiah said, 'I am doing a great work and I haven't time to come down. The greatest work any man can do is to save a soul from perdition. Some of us are afraid to say God answers prayer. We are weak, but if we have a mind to work we will get results. If God moved the heart of that king, we have the same God. God can move on loans and kins if you pray and stay and walk with God."

CITES NEED OF PEACE, JUSTICE AND SECURITY

ORANGE, July 2.—The nations of the world must build for peace rather than war if they are to endure, the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the Orange Christian church, declared yesterday morning at a special patriotic service in observance of Independence day, with members of the various patriotic organizations of the city as special guests.

"America must have a re-education of independence to maintain the welfare of the nation and preserve the ideals of liberty of worship, liberty of action, life, and the pursuit of happiness upon which it was founded," he said. "These ideals can only thrive in a true democracy and are impossible when a nation gives itself over to despotism or dictatorship of any kind, such as now prevails in Germany, Russia and Italy."

Pointing out that America stands for liberty under the law, the pastor stressed the importance of respecting the laws which have been enacted for the protection of society and its members, and the development of a civic consciousness of good citizenship, that American ideals and institutions may be preserved.

"The height of patriotism in these trying days is to build for peace, for economic justice, for racial justice, for security for the individual in old age, and for real manhood and Americanism," the Rev. Mr. Minck said.

A solo, "Recessional," was played by Mrs. Leon Dea Larzes, and roll call was held honoring those uniting with the church in 1928 and 1929.

HILDA FRICK BECOMES BRIDE OF AUBREY HORN

ORANGE, July 2.—At a beautiful single ring ceremony, Miss Hilda Frick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph M. Frick of 1295 East Palmira avenue, became the bride of Aubrey Horn of South Pasadena.

The ceremony took place Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Memorial hall of St. John's Lutheran church, which was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion. The Rev. George Theis of South Pasadena read the service which united the happy couple. Lohengrin's wedding march was played by William Batterman.

The bride, who was gown in eggshell satin with short jacket, wore a full length veil caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Dorothea Anderson of Pasadena in white organza, who carried a bouquet of white sweet peas.

The groom, who is a well known young architect of South Pasadena, was attended by his brother, Wilfred Horn.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at which the bride cut the wedding cake, which was served with ice cream and coffee. The couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

The bride is a graduate of the Orange high school and attended the Santa Ana Junior college and also the university at Berkeley. She is a former employee of Rankin's department store, Santa Ana.

Sunshine
at no increase in cost!

"EAT A SUNBEAM!" says one of the most famous scientists in America. The particular sunbeam he tells us to eat is the one that the smoke and dust of cities, the houses and buildings we live and work in, and the clothes we wear, keep from reaching us. And this is the sunbeam that would create for us the precious vitamin D if it could shine upon us.

We must have this vitamin. Children must have it to make their bones grow straight and strong. Expectant and nursing mothers must have it for the protection of the bones and teeth both of the mother and the child. It is highly probable that all people of all ages would be greatly benefited by a more adequate supply.

So the famous scientist says, "Eat a Sunbeam." We make them for you to eat. By creating the ultra-violet rays in our plants and allowing them to shine on the milk, we put an extra supply of the precious vitamin D in Pet Milk. That is nature's own method of creating vitamin D.

Pet Milk has long been noted for its sure safety, uniform double-richness, and ready digestibility. Thousands of physicians have prescribed Pet Milk for babies because of these extraordinary qualities.

Many thousands of women use Pet Milk for all their milk and cream needs because the double-richness enables them more easily to put in their families' food the quantity of milk they ought to have.

Irradiated Pet Milk—enriched with vitamin D—now possesses the further virtue of enabling you to give to all your family the additional protection which this precious vitamin provides against the tragic results of faulty bones and teeth, not only in childhood but in later life.

And this added protection costs you nothing. The cost of Pet Milk is not increased because of irradiation. It costs less generally than ordinary milk.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The rain poured down a little while and then the youngster, with a smile, said, "Well, the ground has had enough, so now I'll make it stop."

"You Tinymites will shortly see that I'm as clever as can be. When I have sung my little song, you will not see a drop."

And then he started in to sing. The song was quite a pretty thing. Oh, rain, wet rain, you've watered flowers, and we are glad you're here.

"But now, it's time to go away, because the Tines want to play." In just about a minute, everything was bright and clear.

"My goodness, that was clever," said Dotty, "and we're very glad that you let us stand with you. Your umbrella kept us dry."

Then Peter, who was near at hand, said, "Say, I think it will be grand if your new friend will come with us and have some milk and pie."

So, off to Peter's house they rode in Peter's cart. "Twas quite a load. It wasn't very long until they all enjoyed some lunch."

The lad who owned the bumber-shoot then said, "It's time for me to scoot. I hope we meet again some day. You are a real nice bunch."

"Well, we'll go too," said Scouty. Then, a smile spread on his small face when he saw two youngsters coming. He exclaimed, "Gee, what a thrill!"

"Those two tots have a pull in hand. It's easy, thus, to understand that in about a minute we'll be meeting Jack and Jill."

They all soon found that he was right, and little Goldy Tinymite said, "Hi there, Jill, and Hi there, Jack! Please tell us where you're bound."

"For water," Jill replied. "And you can come along, if you want to." "Of course we do," said Coppy, as the Tines gathered round.

FOUR PARTIES SPONSORED BY TUSTIN GROUP

TUSTIN, July 2.—Four card parties sponsored by the Tustin American Legion auxiliary Friday night proved a success in every detail with approximately 80 persons in attendance.

Bridge was played at a party given at the home of Mrs. Betty Bear in Santa Ana, with Mrs. Dwight Hayden assisting her sister in hostess duties. First and second high scores were held by Mrs. Laura Gulick, Harvey Bear; Mrs. Laura Shannon and John Cleary.

Mrs. Hilda Riehl and Mrs. Grace Leinberger were co-hostesses at a bridge party held at the home of Mrs. Riehl on First street. Mrs. Rena Bouchard and C. Spain held high score and Mrs. Ruby Prather and Bud Hannaford held second high.

The game of "500" provided diversion at the party staged at the home of Mrs. Helen Matthews in Santa Ana. Mrs. Genevieve McConnell assisted in hostess duties. Checking of tallies, revealed that Mrs. Ethel Manderschied and Bill Hunton held high score and Mrs. Anna Hunton and George Matthews, second high.

Mrs. Laura Marke and Mrs. Helen Bruce were co-hostesses at a bridge party held at the Marks' home on McFadden street, Santa Ana. High and second high scores were made by Mrs. Dorothy Tubbs, Cassius Cluser; Mrs. Daley Turner and Floyd Turner.

Following the contests, the four groups of players adjourned to the lodge hall in Tustin, where prizes were awarded those making special scores. The door prize was won by Mrs. Hazel Harbör.

Refreshments of combination salad, sandwiches and coffee were served by the ways and means committee, composed of Mesdames Mary Lambert, chairman; Blanche Young, Pauline Cleary, Hazel Vigor and Catherine Stanton.

'OSPREY' FIRST IN 2 SNOWBIRD RACES AT NEWPORT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, July 2.—The summer snow-bird series of yachting races, furnished some pretty racing for spectators Saturday and Sunday as perfect sailing weather prevailed.

The "Osprey," sailed by D. Wrigley, captured first place in Saturday's event, in the fine time of 49 minutes and five seconds, followed by the "Surfbird," sailed by J. Danelli, and the "Dove," skippered by D. Lamon. Seven craft participated.

Five yachts raced Sunday, with the "Osprey" again capturing first place, and B. Ford's "Puffin" taking second, with the "Surfbird" third.

Dinner Arranged For Kiwanis Club Tuesday Evening

BUENA PARK, July 2.—Continuing an annual custom of holding a barbecue and pot luck supper on Tuesday evening July 4, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilsey will be hosts Friday evening to Kiwanis club members and their families at their home on Grand avenue.

One Hurt As Boats Crash; 'Vega' Wins

NEWPORT BEACH, July 2.—Considerable excitement was given the star races held off Newport Beach yesterday afternoon when the "West Wind" and "Tempi," well up in the running, collided, snapping the mainmast on the "Tempi." H. I. Ingersoll, skipper of the yacht, was slightly injured by the falling mast.

"The Vega," piloted by W. Dick-ey, came in first, with a time of two hours, 30 minutes and one second, followed three seconds later by the "Adgeron," piloted by Jack Cotton, with the "Vela" third, with Fred Lyon sailing. K. Simpson's "Speedstar" finished fourth. Ingersoll's "Tempi" and P. K. Sampson's "West Wind" failed to finish, as did the "Tri-vius," sailed by H. Benjamin.

Romer's distress signals were observed by a state traffic officer, who phoned Captain Ayers and the lifeguards who, boarding a motorboat belonging to the former, went to the disabled craft, reported to be off Tyron's camp, north of Laguna. Before they reached there, however, the boat had been dashed against the rocks, causing it to be tossed about and capsized by the force of the huge breakers. The man and the woman managed to make their way ashore. It was while towing the partially submerged boat back to Laguna that it sunk a short distance off the pier.

LAGUNA BEACH LIONS SPONSOR RACES JULY 15

LAGUNA BEACH, July 2.—Much interest is being taken throughout athletic circles, in the annual swimming race staged by the Lions club, to be held this year July 15, according to a report of a special committee, at the club meeting Friday night. It is planned to hold the race on a two-mile course extending from Emerald bay to a point in front of Hotel Laguna. The event is open to amateur swimmers of both sexes. Motion pictures showing scenes from different parts of the world, including Arctic regions and close-ups of Mount Everest, featured the entertainment part of the program provided at the White House cafe.

President John Gibson occupied the chair and Alfred Haastie was in charge of the program. C. Addison Van Loenen, chairman of the education committee, has arranged for the showing of the motion pictures.

NEW PARLOR CAR FOR NEWPORT LINE

NEWPORT BEACH, July 2.—The new summer parlor car service of the Pacific Electric was inaugurated this morning when the "Commodore," special Los Angeles to Balboa car, was put into service. Local chamber of commerce officials have been angling for the special service for some time. It was reported, and today's schedule was the result of many month's work.

The car will make a round trip each day from Balboa to Los Angeles in the morning, and return at night. The car is of the type now used in special steamship service, according to Pacific Electric officials, and will be on the beach run until September 15.

MOVE TO ALTADENA

BREA, July 2.—Miss Edna Neugebauer and her mother, Mrs. Mary Neugebauer have moved their household goods to Altadena, where they have taken up their residence. Miss Neugebauer has been a member of the Brea-Olinda Union High school faculty since the opening of the school in 1925 resigning her position there with the close of the school this year.

Church Trustees To Meet Tonight

BREA, July 2.—A regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Congregational church will be held in the pastor's study at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

Because of the holiday the mid-week meeting is to be omitted this week. Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the subject "Salvation by Sympathy."

Members and guests attending Sunday morning services were given an opportunity to sign a petition to place on the ballot the proposal for local option in California.

SEEK TO RAISE SPEED BOAT AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 2.—Salvage operations in an attempt to raise and float a luxuriously appointed speed boat, now resting on the bottom of the sea off the Laguna Beach fishing pier, were renewed today by Capt. O. B. Ayers lessee of the pier.

The craft, reported to be registered at Newport Beach, was cruising off the Laguna Beach coast line Saturday afternoon when the gasoline supply ran out, causing the boat to drift about at the mercy of wind and current. The boat was navigated by H. J. Romer of Pasadena. A woman, whose identity was not learned, was a passenger in the boat.

Romer's distress signals were observed by a state traffic officer, who phoned Captain Ayers and the lifeguards who, boarding a motorboat belonging to the former, went to the disabled craft, reported to be off Tyron's camp, north of Laguna. Before they reached there, however, the boat had been dashed against the rocks, causing it to be tossed about and capsized by the force of the huge breakers. The man and the woman managed to make their way ashore. It was while towing the partially submerged boat back to Laguna that it sunk a short distance off the pier.

FILM PRODUCTIONS TO GET ATTENTION OF BEACH P.-T. A.

LAGUNA BEACH, July 2.—One of the principal subjects to be taken up by the Laguna Beach Parent-Teacher association with the resumption of activities next September is motion picture entertainment, particularly the type of films shown children at Saturday matinees. It was stated today by Mrs. A. C. Watkins, 330 Aster street, newly elected president.

Commenting upon the campaign against objectionable pictures now sweeping the country, Mrs. Watkins pointed out that long before the churches took up this matter, it had the attention of the Parent-Teacher organizations throughout the nation, whose membership perhaps more than any other class realized the harmful effect of objectionable pictures. Mrs. Watkins added that effective results would be obtained if each and every Parent-Teacher association would give the local situation its attention and communicate its views to exhibitors and producers.

Church Trustees To Meet Tonight

BREA, July 2.—A regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Congregational church will be held in the pastor's study at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

Because of the holiday the mid-week meeting is to be omitted this week. Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the subject "Salvation by Sympathy."

Members and guests attending Sunday morning services were given an opportunity to sign a petition to place on the ballot the proposal for local option in California.

'CHRIST ORIGINAL ENEMY OF NATIONALISM' SAYS MINISTER IN DENOUNCING MILITARISTS

BREA, July 2.—"Christ was the original enemy of nationalism and his true followers have been so ever since," declared the Rev. Donald F. Gaylord, preaching at the Congregational church on Sunday morning, taking as his text a part of the second verse of Luke 23. "And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation."

"Certain groups," said the pastor, "are spilling patriotism for me. Instead of their words bringing a thrill of pride, a glad rush of joy to my heart, I feel an uneasiness, a dread of the things they define as patriotism. Our flag is made to stand for militarism, for preparations for war, for the propaganda profitable to those financially concerned in the traffic of war."

"It is not difficult to trace as one of the reasons for the failure of the disarmament conference the fact that some of its members were directly or indirectly concerned among share holders in armament stocks. Dividends in this market have increased in the past few years more than 500 per cent."

"Among the militarists pacifists are classed with communists, enemies of the flag. Which is the higher law for Christians, the will of the state or the will of God? Any war, defensive or otherwise, is the very negation of love. We cannot have war and Christianity. Are the men and women who are taking their religion most seriously and who hate the traffic of war—are they to be called enemies of the flag? Isn't it about time we declare loyalty to God in this matter? If we do history will discover in us the finest type of patriot."

"Edith Cavell, British war nurse, about to face a firing squad said, 'One thing I have learned and that is that patriotism is not enough.' Gaylord denied the assertion frequently made that the Civil Liberties union is controlled and managed by communists. "Among the 50 members of the board," he said, "there is but one avowed communist and his is a very minor part in the movement. Most of the board members are registered as Republicans and Democrats."

PRESIDENT NAMED FOR BREA P.-T. A.

BREA, July 2.—Resignation of Mrs. Guy McIntyre as president of the Brea P.-T. A. has been accepted by the executive board of that group for the reason that Mrs. McIntyre and Mr. McIntyre and their sons, Julius and Donald, are leaving Brea, within a few weeks to take up a homestead in San Diego county. Mrs. A. M. Ferree, who has been secretary of the association for the past several years, has been named by the board to succeed Mrs. McIntyre.

Two members of the Brea unit have been named to offices on the district board. They are Mrs. Frank Bickel, district chairman of student welfare and Mrs. Glenn Jones, district chairman of the P.-T. A. magazine.

NEW OFFICERS GARDEN GROVE CLUB INDUCTED

GARDEN GROVE, July 2.—New officers of the Garden Grove Lions club were installed at the women's night installation dinner held in the Legion hall Friday evening. J. W. Crill, past, president, acted as installing officer and installed the following:

D. S. Jordan, instructor of agriculture in the local high school and president of the farm center, president; Rodney Collins, first vice president; Dr. A. C. Robbins, second vice president; Vernon Brudeirle, secretary-treasurer; Dr. N. H. Jesch, lion tamer; Virgil Spraks, tail twister; Lester Frink, assistant tail twister; new members of the board of directors, Charles Lake, Irvine German, and J. W. Crill, while hold over directors are Ray Johnson and L. W. Schauer.

Charles Lake, retiring president, was presented with a past president's pin by Ray Johnson. Mrs. Pauline Merchant presented Mr. Lake with an angel food cake which had been baked by Mrs. Frank McConnell as a gift for the courtesy shown to the women serving the dinner to the club during the past year.

Community singing was led by Mr. Jordan, with Charles Lake, piano accompaniment. Lester Green, of Santa Ana, sang three vocal selections, accompanied by Miss Margaret Phillips. The remainder of the evening was spent playing cards and dancing to music furnished by a four-piece orchestra. Preceding the meeting a 7 o'clock dinner was served at tables decorated in flowers and tall tapers of pastel shades. The messes Margaret Schauer, Donita Jordan and Anna Mae Devine assisted in serving.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames D. S. Jordan, Charles Lake, E. W. Edwards, E. O. Fulton, L. L. Doig, Ray Johnson, L. W. Schauer, E. A. Wakeham, W. A. Wheeler, C. B. Henry, R. R. Seek Telegraph Office At Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, July 2.—A request that the city council, acting as the official representative body of the community, make proper representations to the management of the Western Union for the establishment of a local office here, will be presented at Wednesday night's council meeting by the chamber of commerce. It was announced today by Capt. George A. Portus, managing secretary of the chamber.

According to Captain Portus the chamber has made several requests of the telegraph company for such a service but so far no results have been obtained. The present arrangement, involving extra charges for telephone tolls and delivery, not to mention delay in handling money transfers, is very unsatisfactory, Portus declared.

CHAPTER XLVIII

Donna had waited so long for Bill's telegram, asking over and over again if a message had come for her, that when at last it was put in her hand she was afraid the printed words were a delusion.

There were only five words. "Come home first train, Bill."

She had unpacked only a few things from her traveling bag. In less than 15 minutes she had them all back and snapped the lock, paid her bill and checked out of the hotel. It made little difference to Donna whether she had an hour or five minutes to wait at the station for a train. Once her ticket was in her purse, she would feel that she was on her way back to Bill.

Fortunately she did not have long to wait. There was just time to buy the ticket, telegraph Bill when the train would arrive, and then scurry through the gates.

On the long trip she rehearsed over and over in her mind how she would tell him her story—how she had deceived him about the real Madeline's death and the purpose of Con David's visit to Lebanon.

Of one thing only was she positive. Bill had not believed that she had eloped with Con. He might have thought she had been married to Con, but never that she had run away with him.

Why had he waited so long to send for her? It must have been on account of the will! Bill had read the will and knew that the property was hers now.

The train wheels spun around and around, carrying her nearer to the climax of the drama.

Bill met her at the depot. He had become an austere, grim-faced stranger who took her luggage without a word of greeting and then walked briskly to the little car, permitting her to get in without assistance.

His silence, his rigid lips and uncompromising attitude gave Donna no help in starting her confession. Twice during the ride over the snow-caked road she tried to tell him how grateful she was because he had sent for her, but the words stuck in her throat.

She managed at last to say, "Of course Grandfather is buried."

"Yes."

Miss Perkins had gone and the door that led into the room where Grandfather had lain for so many weeks was closed. Everything else seemed the same. Minnie rushed to meet Donna with open arms and burst into tears as she kissed her again and again.

"You shouldn't have went, Miss Siddall! You shouldn't have went! My lands, but I'm glad you're back!"

Bill's gruff, "That will do, Minnie," sent the girl back to the kitchen. When the husband and wife were alone in the little sitting room, Bill said, "Sit down. There's an explanation I want from you."

"You know," Donna choked, "that I wasn't married to Con David—ever!"

SORROWING GERMANY

News from Germany that Chancellor Adolf Hitler has undertaken to strengthen his position by the execution of his opponents in as yet unestimable numbers comes as a shock, though hardly a surprise. It is a logical sequence of his ruthless rise to power and the doctrines which he has promulgated.

One can only sympathize, not only with those bereaved by these executions, but the whole German people who are beginning to realize that they are at the mercy of a dictator who is bringing ruin on their country as well as death to their fellows. Hitler has strengthened his own position but he has not yet solved the domestic financial crisis and he has driven deeper the wedge which is isolating Germany from the rest of the world. By his suppression of all opposition he proves that he knows the code of conduct required of a dictator who would retain his power. The German people themselves are beginning to realize what might be expected of a dictator. We cannot believe that they have known before. And millions of them, knowing, were forced to the support of the Chancellor by fear of the annihilation which within the last forty-eight hours has overtaken those who sought to revolt.

From time to time we have expressed our sympathy for Germany and our regret that the German people were pinning their faith to so fallible a leader. We have been criticized harshly for this. From time to time we have printed some of the letters we have received from people who felt themselves better able to judge German conditions than we were. As affairs have developed in Germany, however, we cannot but feel that we have been more loyal to the real hearts of the German people than those who have been so set in their opinion that Chancellor Hitler was the savior of Germany.

There are millions sorrowing in Germany today because of this display of the ruthless cruelty of the man who is determined to keep himself in power at all cost. Chancellor Hitler is riding high today but at what a cost! No nation can pay such a price for leadership and not be shaken to its foundations.

The deaths have solved none of Germany's pressing problems. They have solved, temporarily the Chancellor's problem of staying in power, that is all.

Incidentally it unites the sentiment of the people in this country against a dictator, as it has never been united before.

AN EXPERIMENT

Two ministers and 48 of their parishioners, with their entire families, tried an experiment a few weeks ago. They submitted themselves to a week's test of the food rations which the city of Hartford's (Conn.) Welfare department has been doling out to the needy for the last two years. One minister reports that the members of his family of seven lost 15 1-2 pounds after trying it out for one week.

The other minister reported that his family of five did not lose weight but lost their tempers. "The children, whose spirits are usually happy, were noticeably irritable toward mealtime. What this would mean to a family on this diet for months is obvious."

This is very suggestive. But more significant is the psychological attitude, which naturally would be very much different among the needy from that of the people who were merely trying out the experiment for a week.

These ministers and the families trying the experiment with them could not, in the very nature of the case, appreciate the state of mind of those who did not know when they would be able to support themselves. Not only were they the victims of malnutrition, but there was with them constantly the anxiety concerning the future. That the families trying the experiment could not comprehend.

An experiment like this reveals the disturbing and the irritating conditions under which the unemployed suffer. Relief is good enough as far as it goes, but for many the eating of the bread of charity is bitter and demoralizing; and when long continued breaks down the morale of those who have to call for it.

At present, we know no other way to meet the situation. The C. W. A. did do something to bring back sufficiency and self-respect. The drain upon Federal resources, however, was too great.

We may moralize on an experiment such as has been reported by these two ministers; but the essential problem is not solved by the doing out of rations. As indicated by this experiment, it is physically harmful.

To this must be added what the ministers could not comprehend—the mental and the moral consequences which are inevitable when men and women and children are thrown upon public relief.

THE DOCTORS MEET

The American Medical association has been holding its annual sessions in Cleveland, Ohio, the past week. At these annual meetings many new discoveries and many new cures are expected. To those who have been reading some of the reports as they have appeared in the press, it is surprising how many people died in former years who might yet be alive had some of the medical discoveries been made earlier. And how many more who have been dragging out a miserable physical existence might have spent their lives in comfort and joy had certain discoveries been made earlier.

The prevention of disease and the conquest of one-time fatal maladies have changed the whole tenor of human existence. Thanks to a sense of public service which moves the medical profession, there can be no monopoly control. Yet it must be said that there are still thousands of men and women and children in our land to whom the benefits of these new discoveries are still unavailable. The agitation for cooperative medicine does not yet find much favor among the doctors, and the American Medical association again put itself on record as opposed to it.

More and more are the best facilities becoming available to the poorer people. But there is a great middle class, not rich enough to pay the price and too proud to ask for charity, who are the sufferers from the system which now prevails. Most doctors give generously in gratuitous service; but the deserving and the undeserving poor are more apt to be the recipients of it. This would seem to make some form of social health insurance desirable. The great middle class of people forms the strength of the nation. They should not be overlooked. Many delegates at the sessions of the American Medical association spoke for this largely overlooked class.

The medical profession is, however, looking forward. Doctors are among the most valuable of our public servants. Without disparaging other professions, it must be said that the medical profession renders a service without which this would still be a miserable world and many in it doomed to a life of misery and pain. Most of the doctors earn all they get. Few of them, as statistics show, are overpaid.

THE MILITANT MUSSOLINI

War is for men, says Mussolini, what maternity is for women. Inasmuch as he believes in much maternity for women—since he bestows medals upon all Italian women who have more than twelve children—it must follow that he believes in much war for men. Women will furnish the men, and the men will fight the battles.

Some one has said that an idea like that can only originate in a lunatic asylum, and the man who proposes it should be in a madhouse. We are inclined to agree with the statement. Nothing more barbaric can be conceived than a policy or an idea such as this which has been suggested by Mussolini.

It is a great misfortune that such paranoics are entrusted with power in so many states. They have an abnormal conception of the function of states and the goal of humanity. And what adds to the misfortune is the fact that they succeed in stirring up the mob; and timid souls are cowed by these bloodthirsty militarists. It marks a return to the Napoleonic ideal of womanhood which is to produce children to serve as cannon fodder to pamper the pride of tyrants. Is it possible that the world will drop back?

Miss Abbott and the Children's Bureau

—New York Herald-Tribune—

Miss Grace Abbott, who retires this week as head of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, has been one of the indispensable figures in the creation of the American conscience in regard to child welfare. If today it is comparatively easy to persuade any American community that its children must be safeguarded against disease and malnutrition, that for their youthful shortcomings must be meted out a different punishment from what is given to hardened criminals, and that young folks are better off in school than in factories, a large part of the credit must be assigned to the Children's Bureau.

Steadily, constructively, with unwavering fidelity to the truth and no deference to political expediency or flashy popularity, its two chiefs, Julia Lathrop and Grace Abbott, have for twenty-two years directed its activities in the unromantic field of collecting statistics, issuing pamphlets containing advice to mothers and aiding all sound measures for improving the general well-being of 43,000,000 American children. That their work is far from completed, and that the depression has complicated the problem a thousandfold, the Children's Bureau workers would be the first to admit. Theirs, however, is the kind of faith that plods steadily ahead. They work hardest when most needs to be done.

Miss Abbott has served under five Presidents, going to Washington first in 1917 in the administration of Woodrow Wilson as director of the child labor division of the bureau. When the first Federal child labor law was declared unconstitutional she served as adviser on the War Labor Policies Board, and in other positions of responsibility in child welfare fields, until her appointment in 1921 to succeed Miss Lathrop. The integrity and wisdom of her conduct of the bureau led to her being widely supported in 1930 as a candidate for Secretary of Labor to succeed James J. Davis. This opportunity she is generally believed to have sacrificed when she differed with President Hoover in his desire to transfer the activities of the Children's Bureau from the Department of Labor to the Public Health Service of the Department of the Treasury.

The bureau remained where it was. So did Miss Abbott. When two years later, Miss Francis Perkins became Secretary of Labor, one of her first official utterances was a promise that the Children's Bureau would not be molested. The somewhat harassed throughout the labor world, and with internal problems in other nooks of her department, expressed profound thanks that the Children's Bureau was one thing she need not worry about.

In her new post as professor of public welfare in the School of Social Service of the University of Chicago Miss Abbott will have the good wishes of all citizens who have applauded her Washington service, and for generations to come millions who know nothing about her will benefit from that service.

Chance For Large Vote

—Oakland Tribune—

Registration figures indicate that the general public's old habit of coasting through a primary and saving its voting strength for the general election is likely to be forgotten this year. There are already more than 612,000 eligible voters above the comparative figure in the state campaign of 1930.

Qualified voters in California now number less than two hundred thousand short of the three million mark with the books open for several weeks to come. Possibilities for a heavy vote are present but if one comes it must be because a great army that votes only in the general election has changed its ways.

THE HEIGHT OF INGRATITUDE

German scientists are now breeding a larger and more productive race of bees.

Though the weather be cloudy or sunny
There is never a rest for the bee,
She has to go out after honey,
An industrious nature has she.
No eye has this insect for beauty,
No hope through the wide world to roam.
She has to attend to her duty
Till she's filled the last cell in the comb.

One would think, when her labors are ended
In the heat of the blistering sun,
That she ought to be praised and commended
For a task that's been bee-fully done.
But man, who consumes all the honey
That the insect can gather and store,
Being merely a glutton for money
Complains that she doesn't gather more.

With the aid of the minions of science
More industrious bees have been bred,
Which, by some newly fashioned appliance,
Are carefully nurtured and fed.
So the bees who've exhausted their powers
By flitting beneath the hot sky
To harvest each crop of new flowers
Will shortly be turned out to die.

They soon must browse 'round through the daisies
Or nest in some broken-down shack
With no one to sound their just praises
Or to give them a pat on the back.
Give a thought to the poor, worn-out toilers,
Just picture their plight, if you can,
And think what stern cruel despoilers

SO FAR, ANYWAY

The Digest poll on Roosevelt is a referendum, but it doesn't look like a recall.

THE SUNNY SIDE

The NRA may be good or bad, but it certainly is giving a lot of jobs to lawyers whose clients are fighting it.

Thank Heaven for debt repudiation. Something was needed to make us mad enough to keep out of Europe's mess hereafter. Where servants are many and cheap, you can take your choice between doing your own work and reconciling yourself to slushwork.

Maybe England could be induced to square the debt by presenting our sale at about a million dollars a head. Finland isn't the only small country to pay up, but the Fins do it before the Marines land.

Why bother with an intelligence test? Just ask the man whether he believes in these death rays.

ACTUALLY THERE IS NO DISTINCT CLASS TRODDEN UNDER FOOT EXCEPT THOSE WHO HOLD AISLE SEATS.

An American is a person who never feels cheated, regardless of the price, if he thinks he is getting it "at cost."

Somebody in Washington has a naughty mind. Burlap covering for hams is listed in the new code as underwear. Necessity is also the mother of defaulting.

If it's a sin to tempt people, why isn't it sinful to be so ornery you tempt them to swear?

How unfair life is! If you bawl out an enemy by letter, you feel cowardly; and if you do it face to face, he interrupts.

First figure the cost of a new house. Then add the cost of doing it over after workmen tear it up to install the conveniences.

THANK HEAVEN FOR THE DINING ROOM. IT'S ONE PLACE WHERE A MAN ISN'T HONORED FOR GRABBING MORE THAN HIS SHARE.

But when the successful man has "arrived" he doesn't like the place as well as a lot of places he passed by.

Times have changed, yet you still find hick towns where the leading citizen gets mad at one bank and moves his overdraft.

That is, Russia will redeem her now bonds in gold unless a new crowd gets control of the government.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "WE PRAYED FOR CROP REDUCTION," SAID THE RURAL CLERGYMAN, "SO NOW WE MUST THANK HEAVEN FOR THE DROUTH AND FLOODS."

Pop was smoking and thinking in his private chair, and I said, Hay pop, me and Sid Hunt had a fight today.

That's no bragging matter, pop said. Fighting is a deplorable relic of the barbaric ages and is only excusable in the rare cases when rite and justice are threatened and all resort to arbitration is impossible. Was yours such a case? he said, and I said, Yes sir, and anyways, pop, it wasn't quite a fight, but it almost was, pritty neer. Sid dared me to touch him and I had to except the dare, didn't I, pop? I said.

Perhaps so, but at the moment I can't think of any moral, political or religious obligation on your part to do so, pop said, and I said, Sure there was, pop, so I touched him on the end of one finger and then I quick drew a line on the payment with a hunk of chalk and dared him to step over it.

Did he have the requisite courage and foolhardy daring? pop said.

Meaning did he do it, and I said, Sure, he stepped rite over and then he put a matchstick on his shoulder and said it was a chip and dared me to nock it off, and pop said, Just a couple of young dare devils.

Yes, sir, and I nocked it off all rite, and just then the other fellows got tired of waiting and wanted to get up a game of cops and robbers and me and Sid got in it with them, I said, and pop said, I'm glad blushed was averted, but I still haven't learned the cause of the threatened hostilities.

Meaning what was we going to fight about, and I said, G, pop, I forgot now.

Lee gods, well if you remember have the information for your autobiography, pop said.

Meaning he was tired of the subject.

In the Long Ago

From the Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

JULY 2, 1920

Summer playgrounds conducted annually by Santa Ana P. T. A., had opened the previous day at Roosevelt and McKinley school grounds, under direction of Miss Ruth Munger and Miss Jessie Shultz.

Mrs. H. W. Head and Miss Percie Head returned from a two weeks' sojourn at Laguna Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lowe were home from a honeymoon trip which took them through many eastern cities. They went to Michigan by train and bought an automobile there for the return trip to California by way of the Grand Canyon. They were pleasantly domiciled at the Meyer apartments.

Reports offered by Santa Ana hospital showed that an even dozen babies had been born there during the final week of June.

H. Gilbert Nelson, a former school superintendent in Colorado, was elected by the board of education as principal of Santa Ana intermediate school, succeeding W. C. Roberts, resigned. He was studying in Long Beach but planned to establish his home in Santa Ana in advance of the fall opening of city schools.

ROOSEVELT AND FASCISM

Is there any chance that America might go Fascist either under Roosevelt or after Roosevelt?

Well, there is a chance, but whether America drives straight to Fascism or detours around it Roosevelt will be the determining factor.

Many of the same conditions that preceded the Fascist assumption of power in Italy and Germany exist now in the United States.

The jobless, the veterans and the farmers have their backs to the wall here as in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany.

The small business men are shrinking in number and power before the magisterial power of monopoly here as in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany.

There are all the makings of a swashbuckling nationalism here as in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany.

The capacity for cruelty is quite as great here as in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany, as witness our barbaric ventures in lynching. We are not lacking in machine-gun experts who, lacking lucrative work since repeal, would gladly play bouncer to a blustering dictator.

The facilities of effective propaganda are greater here than in pre-Fascist Italy and Germany.

And we have had the Ku Klux Klan and have Huey Long!

The New Deal may fall short enough of delivering the goods to provoke an American reaction to the right as the failure of pre-Fascist liberalism in Italy and Germany set the stage for Fascism there.

But there is this difference: Roosevelt, in his New Deal, has come very near to copying the theories and tricks of the corporatist state of Mussolini and Hitler. He has clung to capitalism as they did. He has shoved the state in between capital and labor in the role of rule maker and umpire as they did. He has called for a class cooperation. Instead of a class conflict as they did. He has insisted, as they did not, that all this new dealing is voluntary on the part of private enterprise, but the sword of blame in the hands of a Roosevelt has proved as compulsive as the big stick in the hands of a Mussolini or a Hitler.

Now—my point is—if anybody tries to stir America to Fascism, it will have to be a Fascism with a new economic and political philosophy, for Roosevelt has adopted almost everything in Fascism except the swagger of the leader and the shirts of the followers.

My guess, therefore, is that America will not go Fascist. The only logical man to lead us into Fascism of the Italian sort, let us say, is Roosevelt himself, for he is already operating under its pattern. But he won't. The pressures upon him to go to the right, taking a lot of the liberal vocabulary with him, will be too powerful to permit his leading us in any drastic over-turn.

My hope is that the Roosevelt regime will prove a relatively painless transition to a new movement of political and economic realism that will rise effectively above our equally obsolete radicalism and reactionisms.

THE FOURTH

The Fourth of July is the birthday of our country. We are rather inclined to consider it an important national holiday, an occasion for formal speeches, tributes to the flag, parades and patriot meetings. The day has not enough personal meaning for us because we make it more the occasion for backward looks than for inward searchings. It is the inward searching glance that we need this Fourth. What meaning has it for each of us good citizens of a great nation?

The men who signed the Declaration of Independence, the men who entered the war that decided the stability of the Declaration, the men and women who suffered through the years of that terrible struggle were not making speeches, pointing with pride or viewing with alarm. They were fighting with all they had in them, staking all they had or hoped to have, for an ideal. The freedom of the individual soul was at stake. Its cause was won.

Spiritual freedom must be won many times. One victory is never enough. The enemy can never be exterminated, never as long as men continue to fight for selfishness on this material earth. Again and again the war must be won. Daily battles must be fought if the victory is to remain with the victors. Ideals must be reborn if they are to be sustained.

This Fourth of July must see a rebirth of an old ideal. Personal citizenship must rally to the cause of good government. It is the business of every man and woman of voting age to search his spirit, concentrate his devotion to the end that this nation enter upon its rebirth with the utmost courage, determination and devotion. We cannot stand by while others bear our burdens. We must think, and speak and act in support of our ideals if these ideals are to be maintained.

What are we teaching the children about all this? To tell them on the Fourth of July seventeen hundred seventy-six this nation was declared free and independent is to tell them nothing that has meaning for them. It is our duty to put meaning into those words. It is our duty to point out to the young men and women who have just graduated from our high schools and colleges what the present ideals of the American people are, where they are leading, what aims they indicate.

Here and There

The United States once had beavers as large as bears; specimens of this giant beaver have been found in Ohio, New York, Michigan, South Carolina and Texas.

Utah territory was created in Washington in September, 1850, but the news did not reach Salt Lake City until January, 1851. It was sent by steamer around Cape Horn to San Francisco and thence by pack mule service to Salt Lake City.

There was no such thing as standard time until 1883.

After being kept for five years in a showcase in the Natural History Museum of South Kensington, London, a small shell was found to contain live snail.

All eclipses repeat themselves after a period of approximately 18 years and 12 days; this period of time is known as the Saros.
